SECOND ESCAPE RETURNED

a Case at Kinston Proves Another

About 2 a. m., yesterday, the depu-ies Williams and Holton in pursuit of he escaped Craven county jail prisoners, located two of the men at the house of Fleming Johnson, about 14 miles from here, in Pamlico county. Johnson is the father-in-law of Ed Banks. As the deputies entered the house, Banks and Douglas ran out the ear way and into the barn, and there Douglas tried to hide in a stack of corn hunks, but was pulled out with the help of a rake and pitch fork. Banks dashed away into the woods, was fired upon but entering the awamp could not be puraued in the darkness. Deputy White went to Kinston, yesterday upon word sent here that Cornelius Staton, another escape was there. The man taken into custody at Kinston proved upon examination to be Charlie White, a former employe of the Blades Lumber Co. He had teen at Dover and went up to Kinston the day pefore. Of course he was not detained

Punta Gorda Items.

We extend greetings to our friend Bogue and hope this letter finds them all well.

There has been but little news of inerest here. The sad death of the young wife of Capt. Parker of which we wrote last week. She was well Mr B E Williams spent a few hours liked in our town and we all will miss > Fishing is again dull. Some boats get quite good hauls but there are not many of them. R. H. Weeks came in one day last week with 5800 pounds of fish on board. This was the haul we have had at one time.

> The East coast crowd has returned and although they have all been 'roasting" Punta Gorda, we notice that they are all glad to get back to the old town in the spring.

> Capt. E. Weeks went down today on the Sharpie Parrott. Capt. Rigdon Weeks took a crowd down on the lumber schooner Vigilant last Sunday a week ago.

The boating season is at hand and one can see lots of them coming or going all the time.
