DARING DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

Negro Breaks into a House in Dover and Steals a Trunk in Which a Large Amount of Money Was Concealed.

One of the most daring daylight burglaries that has occurred in this section for some time occurred Friday evening at Dover. The robber went to the house of Mr. O. L. Rhem at 3 o'clock, raised a window and stole a trunk containing all... He carried the trunk to the woods on a secluded place and emptied the contents which were mostly women's clothing and got a purse containing $105.

This having been accomplished without detection he is reported to have gone to the store of the Goldboro Lumber Co., and bought a whole outfit, clothes shoes and hat.

Although near the house Mrs. Rhem did not discover the robbery until an hour or two later and promptly notifying the authorities at Dover found a tangible clue tracing the thief to New Bern. Mr. Rhem and a friend arrived in New Bern and notified the police and police officers were detailed to a house up town where the man was said to be staying. They surrounded the house but in spite of their watchfulness the man escaped, quite likely in very scant apparel as when they searched the house they found his new clothing, the purse containing $68.00, a new revolver which the man neglected to take in his hurry to get away.

The description of the man is such that he can be easily apprehended and he is known. It is believed he had two accomplices, a woman and another man. There is not so much suspicion resting on the second man however.

Not in a Trust

Special to Journal Norfolk, May 26—F S Royster, President of the Royster Gunco, made emphatic denial today of any connection with the fertilizer trust.

Subsidized Newspapers

Special to Journal Cleveland, May 26—Evidence taken in the Standard Oil investigation today showed that certain newspapers had been bribed by the great corporation to write editorials to turn public opinion in favor of them. The investigation will probably include the papers implied in the evidence.

REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Chairman Rollins' Resignation Refused. State Convention July 10th.

Special to Journal Greensboro May 26th.—The State Republican Executive Committee met in session here this afternoon, and fixed July 10th as the date for holding the State Convention, and Greensboro the place. Chairman Rollins tendered his resignation, but the committee unanimously refused to accept it.

A resolution endorsing his chairmanship was adopted. Congressman Blackburn alone speaking against the endorsement, but not voting.

Rollins declares he will insist at this session on having his resignation accepted. Adjournment was made at six o'clock until later hour.

Defied the Czar

Special to Journal St. Petersburg, May 26.—In a notable speech before the Russian Parliament today M. Raditchef defied the government after the premier had read the Czar's declaration which denied universal freedom for political prisoners. The speaker declared in fiery eloquence that it was Parliament and not the Czar which must decide the best interests for the country. The speech was met with a storm of applause and it was followed by a wonderful scene on the Parliament floor.

New Bern N. C. Dear Sirs: Would you like to hear of a 30-year paint? Mr. James A. O'Neil's house, Henderson, N. C. was painted 30 years ago with Devco lead-and-zinc, and never painted again till last year; it then looked better than common paint in half that time. The reason is: Devco is all paint and true paint; while the common paints are part true and part false. Don't pay to monkey with paint, And Devco costs less than any of 'em; not by the gallon, of course; by the house and year. That's how to reckon it. Go by the name. Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co.

The Whale-Killing Orcs

The whale, which was sixty or more feet in length, was attacked by these bands of the sea, the orcs or killers they had seized it by its huge lips and were clinging with all the ferocity of a pack of bulldogs. In vain did the giant swing its deadly tail. The sinuous fins leaped over it, avoiding it with ease, directing their attacks at its most vulnerable points—the throat, lips, and tongue.

Impelled by the fascination of this dot of sea monsters, the observers drew nearer and watched what was in all probability one of the most remarkable sea fights ever witnessed by man at so close a range. They were so close that the blood of the whale stained the water about them from turbulent blows to succubine and the waves created by the heaving and rubbing of the ponderous body made their hair rise and fall, as though on a heavy sea. The orcs tore the wide lid-like lips of the whale, biting great pieces from the tongue, and spread with the hot blood, and the large creatures would be seen completely awed, lying on the surface, making ineffective savings from right to left, rising, descending, in a sort of lurching and drifting. Charles F. Johnson, in the New York Herald.

J E Latham & Co. Weekly Cotton Letter

Special to Journal Grainsboro, May 26.—The cotton market continues dull and the fluctuations are very small. The "Insight Movement" to date is 10,237,570 bales which indicates that when the final count is made, August 31, the crop will show an excess of eleven million bales. No famine can occur on this crop, but the supply of good spinable cotton will not exceed the demand sufficiently, to cause holders to press their cotton for sale, except on firm market. The new crop is doing well, except in North Carolina, where dry weather has prevented germination, and retarded growth, and bad stands are reported from many sections. Rains however, have fallen the past day or two and more cheerful reports should follow.

