ACTIVE LEGISLATION

New Bills Rapidly Coming Forward.

Distillery Bill Quickly Killed. After The Jug Law, Appropriation Statute
Senator Ransom. Butler
Wants Dakota Account Paid.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, January 6.—There was rapid work in way of important bills introduced in the Legislature today.

The Senate passed a bill to license distilleries of less capacity than 36 bushels, at Asheville. Sent to the House, it was quickly killed.

In the House, Winborne introduced a bill to repeal what he termed the "frugallent law" enacted two years ago, known best as the "jug law," which makes pleasure of delivery of whiskey, the place of sale.

Cunningham introduced in the House a bill appropriating $5,000 for the erection of a statue to the late General Matt W. Ransom, to be placed on the north side of the Capitol Square. This bill it is stated will be passed without opposition.

George E. Butler, brother of ex-Senator Marion Butler, and a Republican member of the House, introduced a bill providing for the payment of the $10,000 bond judgment given by the United States Supreme Court against the State of North Carolina railroad bonds, and also to pay the face value of all other bonds held by Schaefer and Company, New York. Democrats say they will fight this measure.

toire of popular plays at popular prices, all next week.

High-class specialties are introduced between the acts of each play making every performance a continuous round of pleasure from start to finish. They will open their engagement Monday night with "A Midnight Marriage," a four act society drama.

Rev. N. S. Jones Married.

The many friends of the Rev. N. S.
Jones, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church of New Bern will be interested to hear of his marriage to Miss Lois Ford of Danville, Va., daughter of Rev.
Rufus Ford who several years ago was pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones spent several days in Raleigh, and from there they go to Florida where Mr. Jones has a fine fruit farm.

It is expected that they will return to this city about the first of February.

Lyric Stock Co. at Theatre.

The troubles of the Katsenhammer Kide was given at the New Masonic, at a matinee yesterday, and although the weather was bad, there was a large audience, mostly children, who greatly enjoyed the play, which was well rendered in bringing out the "trouble" which the kids had.

Last night David Garrick was present, and well acted, which stood the Company's case here for this visit.

PARDONS SOUGHT

Governor AYCOCK'S LAST DAYS
WITH THEM.

State Farmers Alliance and Cotton Situation. Greenhorn at the Capitol. Fine Relics for Hall of History.

Raleigh, Jan 6.—Scams very funny things are already beginning in the Capitol. One of the members today how many families lived in the Capitol.

The other man caught on and answered and said he thought there were fifteen.
Then the greenhorn said he expected that was right as he had seen a number of young ladies of different families, and he expected to put in his spare time yarning around. He had seen some of the numerous young lady stenographers.

The old man then told the greenhorn that he would find a bar-room at the northwest corner on the lower floor, and when he went there the first time for a drink they might give him the cold shoulder, but not to mind that but ask again and he was a member because the State provided the stuff. The greenhorn said he expected to call pretty early at the bar, as the weather here was colder than he was used to and he felt the need of a nip.

Today the sword and cap worn by the gallant Col. John R. Lane of Chatham county, who was the third and last commander of the glorious Twenty-Sixth North Carolina Regiment, were received by your correspondent and placed in the hall of history with the sword, sash and gauntlets of the enterprising Harry Burgwyn, who fell at Gettysburg while in command of the regiment. The other Col. was Z. B. Vance.

Locke Craig, Frank Carter, George A.
Shuford and Thomas J. Murray arrived here today and went before the Governor whom they asked for the pardon of John Murray, Gus Murray and Gus Rice who were convicted of murdering a man named Rice in Madison county the trial being held in Buncombe county the two men getting sentences of 18 years and one of ten years. The pardons are asked for on the ground of improper conviction and excessive punishment. A great petition and a mass of other matter were laid before the Governor. Craig said the Murrays are of the leading western N. C. families.

In an interview with T. B. Parker Secretary of the State Farmers Alliance who is so deeply interested in the cotton question, he said the most encouraging report as to reduction of acreage and fertilizers and holding of crop come from all the cotton sections of the State and also from Georgia and Texas and that dealers and merchants were rapidly pledging themselves not to furnish supplies to farmers who would not keep their pledges.

The fertilizer bill in the State last year was over eight millions of dollars, about four hundred thousand tons having been bought. The State convention of farmers to be held here next Wednesday will be very largely attended and the Alliance will have a large representation. Secretary Parker expects large gains in membership this year.

Speaker Gulon says it will require a week to make up the House Committees.

Governor Aycock says his little daughter Louise who has diphtheria is doing nicely and will recover. She was promptly treated with anti-toxin, and has been given 17,000 units.

There was a surprise wedding at Troy last night, the contracting parties being T. O. Ward of Saluda, Va., and Miss Dora Wade, daughter of O. G. Wade a member of the lower house of the present legislature.

Tonight's Play at Theatre.

The romantic drama, "The Flaming Arrow" will be the attraction at the New Masonic Theatre tonight. The play is by Lincoln J. Carter and it is claimed that it is the best produced one of the tragedies of western life the stage has ever seen, depicting army and frontier life in a most dramatic and historical Port Ness, the scene of so many striking incidents in the pioneer days of the great west, when Indians and cowboys were plentiful as they are now scarce. The story of the love of Chief White Eagle for Mary Fremont, daughter of the commander of the post is founded on an actual fact. All of the other characters are drawn from living prototypes.

There is the treacherous polished Mexican, a free loving Irish corporal and his sweetheart, who has seen some summers through a narrow to knowledges, the Colonel's pretty daughter, a private who loves the Irish but under hidden colored—a typical old Indian fighter, a romantic Frenchman, a thirty year old man, naturally in some instances, possibly, soldiers Indians and pure good men.
The scenic effects are beautiful and being especially elaborate, several of these being yellow a fine actual film. A fully equipped company will be seen in the play.
