In Memory of W. F. Rountree
 In memory of W. F. Rountree, who served long and faithfully, without pecuniary reward, as a member of the Board of Directors and of the Executive Committee of the Eastern Hospital for the Insane at Goldsboro, N. C. and who retired from the board but a few short weeks before he was called to his eternal reward.
 This writer was appointed by the said board of Directors to prepare a memorial of his services and testimonial of his worth as a man and public officer, which was directed to be spread upon the minutes of the said board and to be published for the guidance and encouragement of all and as a solace to his family and friends. The writer was also directed to embody in the same the sentiments expressed in a memorial prepared by the Supt. of the said hospital, Dr. Jno. F. Miller, and presented by him in his annual report. The said memorial is a full and fitting tribute to our departed friend and collaborer, and I therefore present it below, in full.
 D. E. MCKINNE.

IN MEMORIAM.
 Since our last meeting a former member of your honorable body, Mr. W. F. Rountree, of New Bern, has been called from labor to rest, having suddenly passed away on the night of the 20th of April last from cerebral congestion. Mr. Rountree was the oldest member of our directory, having given nearly twenty-five years of continuous service as a director and much of that time was chairman of our ex-Comm. No State Institution of my knowledge ever had a more faithful and punctual director, having rarely been absent from his duties, and I might say never when it was practicable for him to be present. He was born in Pitt county on the 26th day of June, 1842, and was therefore nearly sixty-three years of age. It is doubtful if the Southern Confederacy ever had a more valiant and courageous soldier, and he was equally courageous and loyal as a soldier of the cross, having been for many years an exemplary member of the Baptist church of New Bern and was also a deacon in the church. He was an exalted member of the Royal Arcanum, having filled the highest place in the order; was also an Odd Fellow and Knight of Honor. In peace and in war and in every relation of life W. F. Rountree was a true man, unwavering in his loyalty to his friends and to every cause he espoused, and throughout a long, useful life he quietly and modestly illustrated the dignity and glory of a stalwart christian manhood. This writer never had a better or truer friend. Peace to his ashes
 J. F. MILLER.

Since the above was prepared we have been suddenly called to mourn the loss of the trusted and beloved Supt. Dr. Miller.
 Such is life.

 Negro Robber Arrested While Asleep. A Number State Charters Granted. Governor in Washington City. Death of Mrs. E. N. Hughes.

Raleigh, Jan. 23.—The State charters the Winston Realty Co., at Winston, the capital stock being $25,000, J. L. Vest, J. P. Hurdle, and W. E. Franklin are stockholders. The Windsor Milliner Co., at Windsor is authorized to begin business with $600 paid in out of a total stock of $50,000, W. P. King, S. C. Bell, and R. R. Holy are incorporators. The Broom Furniture Co., of Salisbury, J. S. Brown, president and N. W. Collett secretary is granted an amendment to charter, producing capital stock from $100,000 to $52,000. On examination by Insurance Commissioner Young a charter is granted to the Independent Order of Good Samaritans of North Carolina to conduct a benefit and relief insurance business, also with ritualistic C. S. L. A. Taylor and others are organizers. The order is mutual.

Governor Glenn who is in Washington City attending the National Guard Association before which body he will today make a speech and will return to the executive office tomorrow night.
 Mrs. Elizabeth N. Hughes, formerly of Norfolk, Va., is dead after an extended illness and was buried here this afternoon. Surviving are a husband W. H. Hughes, Sr., W. H. Hughes, Jr., J. Early Hughes, Miss Ruth E. Hughes of Raleigh; and C. M. Hughes, cashier of the bank of Fayetteville.

Walter Robertson, a young man 22 years old, and the son of James Robertson, a prominent farmer and highly respected citizen of Eagle Rock, is dead from injuries sustained Friday, his neck having been broken while he was assisting with placing a heavy plate in framing a building at his plantation.

A young negro man, giving his name as Jim Johnson, and who has figured in the courts of the State before for several offences, was arrested by a member of the Raleigh police force while asleep in a pile of cotton seed near the Union railway station. There were found about his person the money order stamp from the post office at Elmore, in Scotland county, a blank order and some postage stamps. The office at Elmore was entered and robbed last Thursday night, and suspicion points to the captured man. The Raleigh officer making the arrest was after his man on the charge of larceny committed elsewhere.

