SMITH MUST HANG

Ex-Confederates to Fire Salute for Roosevelt.

Mexican and Confederate War Veterans to Parade Before President. Judge Purnell Decides New Question on Homestead Owners Outside State.

Special to Journal:

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—Governor Glenn declines to further interfere with the execution at Marshall of Peter Smith, white, aged 64, convicted of rape. The Governor says he believes the statement of Smith's victim her evidence being fully corroborated and he has no doubt of Smith's guilt. The sheriff is directed to hang Smith Oct. 2nd.

The special committee on the reception of President Roosevelt of which Governor Glenn is chairman, grants the application of Capt. John A. Ramsey, of Salisbury, whose battery fired the salute when President Buchanan visited Raleigh, to fire the salute here to President Roosevelt. Ex-Confederate Artillerymen of Ramsey's old battery will fire the salute from a Confederate cannon. Mexican and Confederate veterans apply for positions in the parade.

Judge Purnell of the U. S. District court has filed a decision in the case of D. A. Owings, bankrupt, from Craven county. He decides a bankrupt is not entitled to a homestead in lands owned by him outside of the State. Owings claimed a homestead in Maryland. It is the first time this question has ever arisen.

High Praise For Corinne Runkel.

The Corinne Runkel Stock Co which appears at the New Masonic Opera House next week in repertoire is meeting with immense success as will be attested by the following clipping from the News and Observer of the 29th inst:

"The News and Observer said that the Corinne Runkel Stock Company deserved 'standing room only' audiences, and last night the theatre going public of Raleigh showed its appreciation of the splendid plays being given by this most clever company and every seat in the Academy of Music was occupied, while many stood in order to witness the play. Early in the night the sign 'Standing Room Only' was hung over the ticket office window.

"The play of last night was 'Uncle Josh' or 'The Old Homestead' and it was presented in a most admirable manner, in fact in a manner superior to many companies making a specialty of plays of 'The Old Homestead' class. In it 'Uncle Josh' was something of a natural being, not the idiotic guy and caricature thought by some companies to be a true picture of a man from the country. The play had the home spirit to it, and in parts was indescribably humorous. The great audience enjoyed it and there was much applause, all of it deserved, the lively specialties coming in for a full share.

"The company is an all-round good one, way in the lead of any popular price company ever showing here, and at the matinee today and the closing performance tonight deserve packed houses. The bill this afternoon will be 'A Man of Mystery,' a stirring melodrama, and tonight 'Little Tampa' which won so much praise here at the previous visit of the Corinne Runkel Company. Popular prices are the rule but never such performances have been seen in Raleigh before at these figures as those given by this company.

It dells the myths of Father time drives away wrinkles of approaching old age—the elixir of life, that puts hope in the human heart—Holters Rocky Mountain Tea. 25 cents. Tea or Tablets F S Duffy.

School Notes.

At a meeting of the school board on June 5, 1905 all former regulations in regard to pay pupils were repealed and the following rule was adopted for all pupils who live outside of the city limits:

"Pupils living outside of the corporate limits of the city shall pay tuition as follows:

1st and 2nd Grades—$1.00.
3rd, 4th and 5th Grades—$1.50.
7th, 8th, 9th and 10th Grades—$2.00.

All tuition shall be due and payable in advance to the Superintendent during the first week of each month.

Any person paying city tax and living outside the city may have the amount of his special city school tax credited on his tuition bill on presentation of his tax receipt.

W. M. WATSON, Secretary.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)

Harking back to the days of their grandmothers, women prominent in Washington have taken up the weaving of rag carpets. Of course the products don't bear the ugly old name. They are called "souvenir rugs." Nor are they made of bits of all sorts of cloth, as in the old days. They are woven from fragments of modern gowns. The pretty daughters of Senator Wetmore of Rhode Island started the fad in Washington, and many girls have succumbed to it, not only daughters of resident families, but some who are only temporarily in the national capital. It is said the craze is strongest among aristocratic old Washingtonians, who look down from inaccessible heights upon the passing throng brought thither by politics and who turn a cold shoulder on the newly rich. Their mansions are rich in relics and poor in modern carpets and the where-withal to buy them.

Visit of the Rechabites. A meeting of the Washington members of the Independent Order of Rechabites was recently held here and arrangements were made for the reception of visiting delegates and past representatives to the forty-ninth annual session of the high tent; to be held in this city commencing Oct. 10. The high chief ruler of the order, John G. Moore, is a resident of the capital.

Waste of City Water.

The city has a new filtration plant in operation which has been several years in building. Water from it is turned into the mains, but not enough greatly to influence the supply. It has been discovered that the very day the plant is finally completed it will not handle so much water as the city with its natural growth of population and business is then likely to want and that the clean water will have to be supplemented all the time by a certain amount which has not been run through the filtration plant. This is very disappointing. The trouble here lies in the frightful waste of water through lack of meters.

