

Your CHILD and the Croup Danger

The Danger Loses all its Terrors When You Have This Marvelous Remedy at Your Hand

Any night your little one may awaken with the croup. Death clutches tightly on the tender throat. And you—-are helpless. Be prepared. Keep a bottle of Gowan's Pneumonia Cure in your room. A moment's brisk rubbing on the throat and chest, and you have the croup under control. In a few moments the healing liquids have driven the cold out; the child is cured, as suddenly as croup comes.

GOWAN'S PNEUMONIA CURE is an external, safe, harmless, sure cure. Ask for Gowan's Pneumonia Cure at any drug store. Regular size, $1.00. Croup size, 25c. Sent by mail, if desired. Gowan Medical Co., Durham, N. C.

Read a Father's Letter
"Your remedy is truly a God-send to humanity. We have used it in our family for the past year, and only last night our baby had an attack of croup. We at once applied Gowan's Pneumonia Cure, and in fifteen minutes our child was fast asleep, and this morning is quite well. We do not feel safe without the Cure in the house, and we recommend all people to get it and use it promptly.—J. D. GUSTAF, Sandford, N. C."

STATE ENCAMPMENT

Board of Officers on Tour to Select Site.

Governor's Dates for Speaking.—Marriage Invitation Issued.—Prof. Massey to Leave.—Walls of Catholic Orphanage Falling.—Thanksgiving Proclamation to be Read in Schools.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—The State National Guard Board of officers met at Goldsboro today and went to Morehead City to inspect the site offered there for the permanent encampment grounds and then goes to Writtsville to make a similar inspection of the land there offered. Among the members of the Board are Generals Armfield, Robertson and Mason and Colonels Ludlow, Graig Bragaw and others. The work will be finished this week. Adjutant General Robertson says the bid of Asheville came in too late and will not be considered on this account.

The State Historical Commission has begun the work of copying the letter books of the Governors. The oldest letter books are private property, being that of Governor Pollock, from 1768 to 1776. Part of this has been copied and printed, but only a very small part. The writing is very quaint indeed, and very hard to decipher, owing to the difference of the shape of several of the letters.

Mention has been made of the fact that General Carl A. Woodruff, U. S. A., retired, retires from his position at military headquarters. It is a pleasure to know that he will continue to reside at Raleigh.

Governor Glenn has cancelled his engagement to speak at Wake Forest College Sunday, to the class of Prof. Carlye, owing to the fact that the President's child is quite sick.

Col. and Mrs. Charles Earl Johnson of Raleigh has issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Mary Wilson, to Mr. Frank Masten Kimbark of Forty-Seventh Brevoort Place, New York City. The date is December 6, at 9:30 p. m. at Christ Church here. Col. and Mrs. Johnson will receive from 10 o'clock until midnight that evening at their residence. Mr. and Mrs. Kimbark will be at home in New York after January 1st.

Tomorrow Prof. W. F. Massey and all the members of his family except two, will leave for Philadelphia, where he will devote himself entirely to editorial work, of which during the past few years he has done a great deal. One daughter will remain here, as the stenographer to Secretary Richard P. Lewis of the State Board of Health, and a son, who is a cadet at the A. & M. College.

The walls of the burned building at Roman Catholic Orphanage here are falling. Father Price, who has charge of the orphanage is making a study of plans for a new building, and he is very much pleased with the design of the old State school for the white blind here, when it was two stories high. It is probable that a structure of that kind, in the form of an E will replace the burned one, being only two stories in height while the one destroyed was four stories.

Governor Glenn today sent for Supt. James McKee of Central Hospital for insane here and talked with him about the new building for women which is in course of construction there. The Governor directed Dr. McKee to push the work on this new wing with all possible dispatch and informed him that he desired it completed at the very earliest moment possible. Governor told him when the work was done he would look after furnishing of the building. Governor remarked to your correspondent that the construction of this building would greatly relieve the present congestion. He then went on to speak about the insane, announced that tomorrow he would make public an address to the people of the State on this subject. He stated that he would deal with this most important question on the subject of the insane most clearly and distinctly.

It is the Governor's wish that his Thanksgiving Proclamation shall be read in all the schools of the State. He is a very devout and earnest Christian and in speaking today about an address which he will deliver next Sunday to the students at Wake Forest College he said that he would urge young men not to be ashamed to be Christians. Not only young men but old ones have this fault, this false and terrible sort of shame.

The Governor orders a special term of the Superior court of Sampson to begin January 3, Judge Shaw to preside.

It was announced yesterday that the Governor had selected December 14th as the date for the address which he will deliver before the North Carolina Association in Baltimore. He today decided to change the date to the 10th, the selection of the time having been left to him.

State Superintendent Joyner will make a speech in the interest of local taxation for schools at North Carolina Association in Baltimore.

INSPECTION PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

By State Board Internal Improvements. Report Will Be Made to Governor.

