Have Notable Meeting And Banquet

The Smith Murder Case Again Up For Hearing.

Christian Brotherhood Insurance Company. Colored Organization. Agricultural Building Entirely Completed.

Raleigh, Nov. 28.—Last night was a notable occasion for the Junior Order United American Mechanics, no less than 370 members from six lodges in this county being present, and 51 candidates being initiated, among them being Governor Glenn, Major Johnson, President Brown of the Citizens National Bank and other well known citizens. Members of the order report that the affair was very enjoyable indeed.

City Editor Willis G. Briggs of the Raleigh Times presided at the meeting, which was followed by a banquet. One of the features was a speech by Governor Glenn, who made a plea for the Bible in every public school house and said he would ask the legislature to see that the Bible was placed in every school. The Governor declared that no person was fit to teach in a public school who would not read in it a chapter from the Bible and offer a prayer. All the State officers are now members of this order. Next Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Alfred Moment will preach a sermon to the order in the Presbyterian church.

On Friday there will be a hearing, if Solicitor Armistead Jones gets here in time and if certain witnesses for the State can be had in the matter of Bob Lilliston, the fakir who, together with Harry Clark is in jail on the charge of murder in the first degree for shooting Charles G. Smith of Petersburg, in the Union passenger station here the day after the last State Fair ended. It was at first stated by an attorney for Lilliston that no effort would be made to procure bail under habeas corpus proceedings, but application has been made to Justice Walker in habeas corpus proceedings, and he sets the hearing for 10 o'clock Friday morning. It is asserted by attorneys for these men that the charge against them is really not murder, but manslaughter. There is a report of a case, recently tried in the English courts, almost exactly similar to this in which both men were sent to prison for long terms, as it was known that one or the other had killed a man, though it was not definitely known which one of the two had done the deed. A good deal of evidence has been taken in this much talked of case already, though it is hinted that a lot of it has never yet been developed.

The Insurance Commissioner has approved of the charter of the Christian Brotherhood Insurance Company, a colored organization, mutual and with no capital stock, with headquarters at Washington, N. C.

The new agricultural building at the A. & N. C. College here is now entirely completed and is ready to be turned over to the Board of Agriculture, which is the Board of Trustees of the college. This board meets next week, and its building committee will inspect the structure and report upon it. It is necessarily one of the most beautiful of all the State's public buildings and is very greatly admired. The total cost of the building, with the equipment is about $20,000. A good deal of machinery has been made a gift to the college for this building.

Ikey and Abey Monday Night

Ikey and Abey which appear at the opera house Monday night, December 4, is as the names imply a side splitting, roof-reading Helene comedy. There is no doubt but that the actors who take the Jew role are as clever comedians in that line of work as there are on the stage. He have selected a strong company having a large and useful chorus together with all that goes to make a successful rollicking merry show. Beautiful costumes and attractive stage settings add to the brilliancy of the play.

FEDERAL COURT DOCKET

Will Occupy Time Until Christmas at Raleigh. Moonshine Cases Increasing.

Raleigh, Nov. 28.—In an interview with United States District Attorney, Harry Skinner, regarding the term of the Federal district court, soon to begin here, he said that the docket was very heavy and that it would occupy the court until about Christmas. There are a number of post office cases, some robberies, some for embezzlement, and others for opening letters. There are a few counterfeiting cases, but none of marked importance. The moonshining docket is very heavy indeed. When the question was asked Colonel Skinner if moonshining was increasing his reply was that it certainly was if detection and prosecution are an index. Then asked what would be the most interesting case on the docket he said that one against deputy revenue collector Downing and Stancill would be, if that came up at this term. These two officers are indicted in Duplin county, on the charge of shooting and killing a moonshiner. Last Saturday the grand jury there returned a true bill against them. The case will, of course be transferred to the Federal court. In this court it will be the duty of the attorney general to defend and of the State solicitor, Armistead Jones, Esq., to prosecute. Some weeks ago, directly after the man was killed, revenue agent Chapman went to Duplin and made an investigation. His report was of course sent to revenue commissioner Yorks, and it will be made public at the trial of the men who are thus charged with murder.

Oyster Festival at Bridgeton

The members of the Bridgeton M. E. church are going to give a grand oyster festival on Thanksgiving Day at Bridgeton, from 9 to 5 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend and help these worthy people in their efforts to complete their church. Mr. C. A. Ryman will furnish the oysters. A pleasant time is promised to all who attend.

Christmas Suggestions.

For Gentlemen—A Kodak, shaving set, scarf pin, cuff buttons, watch chain, silver handle pocket knives, hat brush, military brushes and nail files in silver case for pocket. It is the part of wisdom to have your selection put up for you before the rush is on, and to remember how hard it is to get anything engraved later on.

The Delineator For December.

For colorwork, presswork and general beauty and usefulness, the December Delineator is conspicuous among the Christmas magazines. Eight paintings by J. C. Leyendecker, illustrating and interpreting the Twenty-third Psalm, is the most extensive color feature of the number, but a painting by Alphonse Mucha, accompanying a poem, "The Mother of Bartsimeus," by Theodosia Garrison, is fully as notable as an art work. The short fiction of the number comprises stories by Hamlin Garland, John Luther Long, Gilbert Parker, and Alice Brown. The opening chapters of a new serial—a woman's club story—"The President of Queens," are given; it is said to be in the nature of a reply to "The Evolution of a Club Woman," which created great interest in the magazine last year. A series of illustrated papers under the title, "Some Heroines of Shakespeare—by their Impersonators," also begins in this number with Eleanor Robson on Juliet.

DRINK

Bars Men from Employment

Every line of business is beginning to shut its doors absolutely to drinking men. Business competition has become so keen that only men of steadfast habits can find employment.

Employers do not want men that are addicted to drink. A drinking man is not in fit condition to handle responsible work. Continued drinking dissolves the nervous system. No "will power" can cure; treatment is necessary.

Progress of the 15 Cent Campaign

New Orleans, Nov. 28.—"With producer and consumer now fully aware that practically famine conditions are destined to prevail before another crop of Amer can cotton can be available, there is nothing at all remarkable in the prompt and sweeping response Mr. Jordan has had to his call for pledges to hold cotton for 15 cents," is the way an observant cotton man puts the case. Mr. Jordan in a published interview asserts that farmers all over the South are sending in pledges by mail and by wire so fast that his clerical force in the Atlanta office of the Southern Cotton Association has fallen behind in its work of counting and assorting them, and additional clerks had to be employed. Originally Mr. Jordan expected to secure these pledges through the personal solicitation of canvassers to be put out from the various State headquarters and from Atlanta, but before canvassers could be sent to the field, the mails and the telegraph has brought pledges for hundreds of thousands of bales, and still they come. This is but one of the many evidences of the value to the farmer of organization. For many years the spinners profited immensely through concert of action and gained advantage over the unorganized farmers which they cannot but enjoy under present day conditions.
