Choose a letter of the aiphabet-say "D," for instance. Each player, with pencil and paper, is told to write the name of a country, river, mountain city, soldier, artist, writer, musician and statesman, all beginning with the letter "D."

At the end of five minutes the list are closed. One reads the names from his list, and those having the same names on their lists scratch them off. The winner of the contest is the one having the most names not on the lists of the others. The fact of his names being more uncommon shows him to have the greatest knowledge and mem-

History of Earrings. Girls who are fond of earrings may perhaps be interested in hearing a few facts about them. Sad it is for the emancipated woman of the present day to learn that these fashionable ornaments were originally a mark of slavery. In bygone days the slave always wore his master's earrings. In the east they were a sign of caste and were buried with the dead. Some ancient earrings were very elaborate, and many statues had their ears bored in readiness for votive offerings of earrings, says Home Notes.

In our own country the earliest ear rings were very cumbrous and made of stone or wood. The eighteenth century saw the glorification of the earring fashionable beauties outvying each oth er with the rarest and most beautiful

New Bern's proof: L. A. Smith, Superintendent of Crystal Ice Co., 19 Griffith street, residing at 13 Griffith street, says: "I used Doan's Kldney Pills for my kidneys and back. The secretions from the kidneys were all out of sorts, and too frequen were all out of sorts, and too frequent in section. Donn's Kidney Pills stopped all this. My little boy was troubled with a kidney weakness and the secretions were highly colored and full of sediment. I gave him some of the pills and they cleared the secretions up to their natural solar. I cannot but consider Duan's Kidney Pills an excellent kidney cure and to not besitate to say so. I obtained them at Erndham's Pharmacy."

with all sorts of pictures, which the mountaineer gazed at as wonderful. He was the great artist Titian.

An old painter watched a little fellow who amused himself making drawings of his pot and brushes, easel and stool, and said, "That boy will beat me some day." So he did, for he was Michael Angelo.

A German boy was reading a blood and thunder novel. Right in the midst of it he said to himself: "Now, this will never do. I get too much excited over it. I can't study so well after it. So here goes." And he flung the book out into the river. He was Fichte, the great German philosopher.

Floating Needles.

Take greased needles and float them in a basin of water. First lay a piece of tissue paper in the water and put the needle upon it. Soon the paper will become wet and sink, leaving the needle, and it is funny to watch its action. Sometimes it will run into another player's and cling to it in a way that is regarded as prophetic.