Acres estimates this week show increases of 24 to 34 per cent in planted acreage. The Governments estimate to be announced about June 4th or 5th awaited with much interest.

Education.

Education is entirely an artificial condition. Each parent sends his children to school so that they may be the better prepared for the struggle of life. Perhaps he is in error when he thinks that school can give this preparation, very often he is, but one thing is certain: nothing can be done successfully unless the door is interested in what he is doing, and this will never be the case with school children if seeing is a burden. All modern education is based on the use of the eyes. If the eyes are not suitable the child will not be interested in what he is doing, hence the necessity of having the eyes suitable for the purpose by the proper spectacles, if he is to get out of education what the system offers.

Hero Denied Honor Medal

Special to Journal Washington, May 26.—The practical operation of the arbitrary rule in the Navy for the awarding of medals for bravery was seen today when it was found that Albert T. Reeder, of the United States Marine Corps who figured in a remarkable rescue on the Chagres River several months ago. It was found that in consequence of the river not being navigable and not within United States territory the medal could not be given.

Bank President Shy

Special to Journal Ensley, Ala., May 26—Gordon Du Bose, president of the First National Bank was arrested today on the charge of embezzlement. The examiner had discovered discrepancies in the books and upon more careful scrutiny found a shortage of $40,000. The affair will be probed to the limit. It is said that others connected with the bank are culpable.

Fire Last Night

A destructive fire occurred last night about midnight on Ashe street in the northwest section of the city. Four homes occupied by negroes went up in smoke and the negroes had hard work in saving neighboring property. The cause is unknown. Damage between $25 and $300.

Rain Comes at Last

Last night the drought was broken by several very welcome showers. The rain came down gently but it gave the impression that it had come to do some good. The drought had been of about sixteen consecutive days and farmers were beginning to feel very discouraged over the long very dry weather.

Raleigh Has Small Fire Loss. State Guard Encampment. Supreme Court to Adjourn Next Week. Judge Cook's Sad Loss. Sui's Against Fertilizer Trusts

(Special Correspondence.)

Raleigh, May 26.—Raleigh this year suffered less than $300 loss by fire, the chief of the fire department says. This breaks the record for any five months. As yet it is not known when the encampment of the National Guard of the State will be held, whether in July or in August, but it will be in one of those months.

There were little showers here today the farmers are hoping for a long rain, not a hard one, as that would literally wash away the extremely soft ground. Cotton is badly hurt in this section. Yet it can stand more punishment than any plant in the world. It is said the best crop in the State is perhaps in Mecklenburg, Anson and Richmond counties.

State Auditor Dixon has prepared the blanks to be sent out to corporations next week, on which the letter will base their reports for the year.

Chief Justice Walter Clark has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the Mississippi State Bar Association at Gulfport, June 25th.

It is now expected that the Supreme court will adjourn for the term Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, after filing its last decisions. No cases go over until next term.

Deep regret is expressed here by the many friends of Judge Charles M. Cook at the death of his only daughter, who died at his home, Louisville. Nothing has been heard during the past few days in regard to the movement for the election on prohibition or dispensary, and there are those who say that nothing more will come of the matter. At one time there was much talk about it but now it has died out.

Today there was considerable comment on the suits against the fertilizer trusts brought by the government. There are various trusts here in this line, the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company really controlling a number of so-called independent groups of companies.

In a special interview with State Chemist Kilgore it is learned that much work has been done in the way of making maps of the soil surveys in this state. The map of Chowan county has just been completed. Acres equivalent to sixteen counties or 17 per cent of the whole area of the state have been made. Under the new system the surveys of counties have been made besides Chowan. These being Duplin, New Hanover, Alamance, Pasquotank and Perquimans. This particular arrangement was begun about a year ago. Before that time the topographic sheets some times covered two counties or more. There is a line of soil surveys from Raleigh to New Bern, while west of Raleigh a large area has been surveyed in Alamance, another in Rowan, while further west the area around Asheville and Mt. Mitchell, embracing several counties has been covered by survey. The farmers are taking interest in this matter as the surveys show exactly what the soils are and make it very easy to ascertain what the particular crops can be grown to advantage and what constituents the soil needs to make it fit for certain crops. The State Agricultural Department uses the surveys as a basis for experimental work, in the location of test farm. These surveys are made in co-operation with the United States Agricultural Department, such department furnishing one man: New areas are to be taken up and it is proposed to introduce in some of these new crops, notably bright tobacco.
