New Bern, N. C., April 9, 1905.

ARE FURTHER FIRE WARNINGS NEEDED?

Again have the citizens of New Bern received a warning through a costly fire It is a warning which came and is to be added to the previous ones of the last few months, all costly fires to a few individuals, but which point out most vividly the dangers which lie at every property or house owner's door in this. city, and from which none may escape. except through providential interserence.

The fire of the early morning of April seventh, had conditions which fought against its getting beyond all control, as have the previous fires. An inch and one quarter rain fall the day before proved of inestimable value to surround ing property, that might have caught without the rainfall. Another important element was the direction of the wind which carried the heat, sparks, and flames towards the more open and less exposed property, and away from buildings which if once on fire would have wrought untold losses.

While the Friday fire has removed an element of danger, there is yet remaining dangers to property and building from fire in New Bern. There is yet a fire department, which has in its class, namely volunteers, no superiors as fire fighters. But this volunteer service is not what New Bern demands. This city demands a paid fire department and under a chief who shall draw pay for his services, and who shall be able to was issued to me, has been lost, and l command the water service that it may be adequate when the fire alarm sounds Another most important consideration that demands attention is, in what condition are the centers of the blocks,

POISON GREATES The disease that has done more than any other to wreck, ruin and humiliate life, is Contagious Blood Poison. Sorrow, shame and suffering go hand in hand with this great enemy, and man has always bated and fought it as he has no other disease. It is the most powerful of all poisons; no mat-ter how pure the blood may be, when its virus enters, the entire circulation becomes poisoned and its chain of horrible symptoms begin to show. Usually the first sign is a small sore or ulcer, not at all alarming in appearance, but the blood is being saturated with the deadly poison, and soon the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the hair and eyebrows drop out, a red eruption preaks out on the body, copper-colored splotches and sores make their appearance and the poison even works down into the bones and attacks nerves. Not only is the disease hereditary, being transmitted from parent to child, in the form of scrofula, weak eyes, soft bones, weak, puny constitutions, etc., but is also so highly contagious that many a life has been ruined by a friendly hand shake, or from using the toilet articles of one infected with the poison. To cure this blighting, deadly curse the blood must be purified, and nothing will do it so quickly and surely as S. S. S. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, drives out every particle of the poison and makes the blood clean and strong. It does not hide or cover up anything, but from the first begins to expel the poison and build up and strengthen the system. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable.
