A SUMMER RINT.

Harper's Bazar. Such an attractive lot of girls scattered far and wide about the country Friday. and along the coasts! How much plear ure they are having! How much health we hope they are getting for Mrs. Ada Walker, the next winter's demands! But, girls, don't use the summer just for pleasure for your lovely selves. Remember in the excitement of teasand tournaments of sailing and swimming, of fishing and dancing, to look around you whenever you can. Lend a helping hand for the little task that seems wearisome to the doer. Read or chat with the invalid for a few minutes. You don't know how refreshing it is to the sick to have the current of thought changed for a time. Don't refrain from the word of sympathy in some one's evident joy or sorrow. These thirgs all count wonder fully. Above all try to get for your selves at least a half-hour daily of absolute seclusion, Neither the selfish pursuit nor too generous giving of pleasure should be allowed to deprive week. you of that. The earlier in the day the better. Just before or just after break lie, went to Gilead, Friday and refast is a good time. Use it for read ng turned home Sunday.

A Warning to Mothers:

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as raneid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe.
If this does not check the bowels give
