A COMPELLING PUBLIC SENTIMENT FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Law enforcement through legislative through a compelling public sentiment, are really two very diverse methods to the accomplishment of a law's obsersance.

The old saying to the effect that morality cannot be forced upon a community or person through any legislative proceeding, is true, and yet State and National legislators will force laws 50c and $1.00 bottles at all drug stores. the low insurance rates, but it comes upon the people, which it is almost certain that the public sentiment will be against, and this sentiment being hostile to such laws, they will never be enforced.

Actually and practcally there is very little need of new laws, or of the frequent sessions of legislators to enact uine meerschaum pipe (in case), one new laws, for it will be found upon ex- pound Pride of Reidsville smoking teamination that very much of the socalled new legislation is either old laws repatched, or modification of old laws for individual or corporation benefit.

But while legislative enactment does not make a law active, and its violation as follows. a matter of punishment to the violator vet the law in its dormant state may Dawson, J. G. Dunn & Co., C. J. Mcat any time be aroused to a positiveness which would make it offensive to not only its violators, but also to the entire community becuse that the punishment the various places during the week. inflicted would be more far reaching and disturbing, than to merely those caught violating the law. When a law reaches this stage there is a public demand for its repeal.

Yet there are laws, which have been asked for by the people, and when once enacted, public sentiment is not aroused sufficiently to see to it that they are fully and impartially executed. This is one of those public inconsistencies which not merely puzzles, but is unexplainable, the public haste for a law, and its posiA FINE INDUSTRIAL PAPER. Association Officers Busy.

Atlanta, Ga., April 1 .-- During the past week every state department of Southern Cotton Association has been visited by an officer of the headouarters. President Harvie Jordan has been in Texas and Louisiana. Secty Richard Cheatham has been in Tennes see, Mississippi and Alabama. T. J. Simmons, Jr., manager of the press bureau has been in South Carolina and North Carolina. Dixon Armstrong, of the emblem bureau, has been in Arkansas. Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Each of these officials found the state departments hard at work and the different states thoroughly organized and offices conducted in a business manner. T. J. Simmons, Jr., who made the visit to North and South Carolina, was very much impressed with his visit to those states. South Carolina, he says, Magistrale Exceeds His Authority.

Raleigh, N. C., April L -- Some days o Governor Glenn received a letter on the British Consul in this State ng for full information regarding a British subject named Evans, who has made complaint to the British Minister to this country that he had been set upon and beaten in Chathan county, where he has charge of a hunt ing preserve owned by New Yorkers nd on which they pay taxes. Evans laims that he was exercising his dogs, as training them, and that by accidont they killed some game; that he was arrested, carried before a magistrate, fined and though he gave notice of appeal to the Superior court th nagistrate, instead of certifying the act declared that the fine must then and to jail. Evans then said that he was struck in the back of the head with a bludgeon by some person and badly nurt and that no attempt was made to arrest the man who thus struck him. The Governor is having the matter lool ed iuto very closely. The British Government is always in lead earnest about these matters and no triffing is allowed. It is alwa∜s a serious matter to do an injury to a Britisher as all the world knows. As yet the Governor has not received the full statement of the affair and it was his casions:-- desire' in fact his special request that it be kept out of the newspapers until Athens, Ga.-Summer School, June 27he had the story in full, but it has leaked, some way, and hence the present Atlanta, Ga.-National Association of mention. It is contended that Evans cursed the magistrate and was then plugged by a by-stander who fied. It is not denied that the magistrate exceeded his authority in imposing the fine and requiring it to be paid, with costs.
