The Constitutional Amendment, Says Governor Glenn.

Governor Asked to Speak in Maryland Suffrage Campaign: Bethel Flag, W. C. T. U. Convention Ends.

Raleigh, Oct. 4.—Governor Glenn is urged to go Maryland and make speeches in the Suffrage campaign there. He is asked to speak October 12, and again later. The Governor has informed the committee that after President Roosevelt's visit here he will consider the matter of going there to speak. In the letter to the Governor, the question was asked what was the condition of North Carolina since the Constitutional Amendment limiting the Suffrage had gone into effect. The Governor in reply said that it was better than ever before in history of the State and that he did not believe any self-respecting democrat or republican desired to see a return to an old condition of affairs. He said good had been done both to political parties. That the republicans were getting in better shape and that matters were coming to such a condition that later on it would be simply a question of which two parties would be chosen, both of them having merit, and the negro question being entirely eliminated. The Governor had talked to prominent republicans who expressed themselves as well satisfied with the amendment and its results, among them Judges Pritchard and Boyd.

The following rural free delivery routes are established: Cedar Grove, John E. Toler, carrier, Cherryville, John W. Quinn; Mooresboro, L. W. Green; Shelby, O. J. McFarland.

Among today's arrivals were C. B. Watson, of Winston-Salem and E. E. McKethan of Fayetteville. The latter brought to your correspondent the flag of the Bethel Regiment; not the flag which the Regiment carried in the first battle of the war, but the one which was made for and presented to it when it was re-organized in the autumn of 1861, after its six months term of service had ended. The flag is in very bad condition but is on the original staff. The flag which the Regiment carried at Bethel has been in the possession of the State a number of years and is in the Hall of History where the flag brought by Mr. McKethan was placed today.

The case of Gattis-Kilgo in the Supreme court is postponed until tomorrow.

The State convention of the W. C. T. U. ended today. There was a scripture lesson and prayer by Mrs. Elizabeth Turner of Asheville, followed by reports of division superintendents.

The Origin of the Clansman.

The story of how "The Clansman" came to be written ought to be of interest at this time as the play is announced for presentation in this city at New Masonic Opera House next Monday night. Thomas Dixon, Jr., the author, while the guest of Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina, heard of a North Carolinian who killed a negro soldier who had insulted a white woman on a train. The negro's companion leaped from the car, summoned his comrades, and marched to the depot, where the train was standing. The defender of the woman's honor had gotten off, however, but another white man was arrested, charged with the killing, and after a hurried drum-head court-martial was sentenced to be shot.

When the man who did the shooting heard the news he promptly surrendered to the black troops and was executed. A monument was recently raised to his memory. Mr. Dixon was so deeply impressed with the tale that he wrote out of it the story of "The Clansman."—A. P. N.

Wamble Flag.
There is a queer twist of language in the phrase "to set honorable flag." The word "wamble" is a corrupted form of the original "wamble," which is an obsolete part of the ceremony of a deer and would make very poor pie. The words "wamble pie" have the same original meaning as "to set crew," a phrase common in political life. There is an authorized familiarity in this process, and the change from "wamble" to "wamble" introduced a thought which harmonized with the line sought to be expressed. The last form of the phrase has entirely supplanted the original.

Smith-Taylor.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Taylor on Hancock street was the scene of a very pretty wedding last night when their daughter, Miss Ellinger Lovick, and Mr. Frederick Crist Smith were joined in matrimony in the presence of a large number of guests. The ceremony took place under a handsome bamboo trimmed arch placed in the bay window of the parlor.

A bank of ferns and bamboo which was surmounted by a figure of a dove holding a wedding bell was also a part of the decorations of the house.

The bridal party were led to the altar by the ushers, Messrs Cecil Taylor and Wallace Smith; Mr. Luther Barfoot acting as best man and Miss Bertha Wooten as maid of honor. The groomsmen were Mr. Carl Taylor, a brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Fannie Smith, sister of the groom.

Master Thomas Lee Taylor and Miss Mabel Taylor were ring bearer and ribbon girl.

The entry of the bridal party was announced by the wedding marches played by Miss Annie Hardison, during the ceremony Beethoven's marriage song "Hearts and Flowers" was sung. Rev. J. P. Noe, pastor of St. Pauls Episcopal church at Beaufort officiated.

The bride was attractively attired in white silk crepe voile trimmed and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Wooten wore a gown of white organdie over pink and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

After the ceremony a very pleasant reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor at which delicious refreshments were served; Misses Lottie and Mamie Caffrey of Beaufort, Lena Sanford and Annie Hardison waited on the guests in the dining room. Miss Mamie Caffrey sang at the reception with very pretty effect "My Hearts Long Dream of You."

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are occupying a handsome and comfortable home on Metcalf street. Mr. Smith is the popular and efficient electrician for the Western Electric Co., formerly the Home Telegraph & Telephone Co., and Miss Taylor is well and favorably known in musical circles, having been pianist at the opera house for several seasons.

A large circle of friends join in wishing them all that a propitious fortune can bestow upon them.

Simmons & Howell Opening

The autumn season was in full evidence in the woodland scene in the decorations at Simmons & Howell's millinery opening yesterday. Nature's plants were arranged in a most novel display, arches made of trailing bamboo extended the whole length of the room, terminating in a half wheel, the spokes being covered in bamboo, Pines, ferns and brown and red autumn leaves consisted of the other decorations.

The display of numbers of beautiful hats was under the direction of Misses LaFrance and Stanley of Springfield, Mass. The prevailing shades for the coming season are plum, Alice blue, mouse green, greys, and eel and brown combinations, the popular shapes being the Katie Berry Sailor, Johnny Jones Turban, Shovel hats and Feather turbans.

Among the most noticeable pretty ones was a plum velvet hat narrow to the front, flare back finished with three large plums, shades from dark to light plum, a butter collar made of narrow lace afforded a dash of color and finished on the sides with ribbon bows of gold and violets. A pretty lavender turban beaver tam turned in the back and trimmed with shirred roses and roses was very much admired. An odd and chic little hat was the shovel turban plateau green bound with black velvet finished with small red roses and black rosettes. The Katie Barry sailor is made of black velvet with stiff black velvet bows with buckle and three pairs of black wings. The Johnny Jones turban is a neat little black taffeta hat with band of velvet for coronet wings to the sides and across the back is three distinct loops of velvet finished with small buckles and a bunch of black velvet forms the band.

The dress goods in the store was tastefully arranged for display.
