THANKSGIVING DAY.

Expressions From the State Officers Giving Reasons for its Observance. Strong Opinions of North Carolinians.

Raleigh, Nov. 29.—Your correspondent asked each of the State officers for a few Thanksgiving words to the people of North Carolina. The replies are as follows: "Governor Glenn: We have so much to be thankful for in the way of health, peace and prosperity in this grand commonwealth of ours that I hope the people will show their gratitude in a proper way, by going to church Thanksgiving Day and returning their thanks for such a multitude of blessings."

Secretary of State Grimes: "The people of North Carolina have just cause to congratulate themselves on the progress their State has made during the twelve months. Peace and contentment and a certain amount of prosperity are found in every section of the State. We have cause to feel pride in our educational growth during the year, it being second to that of no other State, while our industrial growth has been marvelous. Our agricultural development is gratifying. Our people are more and more raising their own supplies and making cotton and tobacco money crops."

Treasurer Lacy: "We certainly have cause to rejoice. Our State is more prosperous than ever before in all its long history."

Auditor Dixon: "It has been a wonderful year for the people of the State, industrially, agriculturally and educationally. I have traveled in all sections of North Carolina and I find a prosperity, contentment and advancement everywhere."

Attorney General Gilmer: The small docket of the Supreme court at this time is an excellent indication that peace and good order have in a large degree prevailed in the State."

State Supt. Joyner: "I am especially thankful for the continued and very market progress of the public schools, the multiplication of better school houses, worthy to be school homes for the children of the State; the increase in the number of local tax districts, the growth of public sentiment for public education and the many manifestations of the determination of our sturdy country people to give their children a chance to acquire education through the public school equal to that of the children in the cities and towns and those of other States and lands."

Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson: "The progress of the State in agricultural improvements has been fully maintained this year. The farmers are awakening, are reading and thinking more and the increase in the circulation of our agricultural literature shows they are applying themselves to better methods of farming and to development along other lines."

Chairman McNeill of the Corporation Commission: "The State has made a steady growth in banking, railway and other developments and our property valuation approximates $450,000,000. The amount of railway exceeds anything done in many years."

Insurance Commissioner Young: "It is a matter of gratitude and thanksgiving that the growth of this department has during the year kept pace with the remarkable prosperity of the State. Our people are better protected as to fire insurance than ever before at lower rates and never have our home companies afforded such protection as at present. The organizations of new companies has marked the year. While people are surprised at revelations regarding certain companies in other States, they can turn with pride and safety to our own companies."

A Gracious Act.

The children of the graded school are taught principles of charity and humanity as well as the studies detailed for their daily work. The Thanksgiving holiday gives them a chance to put in practice the principles of charity and nobly have they shown their instruction.

Every Thanksgiving they have been in the habit of supplying the unfortunate ones with those things which distinguish this day from all others, and causing them to be thankful. After school yesterday several scholars distributed to white families unable to have more than a usual fare such articles for the table as would be luxuries to them.

The act though small in itself is helpful in two ways. While it gives joy and comfort to the receivers it gives to those interested in the distribution, lessons in generosity which will make them happier for the good they have done.

CONFERENCE OPENS.

Sixty-Ninth Session Methodist Meeting Opens at Wilson.

Bishop Wilson Presiding Officer. Sacrament Lord's Supper Administered Before Business Session Opened. Twenty Question Called. Statement of Gattis Case Presented Before Conference.

Special to Journal. Wilson, Nov. 29.—In the M. E. Church, South, at 9:30 o'clock this morning, the North Carolina Annual Conference was called to order in its sixty-ninth session, with Bishop A. W. Wilson in the chair.

In keeping with a resolution passed at the last session of the conference, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered before the business session began. In this service Bishop Wilson was assisted by Revs. E. A. Yates, W. S. Rone, R. A. Willis and J. H. Moore.

The business of the conference began with the calling of the conference roll, which showed a large attendance of members of the conference.

Rev. W. L. Cuninggim was re-elected secretary of the conference. He has served the conference in this capacity for the past thirteen years.

The standing committees were nominated by the presiding elders, and were confirmed by the conference.

The 70th question was called and the characters of the nine presiding elders were passed and they made very encouraging reports of their districts. The characters of the supernumerary and superannuated preachers were passed. When the name of T. J. Gattis was called, his presiding elder, J. H. Moore made the following statement with regard to Mr. Gattis' case, after which his character was passed: "The character of Brother Gattis has been virtually held up since the institution of his suit in the civil courts against Dr. J. C. Kilgo and other members of the M. E. Church, South. We desire to express our condemnation of his course in going to the law with his brethren before he had made any effort to settle the matter complained of in the church; but in consideration of his long service to the church as a minister, his feeble health and the near approach of that tribunal before which we all must stand at last in judgment, I move that his character pass."

The characters of the undergraduates and the pastors on the Raleigh and Durham districts were passed and they submitted their reports.

