Resources And Liabilities State Banks. Cross an Indian Shakes President's Hand And Invites Roosevelt to Visit Roanoke Island. Fine Raffles For Hall of History.

Raleigh, N. C. June 22, 1905.—The bank statement, as made to the Corporation Commission shows total resources and liabilities amounting to $33,368,564 as against $29,416,560 at this date last year.

A posse from Raleigh went up to New Light township and captured a desperado named Lowry last night. His wife had sworn out a warrant against him for assault and he is in jail, failing to give $100 bond.

Chairman W. J. Peels of the North Carolina Historical Commission has returned from Washington where he had a special interview with President Roosevelt and invited the latter to visit Roanoke Island when he comes to Raleigh next October.

The historical commission has placed in the Hall of History a superb picture of that distinguished North Carolinian and gallant soldier Major General Robt. F. Hoke, who ranked among the very ablest of the Confederate officers, and who since the war has taken so prominent a part in the up-building of his native state, which has always desired to do him the honor he deserves.

Miss Mary Dodson Ramsour of Milton, daughter of Major General Stephen B. Ramsour, has very kindly sent to the Director of the Hall of History a number of relics of that talented and brave soldier and gentleman, whose grave is in the Episcopal Church yard at Lenoirton. Among the relics are his diploma, given upon his graduation in 1860 from the National Academy, where he stood highest in his class. His commission, as a Second Lieutenant in the Fourth Artillery dated March 15th 1861 and signed by President Abraham Lincoln and by Secretary of War, Simon Cameron.

His appointment as a cadet at the military academy is signed by Jefferson Davis the then Secretary of War and is dated January 22, 1858. The documents are of great interest. Others besides those named are his commission in the Third U. S. Artillery, dated July 2, 1860, signed by John B. Floyd, Sec'y. of Navy. His resignation April 5th, 1861. The acceptance of his resignation, April 5th, 1861; orders dated Montgomery, Ala., April 23, signed by Adjt. Gen. S. Cooper, C. S. A. He being then a Lieutenant in the Confederate service; his commission as a major of the N. C. State troops, dated May 18th 1861; Commission of Colonel, 49th N. C. T., April 12th, 1862, Commission as Brigadier General C. S. A., Nov. 1, 1862, and as Major General, June 1, 1862, with directions to report for duty to General Robert E. Lee for assignment to the command of Early's Division of Swell's Army Northern Virginia.

THE REAL MRS. EDDY.

Personal Interview Gives Character of Founder of Christian Science. Questions Asked And Answered.

(Copyright, 1905, by The Boston Herald Co.)

(This article may be copied in part or in whole by any paper, provided credit is given to The Boston Herald.)

BY SIBYL WILBUR.

I have seen Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy. I have conversed with her and secured her answers to a number of questions concerning Christian Science. I have held her hand in mine, felt the touch of her thought, listened to her kindly blessing, and received from her lips a message to the world.

Mrs. Eddy is alive and well, she is in full possession of her mental and physical powers. She has no visible physical malady; she is a beautifully poised, physically etherealized, exquisitely fashioned woman of advanced years. Her mind is clear and energetic, marvellously alert and delicately attuned. Her eyes are radiant, her voice like a bell. In a word, Mrs. Eddy seems to have reached an adjustment between her physical and spiritual powers which promises to carry her existence through many years to come.

The secret which the world has been trying to wrest from the closely guarded home at Pleasant View, the secret which for several years has been construed by suspicion to mean illness, physical or mental collapse, and even, by the extremists of worldly-mindedness, the actual dissolution of Mrs. Eddy and the substitution in her place of a representative—this secret has been disclosed, and in its disclosure is a rebuke for all the petty suspicions which have been heaped against a blameless life.

The secret of Pleasant View is no secret at all. It is the plain and simple truth, which any well ordered mind might readily have fathomed without the necessity of painful intrusion upon the well earned seclusion of a woman who gave the full measure of her services to humanity before retiring from the theatre of human activities.

