Affidavits of Fire-Proof Safes.

Cincinnati, O., April 15, 1903.
J. Baum Safe & Lock Co., Cincinnati,
Ohio.
Gentlemen:—Please enter our order for a No. 10 safe at once and get it out as soon as possible.
We are now located in the Blymyer Building, 6, Main St., and are getting in shape for business. Everything in our establishment in the Pike Building was destroyed by the fire, and the only thing which was left was our iron safe which we bought of you. We at first were of the belief that everything in the safe would be in ashes, as the safe was on the top floor, fell six stories and was in the hottest part of the fire, but to our surprise the books were found to be in as perfect condition as preceding the fire and could be used again if it were not that they had a musty smell from the fire. We will send you one of the books as soon as we have it received, as a testimonial of what your safe will do, and we will write you up a testimonial of any description you may desire, for we can not say too much of the way the safe stood the fire.

Yours Very Truly,
THE CATHOLIC TELEGRAPH PUBLISHING CO.,
L. A. ELLERSON, Business Manager.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Largely Favored in This State. The Negro Eliminated.

Such is Expression From Farmers. Auditor Dixon A Popular Man. Claud Bernard in Good Shape. Cherokeo County Game Preserve.

Raleigh, N. C., July 15th, 1905.—Chairman McNeill of the State Corporation Commission says that the State Board of Tax Assessors it has nearly completed its assessment of the property of common carriers the reports of a few of these are incomplete and so had to be returned.
State Auditor Dixon who is very popular as a speaker has a number of invitations to deliver addresses at various points but says he has been compelled to decline all of them except one to deliver an address at his home town, Shelby, on the occasion of what is known as the "home coming" of Cleveland people August 16th.

State Treasurer Lacy has returned from his mountain trip which occupied just one month. He went as the guest of Marshall W. Bell of Cherokee county into Graham county, on a 40,000 acre game preserve, the other members of the party being the sister of Mr. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Sake Hilliard. They lived in log cabins and had a grand time in the primeval forests, in which no axe has ever felled a tree. They caught more trout daily than they could eat and enjoyed that grand fish three times a day. Mr. Lacy says his trip was a delight from start to finish. On the way home he stopped at Marion and visited the Elhanan orphanage of which Miss Perry is the head. There are 150 orphans and she receives gifts of $10,000 a year for them every thing coming in response to prayer. He says that though sometimes there is hardly anything left to eat yet a fresh supply comes in and that it is one of the most remarkable places he ever visited.
Judge Allen did not take any further step today so far as the sentence of Rowan Rogers and J. P. Sorrell is concerned. He gave them six months in jail yesterday though a longer sentence was expected by a good many people. It has been said that the Judge said he would mitigate the sentence but he did not really make this statement. The grand jury today continued its investigation into what may be back of the action of Rogers and Sorrell in talking to jurors in the Gattis-Kilgo case.

One of the closest friends of Claud Bernard said today "He is in good life good spirits and good health and soon will return to his home here. I have seen him within a few days but will not tell you where."
Labor Commissioner Varner says that replies have come in from 800 farmers regarding wages, labor, education, etc. and that a very large majority favor compulsory education with the negro left out. In the east and in a good deal of the center of the state the objection is almost solely on account of the negro as a great many farmers claim that to educate the latter ruins him as a farm laborer. A great majority of the farmers therefore favor compulsory education and in fact education generally for the whites only. A few favor it for both races and say the negro ought to have a practical education. Very nearly all the farmers complain of a tendency on the part of wage earners both white and black to leave the farms and go to where there is labor in factories, saw mills, railways etc. There is great a widespread complaint of the shortage of labor this coming from everywhere. It is somewhat significant that some of the most ardent supporters of compulsory education declare that they have this idea because they believe it will benefit wage earners by preparing them for more useful work on the farm where it is felt that an agricultural education is of special value. The farmers in a number of cases express their appreciation of the instruction given at the Agricultural College here. The labor commissioner says he is impressed in looking over these letters from over 800 farmers reporting from every county in the state by the improvement in penmanship, expression, etc. This fact amounts to a revelation. The replies have also been marked by promptness.

The Editor has received a fine large basket of tomatoes grown by Mr. T. J. Baxter, these tomatoes, their size and goodness being due, Mr. Baxter says to the beneficial effects of the Meadows guano.

BYNUM SUBMITS TO MURDER.

In Second Degree for Killing His Partner. Judge Will Fix Term Monday. More of Embracery Case.

Raleigh, July 15.—Judge Allen in the Rogers and Sorrell embracery case today, ordered a subpoena for a new and perhaps important witness named Banks, who had a brother on the jury in the Gattis-Kilgo libel suit, and who it is said was seen by Rowan Rogers and asked to take a message to J. P. Sorrell. As yet the subpoena is not served.

The grand jury will on Monday resume the investigation of this matter. No lawyers have yet been examined by it, but the judge gives it full authority to subpoena any. Judge Allen directs it to fully probe the matter. It is the comment here that Sorrell does not know who wanted jurors seen, and that Rogers does know but will never tell. This may checkmate the investigation.

Raymond D. Bynum submitted in the Superior court here to murder in the second degree for shooting his aged partner Deacon James H. Alford, in their printing office during the last holidays. The judge will hear evidence Monday to fix the term of imprisonment. The defense is that constant and heavy drinking made Bynum irresponsible.

Races Clash in New York Streets.

