New Bern, N. C., April 13, 1905.

MORE BUSINESS THAN POLITICAL CONSIDERATIONS.

While the primary called for next ic auspices, yet there are far more business considerations concerned in the naming of the right candidates, men this city's business interests and property, than any political obligations to be paid for by the naming of men for office, to be voted for in May at the regular city election.

But there are no conflicting politics in this primary, therefore it is the duty of every voter, certainly of every tax payer and property owner, to give heed to the men he will vote for who will hold in municipal control his property, and in a great degree his business interests, which will be affected according as this city's government is managed.

Too many property owners and bus ness men refuse to recognize the fact that those elected to control in municipal affairs are fully as important to them, that is, how they may conduct the city's government, as anything that concerns the material welfare of any property owner.

The voter will forget the election day, and not vote or have anything to do with the election of good citizens. practical men to office, and yet month after an election will rush into news paper print, or fume and kick on the street corners on the "rotten" city officials or aldermen.

Next Monday is the time for every citizen to offer his protest, if he has one, by his ballot. It is the one opportunity for the voter to say what man or men he wants in charge of this city's affairs, and failing to register his choice, has no right to make any protest to the manner in which municipal affairs may be conducted for the next twelve months.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE BEST AND MOST POPULAR

"Mothers buy it for croupy children railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for lagrippe' say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa, "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that car be procured for couchs and colds, wheth er it be a child or an adult that is af flicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by Davis' Pharmany and F S. Duffy.

Orphans' Concert Tour.

On or about the tenth of May a chap ter of children from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will start upon a concert tour of the eastern part of North Carolina After an interval of several weeks spent at Oxford, a tour of the middle and western part of the State will be gin the latter part of July. The concert group is, this year, composed o ten girls, four boys, with a lady and gentleman in charge sixteen in all Our people have learned to expect from these boys and girls an unusually bright attractive entertainment. The cause represented by the children strongly appeals to lovers of God and humanity To help helpless, homeless children in such a way that they will, likely, become true helpers is indeed an important duty and a high privilege. Interdred and seventy children.

There isis no business sense in producting cotton at a loss. It would be better for the individual to plant no cotton at all than to spend the energies of the to carry out any obligations made by year in producing a staple which when his firm. placed upon the market will not bring nough money to pay for the cost of its production. It is a well established fact that no material can be woven in-

Another important factor is that we ave practically no system of marketng the cotton crop, selling it with an utter disregard of the demand and puting an enormous oversupply on the market during a short period of time and allowing the price to be controlled by French troops saved the Sultan's almost entirely by speculation.

A TRUE APPETIZER AND TONIC.

Mi-o-na Will Make You Feel Hungry and Hearty, and Give Strength and Vitality

Ask any friend who looks thin, pale, and out of health how many meals he or she cats a day, and the chances are that the answer will be "Not over two, and I don't feel hungry then." The plump, rosy, and robust eat three square meals daily, and their perfect health is due to a strong stomach and digestive system, as such a system takes out of the food all those elementthat make pure blood, and give nourish ment and vitality to the body.

The one appetizer and tonic that hould be taken is Mi-o-na, the only agent known that will strengthen the stomach and digestive system, and put them in such perfect working order that they will digest easily and naturally all the food that is eaten, and send you to the table positively hungry for the next meal.

CAREFUL OF THE FIRE.

The Stingy Hotel Keepers of Spats and Southern Italy. In the smaller hotels of southern Italy and of Spain, writes Mr. Hart In "Two Argonauts In Spain." the unlandlords display a touching solicitude about the stove. On days when fire is really needed to keep the guests want to escape?" warm they sometimes spend half their time trying to keep the servants from putting too much fuel on the fire.

To prevent Americans and other pyromaniacs from meddling with the and Pharmacy. The additions to its fuel they often keep the cost bin lock ed. It is a touching spectacle to see a group of Americans shivering round a little stove; to see the servant enter. take out a key, unlock the coal bin, put two or three spoonfuls of coal in the store and then lock the big again; to see the gimlet eye of a Granada landlord fastened on him from the office; then to see the hapless Americans sink back into their overcost collars and wish they were linck better.

As an instance of the desperation b which these cold hotels drive people l once in a Levantine botel saw an elderly spinster seat herself in front of the store in the men's smoking room, with her hair down, while an elderly female friend gave her a dry servants that she should finish this intimate tollet operation in her own room she replied tiriesy that she had found the only warm place in the ho tel and proposed to finish the shamper there, which she did.

HUGO AND HIS WIFE.

sence of the Author and I Better Half's Placidity. M. Paul Stapfer in the Mercure de France quotes a fragment of Victor Hugo's after dinner monologues. The pose of the man accustomed to an expectation of hig utterances, of metaphysical suggestions, is well conveyed in the quotations. Victor Hugo, it is hardly accessary to observe, was distinctly a prophet in his own country as well as abroad. By 9 in the evening, says M. Stapfer, Victor Hugo had warmed to his work. He burst forth: "How poor, how small, how absurd theism is! God exists. I am more sure of his existence than I am of my own. If God lends me sufficient length of life I want to write a book showing how necessary to the soul prayer ishow necessary and how efficacious. Personally I never pass four hours without prayer. I pray regularly every morning and evening. If I wake in the night I pray. What do I pray for? Strength. I know what is right and what is wrong, but I realize my imperfections and that of myself I have not the strength to resist evil-God surrounds and upholds us. We are in him. From him we have life, movement, being. All is created by him. But it is not true to say that he has created the world. He creates it unceasingly. He is the soul of the universe. A place to sleep on is provided. The rest brings. On the Russian sleeping cars those who have not their own bed clothes and who wish to undress and go to bed in the American fashion can have all that is requisite for 50 cents. The porter on demand brings a liner sack, whose seal he cuts in your pres ence with considerable ceremony and from which he produces a pillow blankets and sheets of beautiful fine linen. This was the system on our boat, and our minds were soon at rest. I afterward inspected the lower decke of the ship and saw the way the third class passengers were cared for. It was primitive, but clean and wholly suited to the customs of the people Each person was provided with a spot less board shelf to sleep on by night and sit on by day, and he made himself as happy or as uncomfortable as he chose.
