OFFICIAL PAPER OF NEW BERN AND CRAVEN COUNTY.

New Bern, N. C., February 9, 1906.

GIVE THE PREFERENCE TO HOME MERCHANTS.

There is always something alluring, which attracts the average person, to the traveling solicitor or seller of various goods.

Very different is it with goods bought of the local merchant, who occupies a store, pays taxes and remains throughout the year to guarantee his goods, and make good all defects.

New Bern has many of these plausible outside sellers who come here and make representations which make the local merchants appear as high priced beyond all reason, even cheats in their dealings with the people of the community.

It was not long ago that two of these street merchants came here, and sold groceries by house to house canvass at prices which the store merchants could not buy the goods for at wholesale for themselves.

The community which gives welcome greeting to every street vendor who comes along, is not going to see its town prosper, for local merchants cannot compete with such comers. Nine times out of ten if the citizen will visit his local dealer the same goods can be purchased and at no higher prices.

Low priced goods when offered by the street vendor, who is away tomorrow, will prove very costly, while real bargains may be found in the stores of the legitimate merchant.

LAND OF FLOWERS AND SUNSHINE.

California Woman's Letter of Special Interest to People in New Bern.

At this season of the year a letter from the land of flowers and sunshine is of special interest to our readers. The following letter from the Holden Drug Co., of Stockton, Cal., one of the largest drug houses on the Pacific coast is of especial interest.

"Enclosed is a letter from one of the most prominent residents of this city. She will not allow her name to be published in the newspapers, but we can furnish it to any one writing us."

"For some four years my daughter has had headaches, which seriously interfered with her school work. Until recently we attributed the trouble to eye strain, but happening to notice your advertisement of Hyomei, we were satisfied that her trouble came from catarrh.

We purchased a dollar outfit, and within twenty-four hours great relief was experienced, and the loosening of mucous matter and the reduction of those inflammation began. Sixty days' use of Hyomei made nearly a complete recovery, which we consider very satisfactory after nearly four years of expense and fruitless treatment by other methods, and that we feel grateful is to put it mild."

This letter shows that many cases of sickness and debility are simply caused by catarrh and that they can be cured by Hyomei. This is Nature's own method of curing catarrh, medicating the air you breathe.

A complete outfit, including the inhaler, nose and eye, and extra bottles are only 50 cents. Ask P. S. Duffy to show you the strong guarantee under which he sells this remarkable remedy.

A Man's Won't Power.

The won't power of a man was practically demonstrated in an amusing way on Middle street yesterday and the determined nature of the brute was marked as to even cease existence.

The lead was making more than an ordinary hit but for some reason it failed to run the animal and would not advance. The driver would not go south and there was some trouble by several old time drivers for her behavior was tried but failed to get a hit.

SWEET RURAL SIMPLICITY.

Characterizes the Productions of the Play "Maud Muller." The New England pastoral play, "Maud Muller," which will be presented at the New Masonic Theatre has all the delicate humor, tender pathos, and heart reaching attributes which characterize "Shore Acres," "Way Down East," "Old Homestead," and other plays of the type; a sweet love story, told in a simple way.

It will be interpreted by a carefully selected company including Miss Beulah Thompson, the popular ingenue, as Maud Muller.

Handsome scenery and interpolated specialties add to its interest. This company appears here Tuesday night, Feb. 14.

STARTLING BUT TRUE. People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number - over 30,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have ward off it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." - W. D. Wilcox, Longue, New York. For sale by all druggists.

THE LAW IN FULL.

The Bill Authorizing The Sale of The Electric Light And Water Works Plant Now Before Legislature.

We publish herewith the text of the bill enabling the Board of Aldermen to sell the electric light and water works plant. The measure is one which has awakened a great deal of interest and the public are entitled to know the purport of the law:

A Bill to be entitled an act to Provide For The Payment of the Indebtedness of the City of New Bern.

The General Assembly of North Carolina Do Enact: Section 1.

That the mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city of New Bern, have leave, authority and power, to bargain, sell and convey the water works system, sewerage system and electric system, upon such conditions and terms as they may deem advantageous to the said city: Provided, that said property shall not be sold for a less sum than the total cost of the same to the city, from the time of its purchase, construction, erection and establishment, to the date of sale; Provided further, that the money received from the sale of the property shall be first used to pay the bonded indebtedness of said city of New Bern; and then such other indebtedness of said city as may have been created or incurred in the purchase, construction, erection, establishment and maintenance of said property; and the balance, if any, paid to the treasurer for the use of said city.

