Fine line fresh canned goods at Coast Line Market.

An eye strain means that rays of light do not focus on the mirror or retina of the eye properly, and if the eye has no power to concentrate these rays to a focus very bad sight or almost total blinding would result, but by more or less excessive muscular action stimulated by an excess of nerve force these rays are made to focus, which accounts for the strained condition and loss of nervous energy which should supply some other part of the system, nature rebels at this robbery by the headaches, inability to read for any length of time, inflamed eyes, cross-eyes and hundreds of other disagreeable symptoms. Art has furnished a means of lens or spectacles to focus properly the rays of light, without any of the muscles of the eye, which removes the strain or cause, the symptoms of course are cured.

We take great pains in the careful examination of the eye, this combined with the necessary instruments and long experience places our optical work as good as any specialist which has been proven in these columns.

J. O. BAXTER. Graduate Optician.
