NOT AN ATTRACTIVE POLITICAL PARTY

For months past the State news that has been sent around told of the pros pective doings of the Republicans There were newspapers to be established, there was to be a turning over new leaves, as to political conduct, with no scramble for office, and a general reversal, so to speak, of political doings, all of which was to induce recruits to flock to the party as one which would be clean, attractive and progressive where good behavior would be recognized, and where the voter who was not hide bound might find a companionship of congenial spirits who could vote for men and things, instead of being compelled to vote for nominees and and cared less. The two newspapers have come, and pretty decent ones they are, much ahead of the men and their principles, whom they are supposed to represent. But all else in way of betterment has gone, rather never came, for the same old sentiment continues, to make the Republican party of North Carolina a narrow and bigoted one, with a mem bership just large enough in number to fill the political offices and political appointments that are the portion of the party in this State.

principles of which they knew nothing

And beyond this same old exclusive ness, the court trials, the indictments drawn against the most prominent Republicans, the more or less back biting and blackguarding among the factions in this this State, all this digusts not only those who have no strong political tendencies, and who might be induced to vote for Republicans, but it also disgusts those who claim Republican affiliations, who usually vote the ticket and who claim Republican

It is not surprising that with all this display and exhibit, that Republicanism is less attractive in North Carolina than ever, for those who have boasted of its redeeming features, of its prospective elimination of every disturbing element, and its stand for decency, are themselves making a showing which drives away even those who have been Republicans, and keeps at a distance any voter who might possibly think of changing his party. It makes no difference how ably Republican newspapers may be edited, no decent one can pardon or find excuse for such conduct as is now going on among leading Republicans in this State. In fact it is hard to see why such a party needs a newspaper, for it has nothing it can, or wishes to explain in print, and its actions and those of its leaders would best be left in the dark, if possible.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and pre scribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. The finest contour of a female face, the test smile of a female mouth, lose something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The litthe white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. SEX IN HANDWRITING.

in Interesting Little Experiment It is a curious fact that one of the only things which even an expert logist does not guarantee to dis graphologist does not guarantee to dis-cover in handwriting is the sex of the writer. We are accustomed to think that the feminine or masculine temperament will readily betray itself in the written word, but in the majority of cases such is not the case.

Writing bold, black and firm, most masculine appearing in every way, will frequently be found to emanate from the pen of a woman, while delicate tracery, with the regularity suggestive of precision and method or the dash and spontanelty which indicate a live ly fancy almost unmistakably feminine, one says on examination is discov ered to belong to a writer of the opposite sex.

An interesting little experiment prov ing this theory can be made in this way: Take twelve or twenty envelopes written in chirographies you are sure of and number each scrap clearly. Pass them around and see how many of your friends will correctly guess the sex of the different writers, which may be written down and numbered like the envelopes. It will selcom prove that more than one-third of

The Career and the Ending of the Famous Pirate.

Captain Kidd, the famous pirate, started his career with the intention of suppressing piracy. In February, 1697, he left the Hudson in the Adventure Galley with a crew of 150 men with this intention. This expedition had been equipped chiefly at the expense of the Whig ministers, and its commander carried with him, "besides the ordinary letters of marque, a commission under the great scal empowering him to seize pirates and to take them to some place where they might be dealt with according to law."

The king's right to the goods found in possession of these malefactors was granted by letters patent to the supporters of the expedition, his majesty securing only one-tenth of the spoil. Kidd, however, soon finding that little was to be gained by the adventure, threw off all disguise and hoisted the

Prince Napoleon.

Prince Napoleon in 1870 was some thing of a prophet. When he heard of the emperor's declaration of war he burried to St. Cloud and had a stormy interview with the emperor. He didn't besitate to say, "It is the emperor who has brought this upon us," and the emperor, while offended at his frankness, admitted that "your presentiments perhaps correspond with mine." Then the nelnce fired his test shot and showed that though he might go astroy in Ryan in his annual report dwelt almost | many things, he knew of the weakness of France and the strength of Germany. He turned on his heel and, with that bitterness which he didn't hesitate to exhibit when occasion required, said: "So be it: so be it! Let us, however make haste to pack our possessions, for we are already beaten." And so the

The Dead sea is situated in Palestine, 20 miles enut of Jerusalem. It is 35 miles long and from 10 to 15 miles wide, with an average depth of 20 fathoms (120 feet). Common ocean water contains but 30 parts of salt to the 1,000. Thorn of the Dead sea contain 250 parts to the 1,000 which makes the bring solution exactly one fourth sait.

The Calibar Bean. The famous Calabar bean is said to be worse than strychnine. The natives use it for an ordeal. If a person is accused of a crime he is made to est one, being adjudged to be guilty in case of death, which is almost inevitable. Another seed employed for a like purpose is that of the ordeal tree of Madagascar, said to be the most deadly of vegetable products. One of these seeds about the size of an almond will kill twenty men.
