CITY NEED OF PARKS.

Those little parks which are found in of the northern cities, places re children and even the older peoenjoy to visit during the summer and where flowers, grass, tree and even amusements can be d, these parks are blessings to the le of the great cities, and give peorest and recreation who could not rwise find it, or have, it for thousands nd the going out into the coun-

But while the smaller cities have s and shady streets, yet to these with profit be added, parks, where ple may gather and either have the ure of quiet, or have the pleasure hich is to be found in games and ments. In New Bern, there is oyment in the shady streets, on the ers, and the beautiful country with attractions is within easy reach.

But more than this is needed. Parks or rest and recreation are the need, vithin easy reach of the people of New ern, for there are many who must, if ey are to have them, find their pleas s near at hand, those whose leisure rs are few, and who must have heir opportunity near at hand, if they ey are to enjoy a few hours of outing ch week, on summer afternoons.

With the opening up of sub-divisions ar New Bern, there should be parks o, which those who own their own es, may reach, and these parks, ald not be only places of rest, but es where healthy amusements will rovided for young and old. There ned of an electric car line system, what better inducement could be d to induce the building of such ric lines, than the offer of land free re parks could be arranged, which ald make the patronage of the elecic car an additional pleasure, and the ple in all parts of the city would F.
