FATALITY AT FIRE

Rules of House on Saturday Night.

taktrophe, with loss of life, was providentially averted, because a closed door was closed and a fire was kept from breaking out and destroying property or immates.

It was about 4 a. m. Sunday morning when the fire department received the call, the fire being located in the handsome brick residence of T. A. Green Esq., corner Pollock and Hancock streets. With due care the fire men entered the house, located the place of fire, and with no great difficulty aswed the building from destruction.

The first intimation of the fire was when Mr A. T. Dill, son-in-law of Mr. Green, was aroused by the smell of smoke. He quickly rushed to the aleeping rooms of the other members of the family and gave the alarm, arousing every one in the house. Smoke was filling the house by this time, and escape could only be made by the rear stair way, the fire being under the front stair case, cutting off all chance from that different contents are contents to the contents of the first supervision of Miss Mamie Kinser.
