Confederate Veteran Dies Attempting

Blockade Still Captured. Com-

Raleigh, May 13.-J. A. Adams, an lied suddenly yesterday afternoon in the home of Fannie Adams, a woman in a disreputable section of the city. The woman was a relative of his and he had gone there to try and induce her to give up the life she was leading. He was subject to fits and in the midst of his conference with his wayward relative he fell over in a fit and died before medical assistance could reach him He was 62 years old and served during the Civil war as a member of Company 44th Regiment, North Carolina troops

A most violent wind and rain storm hat has visited this section in a great while passed this way last evening, doing considerable damage. The wind registered 50 miles an hour and the rain fell in torrents for nearly an hour. Two fine oaks in capital square were blown down. Also twelve on the campus of St. Mary's School. A number of the fine oaks of which Raleigh is noted succumbed to the storm. All the telephone exchanges were practically put out of business. It is reported that the town of Garner, on the Southern Railway, east of Raleigh was damaged to the extent of having as many as wenty-five houses blown down. The wires are all down and the report has Carolina. not been verified from here. A west bound Southern passenger train passed the town in the hight of the storm and passengers say they saw a giant oak tree fall across a residence. The storm seems to have assumed almost the proportions of a cyclone there. Governor Glenn made a speech last night before the Clerks Union of Raieigh, the occasion being a sort of a rally for the purpose of quickening interest in the Union. He endorsed the union when judiciously and fairly directed and made a splendid impression

DROWNING DUE TO CARELESSNESS

The item in Friday morning's Journal regarding the drowning of a colored man who was a laborer on the Sarah Louise was incorrect as to the name, which was Henry Downs, The man was the victim of his own carelessnes as he had been warned several times that he was going too near the edge of the boat. He had a large truck load of alabs which he was carting from one part of the boat to the other.

The accident occurred shortly after six o'clock Thursday evening in broad day light. As soon as possible a boat was lowered, every effort to rescue the man was made but he anneared to be nanic stricken and in spite of his ability to swim and the quarter of a cord of slabwood which would have kept him affoat until help arrived, he sank, After earnest but unsuccessful endeavor to locate tne body the boat put back to the city to report the accident. All day Friday efforts were made to find the body but they were of no avail, no effort to find it has been successful.

The man came here from St. Michaels Maryland, and was about twenty-five years of ; ge.

Good Repertoire Next Week.

The Osman Stock Co. will open their weeks engagement at the New Masonic Theatre Monday night with the celebrated play, "Blue Grass."

As the title of this piece would suggest, the scenes are laid in the beautiful Blue Grass region of Kentucky The story of the play is one of intense interest and is filled with lively situations and thrilling climaxes.

Miss Heiene Reicka, Manager Osman's North Carolina, their guards and popular young leading woman is one of the most capable women that has ever come to the south at the head of popular priced company.

MissReicka is young and beautiful, and s en with the younger leading women. During the week she will wear snme gowns that are certain to cause env among the ladies of her audience.

Between the acts high class vaude ville specialties will be introduced making the performances continuous Heading the vaudeville bill are Oskara and Orapetza and their trained pig "Mike." This is a complete show in itself and really makes two shows for the one admission

Prices for the entire engagement will be 10, 20 and 30 cents. Seats now on sale at Waters.
