JOHN PAUL JONES.

to His Time Easily the Most Con-There were naval heroes before Paul ones, and so long as the sea dominates the land they will not become extinct. But up to his time he was easily the most conspicuous of his class, so far as history has sushriped them. In the tays when gather ranged alongside galicy or the viking ship locked oars with its enemy to a band to hand struggle to the death courage and resource of the Paul Jones order may not have been so uncommon. But fighting ships grew larger, and the new factors of sail power and caunon range curtailed the field of personal prowess. Up to that time no sailor could know surely that he was whipped before he was killed, but in the days of the frigates a quarter leck here had at his disposal in every fight a fariety of theidents and results from which he might deduce a respectable reason for giving up his ship. During 300 years the sailors of the ontinental navies that encountered the British on the seas had uniformly been quicker at that mental deduction than their more stubborn foe until the English heart of oak had come to be thought invincible. Paul Jones shattered precedent not only by combining the classic method with the new, but, for a greater wonder, by putting the onus of surrender on the English when, by every time honore! test and rule, e ought to have accepted the role of a chivalrous prisoner. On the continent his skill and cours se everywhere gained him the prestige of a hero, while the fact that he had "humbled the British lion" placed him with Hercules among the demigods. To the English he was merely a notoriously offensive rebel and pirate, and after his fame had seen drowned in the tidal wave of the French revolution and the Napoleonic wars even his own people allowed their admiration to be colored by the English estimate. But no patriotic sailor ever carried mself straighter as to his authorit or earned his fame more bonestly than Paul Jones. He belonged to the faction which included Washington, Franklin, Robert Morris, Alexander Hamilton and Lafayette, men who, with their followers, endured some stings from the rear, but have since shared nearly all the glory. Because in character, ability and deeds Paul Jones was a worthy associate of those immortal patriots his body will be placed in the crypt of the new chapel at the Navas scademy, whose teachings he virtually began, and his fame will live and grow as long as genius, valor and love of freedom are cherished.—Century.

The Ultra Microscope. One of the most recent scientific triumphs is the ultra microscope, which consists in the application to the microscope of highly concentrated artificial light by the aid of powerful lenses and prisms. The result is so greatly to increase the magnifying sower that millions of particles litherto beyond the range of the microscope are rendered visible. The ultra microscope, too, has revealed, among other things, new and strange living creatures moving about in a drop of human blood. By the old form of microscope only inactive microscopic matter could be photographed. Any activity, unless very slow, was lost altogether. Even the very slow movements caused blur-rings. Under the new microscope bacteria of all sizes stand clearly revealed, with their slightest movements.

A SUGGESTION

To The People of New Bern.

The articles appearing in some our leading publications have created a good dead of discussion in New Bern Jesse George, Julyan Gibbs, H W Gan- in regard to advertised medicines, their reliability and power to cure, and as a local druggist, I, F. S. Duffy, want to say to the people of New Bern that I believe one of the most reliable medicines that we have known in our drug experience, extending over a long period, is Vinol, the cod liver preparation, made without oil.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; everything in it is printed on the back label of every bottle, and it actually does contain in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil taken from fresh cods' livers, and without a drop of the system-clogging oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and this is why it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

Inasmuch as Vinol is therefore the atest scientific improvement of an old and standard remedy it is the greatest strength creator in the worll for old geople, weak, sickly wo nengand chilr.m, nursing mothers and after a severe sickness. It cures hacking coughs chronic colds and all pulmonary trou bles. We positively guarantee to return money if it fails." F. S. Duffy, Druggist.

Isn't This Absolutely True?

Nothing ever become popula -! ere or in any other country-without a rea-must have, or they would not be popuwonderful character if their popularity increases with time.

As with men, so with goods. So with any article that is on the market. It cannot increase its sales, it cannot be adopted as a standard article it cannot survive generations unless it has real, inherent merit. Millions of dollars spent in advertising any article without merit, are just wasted, so far as continued sales are concerned. Intelligent housekeepers cannot be compelled to buy what they do not approve of.

That much is a self-evident fact. It annot be gainsaid. But it telis its wn story of Lion Coffee and its quality-a coffee that has been the leader of all package coffees for more than a quarter of a century, that has steadily grown in the affections of millions of American homes since its first introductior, long, long ago.

Its unexcelled flavor, perfect purity and ur i 'orm qua j:y; its abaolute cle: . liness and neat appearance, has eneared it to the hearts of the peo-those who drink coffee ought to know much more about quality than they who Insist on Lion Coffee, buy no loose coffee (is bulk)- you don't know what ou get. How can your grocer?
