lor's Large Line of Hot Weather

Mr. Lee J. Taylor has added a new peverage to his already large line of bottled summer beverages. It is Celery Cola. A drink that has all the virtues none of their disadvatages. It is sparkling, with good strong tonic properties which makes it all the more desirable from a health point of view. The celery portion is a strong feature and on this account it will win many friends. The syrup is made by J. C. Mayfield of Birmingham, Alabama, the originator of the Coca Cola, and he ooks for it to become as popular as that drink. In order to introduce it further on the market, Mr. Taylor will give a sample bottle to any who will call at his plant on Craven street. He has them on ice all the time and those availing themselves of this offer will find a very refreshing and invigorating

He has also another drink called Pepsin-Ola, the syrup of which is also man ufactured by J. C. Mayfield. It is a pleasant and healthful drink containing all the healthgiving properties of pepsin. It is one of the oldest of the pepsin drinks and has an established popu-

Mr. Taylor is also putting up a supe rior article of ginger ale, known as Bel fast ginger ale—a drink which meets all the requirements of a hot weather beverage, sparkling and snappy. "The Lost Chord."

Sir Arthur Sullivan was at one time to him to be a bad inconsistency in tells the story: "The words are, "I struck one chord of music like the sound of a great amen.' Now, amen is a word of two syllables, so that there must have been two chords. He did not notice this, he said, until after the song had been sung in public, and he was terribly afraid be would get laughed at for it. Strange to say, nobody ever seemed to have found it out."

His Doubtful Compliment. "What was that he said?" queried the indignant grocer. "Did he dare insinuate that I ought to put less sand

The other case happened in the Italian camp on the P. O. & W, railway and may result seriously. It is one of those cases in which the sympathy eems to rest more with the accused han with the victim.

For some time the older Italian laborers on the construction of the P. O. & W. railway have been in the habit of imposing on one of their number, Francisco Pologruto, a boy about 18 years of age. According to the boy's statement the men have been stealing from him and showing their dislike for him in many different ways. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he alleges that they came into his room and attacked him while he was in bed, choking him aud abusing him so that he got his knife which he kept near his bed to defend himself. In the melee he stabbed Salato Dicomo in the The wounded man was brought to Dr. Duguid's office where an examination showed that the knife blade had entered the abdomen and it was therefore a serious cut. He was reported as resting fairly well last evening and there were hopes that he might recover but it is impossible to tell at the time of the writing the course the wound might Pologruto is an intelligent young fellow, speaks good English and bears a