A strong opposition against the measuring of water always shows itself in congress, even though the plan proposed be to give at the regular minimum charge a quantity sufficient for all ordinary household uses and needs and to let the extra cost dependent on the measuring begin only after that limit has been passed. But for the activity of those who had meters to sell this sentiment would have been irresistible. A small appropriation is now available for the introduction of meters, but the movement must proceed quietly. The privilege of letting water pipes leak year in and year out and of tolerating defective plumbing many people regard as among the inalienable rights of an American citizen, with which the law should not try to interfere. But unless there is some such interference the filtration plant, completed at a huge cost, will perform but slight service.

Progress of Union Station Work. It will be eighteen months, if not two years, Engineer Hunt predicts, before the union station is ready for occupancy, although steady progress is being made. Foundations for the station are nearly all completed and a large amount of the steel framing and granite and brick work of the super structure is in place.

The Surgeon General's Library. The government printing office is completing the tenth volume of an index catalogue for the office of the surgeon general, this being the second series of the same import. An idea of the size and complexity of the library of the surgeon general is derived from the statement that there have been twenty-six large volumes of index catalogues published, and it is said that by the time the present series is completed there will be sufficient material on hand for a third series.

Speaking of the character and scope of the surgeon general's library, L. C. Ferrell, superintendent of public documents, said that this collection of books was undoubtedly the largest and most complete of its kind in the United States and probably the most up to date, if not the largest, in the world. The medical museum is not only the home of this wonderful medical library, but the depository of a great number of specimens of interest to the medical fraternity, said to be the largest collection in this country.

New Rifle Range. The range of the National Capital Rifle and Revolver club, an organization that was chartered early in the spring, is now ready for business. It is located at Congress heights.

It is the club's purpose to revive the interest in rifle work, which has long been dormant here for lack of proper facilities, especially 200 yard shooting work and revolver shooting at fifty yards. Trap shooting will also be a feature if the members desire it. It is purely a civilian club, open to all, and has already on its rolls the names of a number of prominent business and professional men, as well as many of the best shots of the national guard and metropolitan police force. Any rifle or revolver may be used, as with such a club there is no ground for restriction, as only the pleasure of its members is to be served.

A FEW more of the latest style, Ball-bearing Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines at greatly reduced prices, for spot cash. Also a full line of Revolvers, Guns, Rifles, Revolvers, Cartridges, Loaded Shells, Edison Phonographs and Records, Columbia Graphophones and Records, Victor Talking Machines and Disc Records, Gramophones, Star and Van Lee Safety Razors, Wm. T. Hill, 61 Middle Street.

Moore Incendiary Case Postponed. N. C. Booklet. Valuable to Students.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—The Moore case, in which the defendant is charged with burning the plant of the Standard Oil Company here, after robbery and murder, is postponed from this term of the Superior court to the January term at the request of the defendant. By that time the State will get more evidence and will probably have in custody other persons wanted for the triple crime.

The last number of the North Carolina Booklet is perhaps best ever issued and is of great value to the student. It contains articles by Charles Johnson of Raleigh, Secretary of State Bryan Grimes and Rev. Hight C. Moore, the first on the old Capitol at Raleigh, second Colonial History and third North Carolina poets.

The State Superintendent announces that there were received from the Peabody fund last year the following sums: "for public schools $2,000, colored normals $1,600, the Greensboro $1,000, Summer schools $2,000, and that there was on hand from the previous year $450, the total being $7,050. There was disbursed for local tax public schools $21,000, colored normals $750, summer schools for whites $1167, total $5017. The balance on hand is promised as follows: $350 to public schools, $850 to colored normals and $1882 to summer schools.

Death of W. H. Griffin.

The friends of Mr. William H. Griffin were greatly pained and shocked to learn of his death which occurred about six o'clock last evening. He had been ill with typhoid fever for about two weeks but it was believed that his strong and rugged constitution would enable him to recover his health is due time.

He was born in Rocky Mount 54 years ago and has been a resident of New Bern several years. He has at different times been employed by the Atlantic Coast Line and the Atlantic & North Carolina railroads. Lately he has been connected with a company manufacturing concrete blocks. He is survived by the widow, two sons and two daughters.

The remains will be taken to Rocky Mount for burial tomorrow morning.

A Valuable Little Book of Interest to All Women Sent Free.

Every woman looks forward with feelings of indescribable joy to the one event in her life, compared with which all others pale into insignificance. How proud and happy she will be when her precious babe nestles on her breast—how sweet the name of "Mother." And yet her happy anticipation is clouded with dread of the ordeal, so that it is impossible to avoid the feeling of constant fear. The danger and suffering attendant upon being a mother can be entirely prevented, so that the coming of the little stranger need not be looked forward to with fear and trembling. Every woman who reads this paper can obtain absolutely free a valuable and attractive little book entitled "Motherhood," by sending her name and address to the Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga. This book contains priceless information to all women, and no one should fail to send for it.