Raleigh, Nov. 25.—The State Board of Internal Improvements has inspected the hospital for the insane at Morganton and Goldsboro and will devote much of December and January and perhaps part of February to visiting other institutions, aided by the State, there being in all about 15 of these. The report will not be made to the governor by the two members of the board who inspect until all the work is completed. The Governor has full power to adopt all such recommendations as are made by the board, as under the new law he has authority to do what it recommends. It is under this law that the governor has power to order the completion and equipment for the new building for the insane at Raleigh. The interests of the State in this direction are in the keeping of the board and the governor has full power to protect the State's interest. The board is going to make a very thorough inspection of all institutions, in a systematic way, and can do so in the freest manner, having no connection with any of these. It has no hostility, of course, to any institution. The statement is made that there are about 3,000 insane in the State, and the making of provisions for these is one of the gravest questions. The governor today gave to the press a letter to the people of the State in which he goes fully into this very important matter.

GATTIS LOSES HIS CASE.

One of the Most Celebrated Cases in History of State. Great Interest in Decision.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—The Supreme Court after four hearings, finally disposes of the notable libel and damage suit of Rev. T. J. Gattis against Rev. Dr. John C. Kilgo, professor of Trinity College, and Ben Duke one of its trustees. The suit was for fifty thousand dollars damages. Chief Justice Clark did not sit in the case. The majority of the court finds that there is no evidence of malice as to Duke, and no evidence that Kilgo took part in the publication in the newspapers of his (Kilgo's) speech at a trustees meeting, which speech caused the suit. The court is equally divided as to whether Kilgo was actuated by malice by printing pamphlets containing his speech, in which Gattis was criticised. Gattis therefore loses his suit and therefore one of the most interesting cases on record in North Carolina ends.

BOY DROWNED AT JAMES CITY

Willie Rogerson, 17 Years Old Meets Death in The Waters of Trent.

A drowning accident occurred yesterday morning about half past seven in which Willie, son of Capt. W. H. Logerson, of Newport, formerly a cadet of the A. & N. C. Railway, was the victim. The boy was employed on the tug Parkins, Capt. Edmund Parkins, which had pulled up to the dock of Blades mill in James City, with an empty flat to receive a load of lumber. Shortly before half past seven Capt. Parkins says that he told the boy to fasten the flat to a post in the river, and he supposed the boy went to obey his orders. The captain went about his other work and no attention was paid to Willie.

The boy was not missed for a considerable time, perhaps nine o'clock or later. Seeing his hat on the water the men looked to see if Rogerson was around but he could not be found. It was then learned that the flat had not been fastened. The lat being seen near the flat, circumstances seem to indicate that possibly he went to comply with Capt Parkins' orders and fell overboard and was drowned.

Search for the body was commenced at once but it is feared that a great deal of difficulty will be experienced in recovering it as the place where the accident occurred is full of sunks logs and the chances are that the body will become wedged in them. While no one can tell the exact circumstances, nobody having seen the accident there is little doubt but that he was drowned. He was about 17 years old.

Saloon Interests Close

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—The Supreme Court sustained the position of a majority Raleigh Aldermen and dismissed the mandamus issued by Judge Justice in the Superior Court to compel the aldermen to order an election on the question of saloons or dispensaries. Judge Clark delivered opinion of the court. Justice Brown and Walker dissented.

The majority of the court holds that as the amended action requires that the voter must have paid poll tax on or before May 1, in the election year, also it requires that any one whose signature to a petition for an election is to be a voter, must have met both of these requirements.

THE CLAM'S NECK.

Purpose and Characteristics of This Organ of the Invertebrate.

Persons who have seen soft shell clams as they lay in a pan in the kitchen preparatory to being cooked, scarcely recognize them in their natural state. Many of us who have seen clams know that they have "necks," but are ignorant of the purpose and characteristics of this attachment. As they lie on the ground they are far from being close mouthed. In fact, they are open to the neck with the shell closed. From one end projects the "neck," which may be three times as long as the shell when fully extended. This fact, in case the "neck" is stretched out, makes one wonder how such a length can be contracted into such a small space and how much remains in the shell after the "neck" has been elongated. This is the astonishing characteristic of the soft shelled clam and the one that makes him unrecognizable to so many people. One of the clams, for instance, is three inches long. His "neck" when extended is possibly eight or nine inches long and as large around as a man's middle finger.

As every one knows, the clam when in its native haunts is to be found several inches below the surface of the sand. He has to be dug up when discovered by the little spurs of water which the clam breathes throws up when disturbed.

This "neck" connects the clam with his food supply in the water above. In the "neck" are parallel tubes. Through one tube the clam sucks in a quantity of water. From the water he absorbs whatever nourishment it may contain and then expels the water through the other tube.

One may wonder how the clam gets into the sand or mud. At the end opposite the "neck" may be seen an opening resembling a hair's tail in shape and called a foot. It is with the foot that he digs his way downward.

Carl Schurz's School-Days.

Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences" running in McClure's, tell in the December number of the soldier-statesman's school-days in Germany. His teachers, the methods of his education, his school-fellows, his reading all of the awakening and developing influence under which he came, are described with an unconscious tenderness of recollection which gives rare charm to the story. Carl Schurz is the type of fighting idealist whose triumph seems at hand in the awakening of political and financial morals that is the order of the day all over the land.

The environment and educational methods which produced a character of Schurz's conspicuous worth is a bit of human history of great importance in itself, but it is the story Schurz tells that makes the narrative good reading. It is a panorama of a simple noble boyhood full of earnest endeavor, and lofty purpose, tempered by just a modicum of lovable human weaknesses.