An alarm of fire called the city fire department to the cotton platform where a considerable quantity of cotton was exposed to about ten bales that were ablaze, the fire supposedly having originated from an engine spark. The damage was slight as the cotton was only scorched.
 While no action has yet been taken in the unusual case that is developing which so deeply concerns the life of young Robert Lilliston, last week sentenced to 14 years imprisonment for the alleged shooting of Charles Smith, during fair week in Raleigh, new links in a strong chain of evidence are being daily forged that would seem to place all the burden on other parties. More witnesses now state their willingness to testify, and those who have believed in the third man theory are feeling justified.

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 22.—The trains on the Norfolk and Western Railway west of Roanoke are being badly delayed tonight as the result of washouts along the line. Up to midnight it was reported that there were 17 washouts between Roanoke and Bluefield. Of this number, 15 of them are said to be between Bluefield and Lurich on the New River division, and two others are near Marion. Honors to a Colored Woman in the South.

From the N. Y. Ev. Post, January 13. EDITOR OF THE EVENING POST.
 Sir: Within a few days after my arrival here from my Northern home to spend the winter, I had the privilege and gratification of witnessing a spectacle which many Northern people might have witnessed to their edification and instruction. It was nothing more than the funeral of an aged colored woman, a very common, everyday occurrence in the South, but under circumstances which rendered it extraordinary and interesting. The deceased was Julia Leath, better known as "Juno," for more than sixty years a member of Christ Episcopal Church in this city, and the place was Christ Church itself, in which were gathered a large part of the white congregation as well as many colored people belonging to other churches, to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had always deserved and enjoyed not only the respect but the affection of those who knew her well. In accordance with a cherished promise made some years ago to the deceased, the church wardens and vestrymen were present in a body, and the choir sang hymns which had been her favorite songs of praise.
 For Juno had been no ordinary negro. She was "raised" in the home of an old Southern family, and had lived in an atmosphere of refinement which permeated her speech and actions during her long and upright life. An humble, self-respecting, and devout Christian, it seemed to these warm-hearted and appreciative Southern people only fitting that they should unite in doing honor to the mortal remains of one who had loved the Lord and the place where His honor dwelleth. And so they thought nothing of the color of her skin, for her spirit was white and shining; but they did for her as they would for their own, followed her body to the grave, stood around it with bowed heads while the beautiful burial service of the church was being read, and strewed it with wreaths and flowery garlands, and chanted a parting hymn in memory of a good and faithful servant, who "blessed Masters," who he called her home, had found her ready.

DRINK
Bars Men from Employment

Every line of business is beginning to shut its doors absolutely including men. Business competition has become so keen that only men of steadfast habits can find employment.
 Employers do not want men that are addicted to drink. A drinking man is not in fit condition to handle responsible work. Contagious drinking diseases the nerve system. No "will power" can cure; treatment is necessary.

Ulcer Of The Stomach

Insidious Nature of The Disease—How to Recognize and Cure It.
 Ulcer of the stomach may exist for years without very marked symptoms, excepting those caused by indigestion. In good health, the stomach resists the action of the gastric juices, but when weakened, the membrane is badly nourished and the digestive fluids act upon it as well as upon the food, keeping up until perforation of the stomach occurs. In advanced cases of ulcer of the stomach there is much discomfort after eating, with a constant gnawing sensation between meals, pain from the pit of the stomach back to the shoulder blade.
 At the first symptoms of indigestion, treatment should at once be started with M-O-N-A. This is a scientific remedy adapted specifically to one purpose the cure of stomach troubles. It is so uniformly successful that F. S. DUFFY gives a signed guarantee with every 50 cent box that the money will be refunded if it does not cure.

 Confederate Reunion at New Orleans.
 New Orleans, Jan. 23.—The Confederate Veterans Association of New Orleans has been granted permission to use an entire square of ground only three blocks below Canal street, upon which to erect its audit room for the reunion here April 25, 26 and 27th.
 A year ago all the quaint old French and Spanish buildings in this block were torn down to make way for a new State Court House, construction upon which will not begin until next year, so the entire space is available and is practically in the heart of the city. The square faces the old St. Louis or Royal Hotel, which latter, now in disuse, will probably be converted into a rooming hotel for veterans and with cot beds should be able to accommodate 1000 or more.
 The old St. Louis Hotel was where the White Leguans, in re-construction days, held U. S. troops in a state of siege. The old "Black Legislature" also held forth there and before the war the place was the Mecca of Louisiana fashion. The Grand Duke Alexis of Russia was entertained there at one of the Carnival balls in the great domed hall room.
 Ex-Lieutenant Governor Albert Estopinal has been elected commander of the Louisiana Division U. C. V.
