RESTAURANTS.

THE AMATEUR IN SPORTS.

They came into being with the first French Revolution. The restaurant is of comparatively modern origin. The first French restaurant, at the close of the eighteenth century, witnessed its birth. Prior to that time the best cooks were in the employ of the nobility, whose ruin threatened them with equal disaster. A happy inspiration, however, led them to open places of public entertainment, which leaped at once into immense popular favor. Inasmuch as previously, while the French people were endowed with the instincts of delicate cookery, they were unable to gratify their tastes through the absence of resorts available for the purpose.

The proprietors of many of these establishments quickly acquired a widespread fame and large wealth. Coincident with the birth of the restaurant in France, an immense impulse was given to the publication of popular treatises on the art of cookery composed by the most famous cooks. These were rapidly disseminated among the people, who, gifted with a natural genius for gastronomy, promptly availed of the new sources of knowledge to perfect themselves in an art of which they have become the foremost exponents of the world. Among these publications was the "Almanach des Gourmands," established in 1804, one of the classics of culinary learning.

INSECT MORAL QUALITIES.

THE MEALS FOR POETS.

English Breakfast Parties Early in the Last Century.

The breakfast party became fashionable in the early decades of the last century, Samuel Rogers being one of the principal hosts. Round his table gathered all the wits and celebrities of the day. At his house in St. James place Byron and Moore first came together "over a mess of potatoes and vinegar." It was in his dining room that Erasmus told the story of his first bride and Gratian that of his last dud, while the Iron Duke described Waterloo as a "battle of giants." Rogers asked people, it was currently reported, by way of probatation for dinner, but his breakfast parties were more social than his dinners, which, comparatively speaking, were affairs of necessity or form. His invitation notes were models of penmanship and conciseness. "Will you breakfast with me tomorrow?—S. R." was the pithy invitation to a celebrated wit. "Won't I?" was the congenial response. He was fond of quoting Rousseau's profession of un-gout fin pour les dejeuner, the time of the day when we are quietest and talk most at our ease. Greville in his "Memoirs" notes one of these breakfasts in 1831. "Sydney Smith, Luttrell, John Russell and Moore excessively agreeable. I never heard anything more entertaining than Sydney Smith—such bursts of merriment and so dramatic! Breakfasts are the meals for poets. I met Wordsworth and Southey at breakfast. Rogers' are always agreeable."—Chambers' Journal.

FOR THE CHILDREN

THE MOUNTAIN MONARCH.

Unlike the Jungfrau, the Rigi or other European mountains, including Vesuvius, which have been conquered by the modern engineers and now wear the harness of a railway to or near their summits, Mont Blanc is an absolute monarch, and no mortal may set the limit of its reign. The Goths and Vandals of old, the armies, the tourists of today or tomorrow may pour down through the Alpine defiles, but Mont Blanc through all such changes is monarch still, its snow capped peaks rising far above all else and the avalanches down its sides, more to be feared than any of its other dangers, defying the skill and courage of many a climber.—S. E. Hilles in Harper's Weekly.

THE HYGIENIC VALUE OF SUNDAY.

Sunday is not only a religious but a hygienic institution. It is beneficial in its uses, morally and physically. How workers should best spend the Sunday is a most general question, but it should be a time of rest and recreation, a moment, as Miss Correll expresses it, "for standing and taking breath on the threshold of another week," a season for thought, for intellectual enjoyment, for the solace of nature and the admiration of its wonders and beauty, no sensible person will be likely to deny. Whether motoring or card playing is the best way to attain these ends must be left to each individual's judgment.—Lady Violet Greville in London Graphic.

WHY FIDO'S TAIL CURLED.

A lady was walking along the streets of one of our cities a short time ago, followed by her pet pug dog. Fido's tail curled in a most queer way, and she asked the tip of it reading on his back at the spot where it grew out, as the children say. A little street arab ran after the dog, crying out: "I know what makes that dog's tail curl so round like a ring. I know what makes his tail curl so. It's his lady!" The lady, somewhat interested, stopped and asked: "Well, why, then?" "So that the dog can keep the dog," was the astounding reply as the boy in a skinned way, shouting shrilly at his own level, disappeared.

THE IMMUTABILITY OF TEMPERAMENT.

"That man could own his own home if he were not so extravagant." "Yes, but what would be the use? If he owned his own home he would simply mortgage it."—Washington Star.

AN EMERGENCY MEDICINE.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries, there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain, but causes the parts to heal in a much shorter time than is usually the case with other remedies. Sold by all druggists.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Too many people have a habit of going with their bristles up. It is seldom one bears an interesting life, though the people surely get enough practice.

The first question asked in every home by every member of the family retreating from an absence on the streets is "Where's mother?" There are two complaints which can usually be made of every woman: She has too much patience with her sons and not enough with their father.

Talk about a man fussing about the family bill! You should hear a countrywoman who makes butter talk to her folks when they dip into her cream.

It is a good thing to keep at least one building in the course of erection in a small town. It gives the people a place to go and find fault on a Sunday, outside of the regular churchgoing.—Acheson Globe.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Forty million bottles of August Flower are sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints—a success that is becoming wider in its scope every day, at home and abroad, as the fame of August Flower spreads. Trial bottles 25c; regular size 75c. For sale by all druggists. P. S. Duffy.

Debts and Credits.

"Yes," said Mrs. Millionaire proudly, "we married our daughter very well, I think. We gave her a dowry of $2,000,000, and you have no idea how many noblemen there were after her. She's now a countess!" "Yes, I read it all in the papers," returned Mrs. Cheerful smilingly. "We didn't give our daughter any dowry at all, and she is very happily married to a successful young business man." "No dowry?" "None. It wasn't necessary. In the matrimonial market, you know, it depends on the girl whether she is accepted as a debit or a credit."

THE END SENTENCE.

I was interested one Sunday in watching the movements of birds. Crumbling a biscuit, I threw it out, sat down on the piazza and awaited results, writes a contributor to the Boston Record.

It was not long after the birds came and helped themselves before a cat appeared. Then a warning note was sounded by a bird, evidently on guard on the top of the piazza, where he could survey the whole scene. At his warning every bird disappeared and remained in hiding until a reassuring note was heard from the little sentry posted on the piazza roof.
