A & NC LEASE.

And now four months after, how is this lease liked by the business men and citizens of New Bern and this section? That is the question which The Journal is going to give in individual expression in its columns, with the names of the persons interviewed, so there can be no nestions as to the reliability of what is questions as to the reinability or what is felt on the lease matter, and how its effects are appreciated by those whose in-terests are both identified with the road-and whose personal business relations are affected under the new order of management of this property by the ilowiand Improvement Company.

Judging from the above, which we clip from the New Bern Journal, one would think that the Atlantic and North would think that the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad had been built and maintained at a heavy expense for years by the state for the special benefit and convenience of the citizens of the town of New Bern. The people of that town seem to lose the idea that this railroad was owned by the entire state which kept it up. They seem to think that the balance of the state should be taxed for their convenience. Of course New Bern wants the general offices, the New Bern wants the general offices, the shops and all other of the railway departments located there. No one can blame them for this. But they should not expect this to be done to the disadvantage of the system and to the detr ment of the balance of the state. I would have suited the New Bern speep better if the state, instead of leasing th road had established a system of fre passenger and freight transportation fo all the business men and circums of the town, but suce measure would not ha been relished by the people of the oth sections who are as much interested the state getting a return for its inver-ments in the road as are the New Be

The esteemed Wilmington Messenge in its issue of 20th inst. publishes th above editorial under the head, "Ne Bern Still Kicking."

Our contemporary makes an error in its first statement, for the people herhave no idea that the State has done a much for this property, the fact being that the people of Cravea county, 'pais more money for this property than the State did, and having done this, the people will insist that they be not discrimidelivery, requiring only a small guaran nated against, even if the politicians tee until stock can arrive and giving road property to some one who has as delivery. yet shown no interest in the people or their welfare at New Bern.