At Pleasant View, in Concord, N. H., lives a remarkable woman, over eighty years of age, who is going through the gradual process of completing the spiritualization of her faculties. She is performing the miracle of human life which may be witnessed in any home where dwells a grand old father or mother whose earthly days are largely over, though the loving children would cherish that life for many years, if possible.

The attempt to have an interview with Mrs. Eddy was begun in February by The Boston Herald and culminated successfully on Sunday, May 21st.

A MESSAGE COMES FROM MRS. EDDY.

On Sunday morning I attended service in First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Concord, and after the services, which are unusually brief to one used to a long ritualistic, I went for a stroll. I was walking in a general way in the direction of Pleasant View, when I saw Mr. Mann, the steward, driving toward me. He drew up at the curb and said Mrs. Eddy had decided to see me for a few minutes at one o'clock. We drove back to the little villa, and as I walked up the driveway I heard the piano which some one was playing on softly, and just before my ring a ripple of laughter.

All the foolish fears of a great secret at Pleasant View suddenly dropped from me like a hateful cloak. I perceived the beauty of a happy home life being naturally and agreeably here in this well ordered, well kept country residence.

The housekeeper answered my ring on this occasion, and said she would take my card to Mrs. Eddy. I went to the parlor, and there met Mrs. Sargent and a young man, an under secretary, who has recently gone to Pleasant View. It was he who had been striking the piano keys.

The maid came back to fetch me, and said: "Mrs. Eddy will see you now."

"You are going up with me, are you not?" I asked Mrs. Sargent.

"I will go to the door with you, if you wish it," she replied. "But Mrs. Eddy wishes to see you alone."

"And may I talk with her?" "Certainly. That is what you are here for," smiled Mrs. Sargent again, with her bit of quizzical playfulness.

We went upstairs to Mrs. Eddy's study, which is in the tower room with the balcony running around the window. Mrs. Sargent left me at the door, and to my surprise, closed the door after her as she left me. I saw a lady with white hair standing in the window with her back to me. She stood there quietly for a few seconds, and then turned and came toward me. She held out her hand cordially and spoke my name.

"She was the rarest image of that painting in the room below which I had studied so carefully, and every feature was the feature of the photograph which all the world is familiar with as the picture of the founder of Christian Science. She wore a gown of black silk, with a piece of rare old lace arranged in a high collar about her neck. Her hair was perfectly white and arranged with a soft touch on her head, and she wore a pair of pearl earrings.

PSORIASIS AND ECZEMA

Milk Crust, Tetter, Ringworm, and Scalded Head, and Every Form of Torturing, Disfiguring Humors from Infancy to Age.

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum—all demand a remedy of almost super-human virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures and humour-remedies of the civilized world.

CAPT. GRAHAM'S CURE Of Distressing Humour.

Captain W. S. Graham, 1321 Eoff St., Wheeling, W. Va., writing under date of June 14, '04, says: "I am so grateful I want to thank God that a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I suffered for a long time with sores on my face and back. Some doctors said I had blood poison, and others that I had barbers' itch. None of them did me any good, but they all took my money. My friends tell me my skin now looks as clear as a baby's, and I tell them Cuticura Soap and Ointment did it."

artificially tanned. The hand which she gave me in greeting was very small and well formed. In stature she must be about five feet five inches.

"All this fuss to see poor little me," said Mrs. Eddy, looking at me with radiant eyes, and smiling upon me benignantly. "I feel greatly honored at the privilege granted."

Fast Flying 20th Century Wreckage.

Mentor, O., June 21.—Running at the rate of fifty or sixty miles an hour, the Twentieth Century Limited on the Lake Shore railroad dashed into an open switch at the passenger station here shortly before ten o'clock tonight. Four or five persons were killed and twelve or fifteen badly injured. The combination baggage and smoking buffet car and the coach behind it, caught fire and were destroyed.

The train was eastbound, having left Cleveland about 9 o'clock tonight and as it does not stop here it was running at great speed. The engineer did not notice the open switch until the train struck it. The engine left the rails and plowed into the ground, tearing up the track for yards. The two coaches following it jammed into it with great force and were crushed. The fire from the engine setting them ablaze. Fortunately most of the occupants of these two coaches were rescued before the fire reached them.
