CHOICE MISCELLANY

Gambling at Sea.

A friend of mine recently returned from a trip to the United States very full of the mischief done by professional gamblers and card sharps on the Atlantic liners and strongly of opinion that the shipping companies are responsible for the existence of this evil.

It is pretty certain, I believe, that the blackleg business is organized like any other industry and that the gangs who frequent the Atlantic liners are regular employees of an individual or firm. It is at any rate certain that the members of the gangs are known to the ships' officers, and my friend tells me that the names of seven of them were pointed out to him on the passenger list of the liner on which he returned and the individuals identified as they sat at table. It is interesting to note that among them was a woman and a youth of innocent appearance.

It is one of the worst features of the evil that many of the victims are youngsters going out to America or Canada with most of their worldly wealth in their pockets.

My friend learned that the gang on his ship got £160 from certain passengers at one sitting and that on a recent voyage of the same ship they had fleeced a young passenger to the tune of £600. He therefore urges that as the companies know the individuals they should absolutely refuse to carry them and stand the racket of legal proceedings for so doing.—London Truth.

Umbrellas When You Need Them.

"Are you on to the new plan for furnishing umbrellas when you need them most?" inquired the man with a rain coat over his arm. "No? Well, there's a regular company in New York with 1,000 places in Manhattan and 500 in Brooklyn where you can step in when the rain begins and get an umbrella for a dollar. When the rain stops, instead of carrying your umbrella around with you, you can stop in at any of their places and get a check for it and keep on doing this for a whole year. Then you have to put up another dollar for another year, and so on.

"They have their stations in cigar stores, hotels and other places that keep open late, and they're spreading them all over, so it won't be long until it won't be necessary for anybody to steal an umbrella except a regular thief. In this way it is not only a great convenience, but it is a great moral engine as well.

"What kind of an umbrella do you get for your dollar? Oh, as good as you can get anywhere for the money, and you can keep it if you want to, but you have to take it back in as good shape as you got it or you don't get your check for it."—New York Press.

Foot In It Again.

Mr. Brakes—Who is that sour looking dame over there?

Mr. Gubbins—Sir, she has the misfortune to be my wife.

"Oh—ah—er—indeed, sir, the misfortune is—er—all yours, I'm sure."—Cleveland Leader.

Called His Bluff.

"I've got a good substitute for giving up my seat in a car," said Jones. "Instead of that I'm going to ask the lady to sit on my lap."

"Don't!" cried Brown. "I tried that once and she took me up!"—Detroit Free Press.

One Plan.

"Well," said the first physician, "what has that new patient of yours got?"

"I don't know," replied the other, "but I'm trying to turn it into typhoid fever. I'm great on that."—Denver News.

No Judge.

Ethel—He's just crazy over her since they became engaged. He says she's an angel.

Elsie—Well, of course the poor fellow never saw an angel.—Town Topics.

Two Kinds of Fencing.

She—Prize fighting is brutal, but did you ever know fencing to hurt any one?

He—Why, yes; the barbed wire kind. I have.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Bitter Left.

"How does your grandmother get along now that she has lost all her teeth?"

"Oh, all right. You know she has a biting tongue."—Judge.

The Mean Brother.

"He's too mean for heaven."

"Yes. If they gave him wings he'd be miserable because he couldn't sell the feathers to a millinery store!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Unkind.

She (preparing for a ride)—Do you think I ought to wear my veil?

He—Sure. Otherwise the wind might blow your complexion off.—Detroit Tribune.

WELL DESERVED

The Praise That Comes from Thankful New Bern People.

One kidney remedy never fails.

New Bern people rely upon it.

That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

New Bern testimony proves it always reliable.

Charles E. Hargel, a car painter at the A. & N. C. R. R. shops, residing at 47 Bern Street, says: "I have found great relief by using Doan's Kidney Pills. My back has been hurting me for a long time, often so bad that I could not work. The Kidney secretions were very dark and cloudy. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills the secretions have regained their natural color and I do not suffer from the pains in my back at all. I can advise all who are similarly troubled to what I was to go to Bradham's Pharmacy, procure Doan's Kidney Pills and give them trial. They will not be disappointed in the result."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. a box.—Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's, and take no other.

"CUT IT OUT"

says the doctor to many of his lady patients, because he doesn't know of any medicinal treatment that will positively cure womb or ovarian troubles, except the surgeon's knife.

That such a medicine exists, however, has been proved by the wonderful cures performed on diseased women, in thousands of cases, by

Macy's NEW YORK

WOMEN ARE LOGICAL

Successful businesses owe their success to the business Sense of American women. The manager of a department store knows this better than anybody else. He knows that women are logical, much keener than men in purchasing for their homes, much more painstaking in estimating values.

R. H. Macy & Company, the original American department store and the greatest in America, owe their success to the discrimination of women.

Every woman knows that when she deals for cash she can do her buying more economically than on a credit basis.

She knows, therefore, that Macy's, who deal only for cash, can do both their buying and their selling cheaper than the stores that buy and sell on a credit basis.

The intelligent woman who is paying out her cash knows that a cash business will give her the best possible returns.

Women realize the time and money wasted in collecting accounts, the great number of clerks and the multifarious expenses of a credit system. They know they can get the best results at a store which not only buys and sells more than any other, but buys and sells everything for cash; that relies for its prosperity upon the fact that it gives its customers all the economical benefit of a cash system.

R. H. Macy & Company refuse all credit accounts absolutely. There is no man in America rich enough to buy one dollar's worth of goods on credit there—not even a member of the firm. There is no man whose purchases, however great, can secure for him one cent of discount or commission on the price paid by the smallest customer.

R. H. Macy & Company appreciate the importance of modern American merchandising. To protect the customers' interests is the object of R. H. Macy & Company, first, last and constantly.

The value of knowledge is the use to which it is put. You know you can buy everything more economically in New York. Do you do it? Do you save the money you know you can save?

Our 100 page Spring and Summer catalogue, an encyclopedia of New York fashion and household supplies, will be ready in March. Sent free on request. Write for it now. Make use of the low prices and save money. Address Room 28.