New York, July 14.—"San Juan II," the district bounded by Amsterdam and West End Avenues and Sixty-first and Sixty-third streets, so called because of its notoriety as a battleground, was the scene here tonight of a serious race riot, which required two hundred and fifty policemen to quell, after many shots had been fired and several persons had been seriously injured.

The trouble began shortly after 9 o'clock, when a policeman arrested Edward Connelly for attacking Henry Williams, a negro, and was pursued to the station house with his prisoner by a mob of Connelly's friends, hurling showers of stones and other missiles. When the station house reserves turned out, the entire neighborhood was in an uproar, and whites and blacks engaged in desperate struggles in the streets. Torrents of missiles were hurled from roofs and windows. Within three minutes not less than a thousand men, boys and women, black and white, were engaged in furious combat.

AN ALLIGATOR COUNTRY.

Big Sauroians are Seen in the Creeks Tributary to the Neuse and Trent.

Every little while the Journal publishes an account of the killing of a large alligator in some of the neighboring streams emptying either into the Neuse or Trent rivers. It is said that many streams abound in these sauroians and that they are multiplying rapidly. They grow to a large size but there has yet to be a report of any depredation on us by them.

Last Thursday Shuld De Loesch, a colored man living near the head of Scotts Creek saw a big alligator making its way clumsily across the creek to a small pond about a mile from there. DeLoesch got his gun and put two charges of No. 4 shot into the animal's eye and head, the shot entered its brain and killed it. It measured eight feet long and was the largest that has been seen at large in this section at any time. The animal was skinned and the hide was brought here and a good price was paid for it.

Colored Man Drowned.

Will White, colored, of New Bern, working with Colvin & Davis, bridge contractors building a steel bridge for the Atlantic & North Carolina Company over Neuse river near Kinston, fell from the bridge when at work Friday evening and was drowned.

Efforts to recover the body by dragging for it have as far failed. The river is pretty high and is deep at the point where the man was drowned.

NORTH CAROLINA AHEAD.

Rich in Resources the State Has Produced Many Marvelous Things, but Nothing of the Kind Perhaps the Equal of Buckhorn Lithia Spring Recently Discovered in Granville County. A Wonderful Mineral Water Which Works Miracles in Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Stomach.

RICHARD R. MANNING.
(Editorial article from Henderson, (N. C.) Gold Leaf of September 15th, 1904.)

No State in the Union, perhaps, has a greater diversity of resources than North Carolina. And in nothing is it richer than in mineral waters whose curative properties are recognized far and wide. The latest discovery of this kind is that of the Buckhorn Lithia Spring, one mile from Bullock, Granville county, on the line of the Durham & Keyville (Southern) Railway; between Oxford and Clarksville.

The story of the discovery and beneficial results obtained from the use of this water make interesting reading. The sons of Mr. B. T. Hicks, on whose land the spring is located, while working in a field nearby discovered a small stream gushing up out of a rock. The water looked pure and and sparkling and being thirsty, they stopped to drink. It had a marked effect, and they drank of it again and repeatedly. Mr. Hicks was away from home at the time, having gone to a well known spring in the Western part of the State, seeking relief from an aggravated case of catarrh of the stomach. At the end of three or four weeks; he returned home, apparently no better and ejected in spirit.

When Mr. Hicks reached home the boy told him about the water they had found and the peculiar effect it had upon those who drank it. They suggested that he try it, but he had lost all hope. If the water and medicines he had been using for so long a time were without avail surely he did expect to find relief from any water, or other thing, on his own premises. But, incredulous as he was like a drowning person grasping at a straw, he determined to give this water a trial.

There was no spring there—merely a small stream gushing up out of a rock. Perhaps no one would have thought of taking notice of it or drinking at such a place but boys. Mr. Hicks began drinking the water, and soon commenced to improve. The effect was marked from the very first. The man who went home, a wreck, is today a well man—strong, vigorous, hearty—a walking, living illustration of the marvelous curative powers of this wonderful water after six or eight months use of it.

After using the water awhile and finding there was virtue in it, Mr. Hicks cut away the rock through which it had forced itself in a tiny stream, all through the ages undiscovered and unutilized, and released a bold spring, which flows at the rate of a gallon a minute. This, in brief, is the story of the discovery of this new elixer of life.

A gentleman from Baltimore came out to Mr. Hicks' on a hunting expedition last fall. So impressed was he with the extraordinary activity of the water from this spring, that he took a sample home with him and had it analyzed at his own expense, at a cost of $75.00.

After having the analysis made, the gentleman in question sent it to Mr. Hicks and advised him to have the spring capitalized and exploit the water for the benefit of suffering humanity. This, Mr. Hicks has done, Messrs. J. A. Kelly and B. H. Hood, of Henderson, purchasing an interest in the spring. The name "Buckhorn" has been given to it, and Buckhorn Lithia Water will be vigorously pushed by these enterprising gentlemen. That it is destined to attain a wide sale and a great reputation admits of no doubt. The analysis shows it to contain double the quantity of lithia of the most celebrated lithia waters known. As a diuretic, alterative and laxative it has no superior its effect upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys and bladder is very pronounced, and its use is attended with the most beneficial results. A number of persons in Henderson have been drinking Buckhorn Lithia Water for some time and enthusiastic are the praises bestowed upon it.

Henderson will be the principal distributing point, thus adding another important industry to our town. For sale by Davis' Pharmacy and F. S. Duffy, New Bern.
