SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

See inside pages for additional local news. The long predicted rain came yesterday morning. It lasted but half an hour but it was furious while it came. The amount measured a little less than half an inch.

Look out for the ad tomorrow for Street's Big Auction Sale of Crockery. On the Revenue Cutter's wharf are standing two brass twelve-pounder Dahlgren howitzers, mounted on two-wheel carriages. They belong to the Naval Reserves and were brought here from Elizabeth City where they have been standing for a long time in a public park and show signs of neglect. After an inspection and appraisal they are to be sold, being useful only for firing salutes.

The play last night "The Power of Man" was out of the ordinary in that it dealt with hypnotism as a feature in the heavy villain's part. Jack Lessing gave a remarkably clever presentation of Richard Glenwood, the "Shadow." It was one of the strongest and most beautiful plays ever seen here. The specialties are the best introduced by any troupe traveling in the south. Chief among these is the great barrel trick by Connor and Connor. It is the talk of the town and something people never grow tired of seeing. The play tomorrow night will be "A Daughter of Cuba."

A very pleasant banquet was held in the Elks rooms last night after lodge. Hons. C. R. Thomas, O. H. Guion and D. L. Ward were the guests of honor. On account of the ball game yesterday the Edsall-Winthrop matinee was postponed to Thursday. The same play "In Old Virginia" will be produced.

OH, IT WAS TERRIBLE!

New Bern Military Academy Base Ball Team Carried By the N. C. Military Academy Boys.

A large crowd gathered at the Blades Park grounds yesterday to see the local Military school base ball team beaten in a hotly contested but withal a very prettily played game. The game was played from start to finish on its merits. Mr. C. C. Jordan was umpire and gave good satisfaction.

Perhaps the principal reason for the defeat was that the New Bern boys had not played together enough. They played the game well individually but seemed a little fearful of their strength as a whole. Pitcher Whitehurst, although he was not exactly in pitching form made a good exhibition in the box and showed his value by holding the visitors down to six hits. In the first inning the Red Spring boys went down in one, two, three order before his indescribable curves. No score was made until the fourth inning when both teams had one tally to their credit. Lanham for the North Carolina team and Howell for the local team. The battle waged hotter and hotter and the New Berns were sometimes up and sometimes down. Take it all in all the game was one of the best exhibitions of the national sport ever participated in by amateurs after the limited practice had by each team. In the words of the assistant hero of Monday night's theatre, "Its no use, its no use!"

We give the line-up.

RED SPRINGS NEW BERN. Line-up table with names and positions: Jacobs p, Whitehurst p, Dutton 1b, Lupton 1b, Lanham c, Armstrong c, Sikes ss, McSorley ss, Brown 3b, Wadsworth W F 3b, Carton lf, Wadsworth W F lf, McKee 2b, Tidale 2b, Herritage cf, Howell cf, Gaddy rf, Tucker rf.

Following is the score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9. New Bern 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 1 1-5. North Carolina 0 0 1 0 2 0 1 1-5.

Microbes and Men.

The above lecture last night by Dr E. O. Taylor, was attentively listened to by a good sized audience. The speaker went into a very close analysis of alcohol, showing it to be the excrement of the yeast germ, and both a narcotic and irritant drug, hence a most dangerous custom for and person to drink any fluid which contained alcohol. Tonight Dr. Taylor will lecture on A Glass of Beer Analyzed, and promises both an entertainment of profit and interest to every one who will attend, and there should be a large audience to hear this most interesting lecturer.

The Battle of Bull Run.

In all the modern times no more brilliant spectacle in affairs military has been given to us than the late manoeuvres of Bull Run and Manassas, which for strategic cunning has eclipsed every other fate of armaments within our knowledge. Differing completely from the many so-called and prearranged "sham battles," this was not previously laid out in movements, but an effort unprepared to test the skill at strategy of the various officers in command. Over one hundred thousand soldiers met to commemorate the eventful day, and under their opposing generals, Bell and Grant, gave to the people a stirring manifestation of their study of war and its ways. Archie L. Shepard brings it to us in his incomparable pictures just as if we had been there from the best obtainable point of observation, and shows the successive movements with an exactitude of detail that no word drawings or paper notices could illustrate. Especially remarkable was the brilliant work done by the Virginia and North and South Carolina regiments, which are in the foreground of observation well before the eye. A great delay of money necessary for this subject, but its wide range and wide spread interest insures with the rest of the rarest and best subjects to be had in this best of Moving Picture Shows that the demands of the people are more than met. New Masonic Theatre tonight.
