TO MAKE GOOD DEFICITS

Government Must Increase Internal Revenue Tax. Possibly Double Tax on Beer.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Treasury officials have been busy for weeks figuring out how the continuance of the existing deficit can be avoided. Expenses cannot be easily reduced, and the alternative proposition is that more revenue must be secured. Secretary Shaw, who is ranked among the "stand-patters" on the tariff question, is backed by some of the most influential men in both branches of Congress. If the customs revenues are not to be changed the only other means for bringing in additional supplies is from increased internal revenue. There has been a suspicious activity in that branch of the Treasury for some time, and hints have been dropped by officials of that bureau that justify the conclusion that it is in the minds of Treasury officials that more internal revenue is the most satisfactory way of eliminating the present embarrassing condition of the Treasury.

While it is not within the exact truth to state that definite conclusions have been reached so far as the executive branch of the Government is concerned, it is not improbable that Congress will be asked to increase the internal revenue tax on beer and, possibly, manufactured tobacco. From the standpoint of the experts on trade, the brewers of beer can most easily stand the brunt of increased taxation, as 45,000,000 barrels of this product are put on the market each year, and every barrel pays 1 tax. To double that tax would provide an additional revenue sufficient to more than wipe out the deficit, and, with an economical administration of affairs, leave sufficient to carry on the Panama Canal operations without recourse to any bond issue whatever. It has been suggested that such a tax would render impossible a general opening up of the tariff question, which the stand-patters are also unwilling to permit the tariff to be aired in Congress just now.

Of course, any plan that looks to the increase of the tax on beer will be combated by one of the most powerful lobbies in the country. The mere suggestion of such action when Congress has been in session has been sufficient heretofore to bring to Washington pressure that has stifled beer tax agitation. A Presidential election, however, is some distance off, and if the President urges such action upon Congress at the next session it is quite probable that legislation with that end in view will be enacted.

Speaker Cannon, whose power in the House is mighty, is one of the most implacable opponents of revision of the tariff, even in its most inoffensive shape. His chief lieutenants, Mr. Dainell, Mr. Payne and Mr. Grosvenor, are of the same mind. In the Senate, Mr. Allison and Mr. Aldrich, who dominate that body, are likewise opposed to revision, so that the pathway to the enactment of increased beer tax legislation would seem to be comparatively easy.

WHO'S GOT THE BUTTON?

Or in Other Words Who Has Political Patronage?

The following clipping taken from the letter of Thomas J. Pence in the Raleigh Post of June 29th, will be read with interest as it suggests the existence of an "inner circle" or those who are "next to the throne" in North Carolina:

"It is comment here that southern Republicans are paying more attention to the aspirations of the various candidates for the nomination for the presidency than those in other parts of the country, and this condition is explained by reason of the fact that there is prospect of a genuine contest in the G. O. P. there years hence for the first time in twelve years. Such an opportunity as is indicated has whetted the appetites of Republicans in the south, who have had mighty poor "grazing," as the saying goes, since McKinley's nomination in 1896. One of the best informed politicians in North Carolina expressed the opinion today that the effect of the organization in North Carolina is not so much a fight over patronage as surface indications point, as it is a contest for advantages, preliminary to the choosing of a delegate to the next Republican national convention. "Black-burns and Haines have agreed on a patronage program," the politician said, "and the result will show who they had to. Mr. Roosevelt would not consent to the nomination of Judge Buchanan's friends and former allies and at the same time he believes that the only Republican who can win the nomination should have the support of such men as Buchanan, who are well known in the south, and who are well known in the north, and who are well known in the west." The politician went on to say that the result of the contest would be a matter of course.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.
Complete Treatment for Every Humor from Pimples to Scrofula
Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without heat rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin, scalp, and blood humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

GOVERNOR'S OPINIONS

Declines to Pardon Gold Brick Swindle or Commute Sentence of Dan Teachey. Special to Journal.

Raleigh, June 29.—Governor Glenn declines to pardon Howard, Alias Thompson, of New York, and Hawley, Alias Smalley, of Chicago, the two gold brick swindlers in the penitentiary here. He says they are too old, and have been punished enough, but evidence shows they had equipped themselves to perpetrate a great fraud and had forged signatures to letters to carry off their plans. They are educated, knew better, tried to defraud our citizens, and cannot expect an outraged law to deal gently with them. All the courts, State and Federal have said their punishment is just.

Governor Glenn declines to commute the death sentence of Dan Teachey, under sentence to be hanged in Duplin county for murder. The Governor says he has looked into all evidence, heard argument and even allowed the prisoner to see him at Goldboro and make a statement, but that the conclusion is to his deliberate murder of Robert Rivenbark, and two impartial juries have so decided, the Supreme court saying the murder was with fixed design and heinous brutality.

WILL DEWEY BE TRIED?

The Case is Set For Next Wednesday July 4th. The Question is, Will it Get To That Point?

At the last term of criminal court, it will be remembered that the case in The State vs. Thomas W. Dewey, came up for trial at which time there was a good deal of an oral battle which resulted in a victory for the defendant. The case was continued. It was stipulated, however, that the case should begin on Wednesday, July 4th and it was agreed to by the defendant's attorneys.