Section 2. That the mayor and board of aldermen, for the purpose of exercising the power and authority granted in the preceding section of the act shall, subject to the provisions of said section, have the power to contract, to bargain and sell and convey, and to give an option on said water works system, sewerage system and electric light system to any probable purchaser of the same, upon such terms and conditions as they may deem proper.

Section 3. That all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Section 4. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A Reasonable Question. Mr. Editor:

Please ask our Board of Aldermen why it is that they do not take some action as to extending the city limits as those who live out on what is called "Riverside" or "Dunn's Field, and above the A. & N. C. railroad on National Avenue, have some advantages of our water and lights as well as our fire department, also their wagons and drays have some rights and tare up our streets and yet pay no city taxes.

Now I think it only fair and just that they bare their part of the burden of taxation equally with us. I also understand that children out there go to our graded school and pay as same as nothing in said school, so why not extend said limits?

HONORARY BY FRANCE. The decoration of grand officer of the Legion of Honor, which has just been conferred upon Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state, by President Loubet of France, is the highest but one of the decorations within the power of the president of the French republic to bestow.

One of the reasons which led to the conferring of the decoration upon Mr. Loomis was the interest aroused in France by his speech in behalf of international arbitration delivered last September before the interparliamentary union.

Mr. Loomis is a native of Ohio and a diplomat of wide experience. Before entering the diplomatic service he had

"He's living like a gentleman, he has hands in his pockets, as you might say - for it's a handsome salary he gets, and every blessed thing he has to do is to lay his head in the lion's mouth a matter of some two or three times a day or thereabout."

MOTHER OF PEARL.

The Industry of Inlaying It Is Precious Wood.

The sole curiosity for sightseers in the city of Hanou, a town of the French Tonquin, is the industry of inlaying mother of pearl in precious woods. In fact, one street, called the Street of the Inlayers, is given up to the trade.

The workmen are genuine artists, combining artistic perception with great manual skill. Furnished with rude tools, but with great patience and skill, these workmen produce articles of great beauty. They have applied the principle of division of labor, or specialization, to their work.

The cabinet makers first put together the various parts of the materials to be incrustated. The joining is done without the aid of nails and with a nice system of dovetailing and use of paste, of which lacquer is the base. From the cabinet maker the wood passes into the hands of the designer, who makes sketches for its ornamentation on rice paper.

These designs are transferred to the wood by the inlayer, whose duty it is to choose the pearl that will best serve to bring out the beauty of the design. The mother-of-pearl is obtained from a large species of shellfish, called casque, caught chiefly upon the shores of the island of Poulocondar.

The inlayer cuts the pieces of pearl into little bits and chooses the combination of colors which will make the contrast necessary for the artistic success of his work. The iridescence is heightened by the use of pearl dust furnished by a kind of mussel taken from the brooks of that region. When the bits of mosaic are chosen the inlayer tries to give them the form of the design chosen and disposes them as a mosaic in the wood. The crude mosaic is made translucent by pumice stone. The pearl is then fixed in a vise, and the labor of patience begins. Kneeling before a vice, he shapes the pieces with a file no larger than an ordinary color crayon. When the pearl is shaped it is necessary to trench it in the wood.

This is ordinarily done by children fourteen or fifteen years old. The bits of pearl are then set in the grooves and fixed with paste. The whole is gently heated to melt the paste and so fill the interstices. The design is then polished, varnished and given the finishing touches. The work has been counterfeited, but never so fully - New York Herald.

Discovery of the Ichthyosaurus. Ichthyosaurus is a name much jested with because it rivals the mastodon as a most widely known fossil, dating back to its discovery by Sir Edward R. Home, between 1814 and 1819, in the marine deposits of Lyme-Regis, England. The name, signifying "fish lizard," shows that this animal impressed Kong, its describer, as having a balilike backbone combined with a shoulder girdle of the lizard or saurian type. This term could not have been more happily chosen, because, while retaining the skeleton of an aquatic and extremely ancient lizard, the ichthyosaurus evolved a most strikingly modern external likeness to certain very familiar animals of the sea - Henry Fairfield Osborn in Century.