Rev. T. H. Law, D. D., addressed the conference in the interest of the American Bible Society. Conference adjourned at 1 o'clock with the benediction.

TIME ON LICENSES

Notice From Revenue Collector. Shelter Tents, Personals.

Raleigh, Nov. 29.—Revenue Collector Duncanson is notified by the Commissioner of Revenue that the time on licenses for selling patent medicines is extended from December 1 to April 1 on retail terms.

At the State arsenal shelter tents are being prepared for shipment to the second and third regiments of the North Carolina National Guard. The first regiment was supplied with these tents last year.

Governor Glenn will make a talk to the veterans at the Soldiers Home here on the third Sunday in December. There are now 134 on the roll and 105 are in quarters.

Mrs. Margaret Busbee Shipp, who for several weeks has had diphtheria at her home here, has recovered and was today able to leave her house.

Mrs. Robert B. Glenn and daughter, Miss Rebecca, have gone to their old home, Winston-Salem, for Thanksgiving, and will remain there about ten days.

Superior Court.

The case of Dougherty vs Taylor was ended Tuesday afternoon after a two days trial. The plaintiff was awarded a verdict of $100 damages.

The case of Patterson vs the O. D. S. S. Co., was dismissed on account of the wrong party being mentioned in the pleadings. The Norfolk and Southern Railroad should have been made the defendant and not the Old Dominion Steamship Co. A new suit, has been commenced.

The case of J. H. Fisher, administrator vs the City of New Bern was started yesterday. It is an action for damages arising from the death of the negro Boss Cobb about a year ago, who was killed by an electric current from a broken electric light wire, which the plaintiff alleges that the defendant was negligent in allowing it to be in a dangerous position.

W. W. Clark is attorney for the plaintiff and W. D. McIver and O. H. Guion represent the defense.

Black Patti Next Week.

America's greatest aggregation of Afro-American Theatians will be the attraction at the New Masonic Opera House next Tuesday night.

The exalted standing and reputation of Black Patti, the extraordinary excellence of the Troubadours and the phenomenal success of their performance elsewhere, makes the appearance of this remarkable company of singers, dancers and comedians in this city an event of immense public interest.

Black Patti's lyric triumphs in all the leading music cities of Europe and America are without parallel. She is one of the most popular prima donnas in the world, and has probably sung before the largest and most distinguished audiences that ever assembled to applaud a cantatrice.

She has been the recipient of distinguished honors paid to her by royalty of Europe and nearly every representative musical organization in the United States has acknowledged her wonderful vocal gifts by the presentation of costly medals, diplomas and decorations. In addition to her beautiful voice and exquisite art, nature has endowed her with a bright intellect and queenly form, and if it was not for the accident of race and color, she would undoubtedly attain distinction in grand opera, equal to that enjoyed by Melba, Calve, Albina and the world famous diva after whom she is named.

For ten years she has won fame and glory with the Black Patti Troubadours the most popular band of darkey play-folks ever organized.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

May—Koonce.

The Kinston Free Press of Nov. 25, says:

Trenton Methodist church was the scene of a pretty marriage Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Caroline Koonce became the bride of Mr. Charles Caswell May.

The church was artistically decorated in gold and green. The chancel was massed with a profusion of palms, ferns and blooming plants, in front of which stood an arch of gold chrysanthemums entwined with cedar. The occasion was in every respect a most brilliant one. The superb music and the presence of Trenton society, all lent to the completion of the scene.

At the beginning of Mendelssohn's wedding march the ushers: Messrs. W. H. Haywood and G. C. Heritage, entered, followed by Miss Bertha May, of Kinston, with Mr. J. K. Brock; Miss Mary Humphrey, of Goldsboro, with Mr. F. W. Foscoe; Miss Theo Kinsey with Mr. L. T. Gillette, of Maysville. Then entered the bride accompanied by her sister, Miss Birdie Koonce, a maid of honor, then the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Benjamin Hurst, of New Bern. Rev. F. S. Becton, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony, during which Miss Eunice May, niece of the groom, softly played "Hearts and Flowers."

The bride wore pearl white Japanese silk, hand embroidered, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. The maid of honor wore white silk mullé. The bridesmaids wore white organdie over white silk.

The bridal party marched out at the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. At the conclusion of the marriage a reception was given by Mrs. J. A. Smith, sister of the groom. The invited guests soon assembled and bestowed congratulations and best wishes in the parlors, where the color scheme was white and green. In the library the color scheme was gold, the hall being red. In the dining-room the color scheme being pink and green, a sumptuous dinner was served, consisting of six courses, covers being laid for twenty-four.

After the dinner the bride's cake was cut, the ring falling to the lot of Miss Birdie Koonce, the dime to Mr. F. W. Foscoe, the thimble to Mr. J. K. Brock.

If you are troubled with dizzy spells, headache, indigestion, constipation, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well. It falls, get your money back. That's fair. 30 cents. For sale by F. S. Duffy.
