STOP 'SPEEDING CONTESTS

Life and Limb Hazarded by the Practice of Racing on National Avenue.

There is a practice among drivers particularly negroes to race their horses on National Avenue to the utter disregard of life or limb for themselves or of any one else. They lick their horses to the utmost speed and tear along the avenue at a rate prohibited by law. The rules made by the government too, are violated, as National Avenue is owned by the United States government.

The use of the road as a race track practically precludes driving on the street with any feeling of safety and many of the ladies who drive fear to go out on that road for fear of a collision with some of the racers. It deprives them of a privilege which they would otherwise greatly enjoy, and no one has a right to make it hazardous to ride or walk on any street.

Because there is no place to speed horses is no reason why a public thoroughfare should be given over to that purpose. Racing horses is a sport not indispensable to sporting blood and when it comes to making the highway a speeding course it is asking too much to have it permitted at all. If men are anxious to see the race let them look at the human race.

We hope that authorities will give this matter some attention and if the practice is still indulged that they will make an example of the law breakers.

The June Burr McIntosh.

The Burr McIntosh for June is typographically attractive as ever, and in addition to the splendid portraits of famous people, its panoramic pictures of San Francisco and Vesuvius possess a special interest at this time. Besides these there are other pictures of interest and reading matter, making it a monthly which every one should have. It can be ordered from Burr Publishing Co., New York City.

A Great Romantic Yarn.

It isn't often that you get hold of as good a story as Stewart Edward White's "Buried Treasure," in McClure's for June. Here we have a good, old-fashioned, romantic adventure yarn. This setting is happy and the characters are unusual, and the action moves along like a limited express train. The title suggests the main motive, but this treasure is buried in about the most inaccessible place in the world, somewhere back from the beach in Lower California. The man who has the map is an unscrupulous sailor named Handy Solomon, who has no conscience and only one hand. In place of his missing member he wears a long, curved, sharp pointed hook which he uses with more evil effect than another man would manage a knife or a gun. He persuades three miners to accompany him in the search for pirate gold. By this time you are prepared for the cold-blooded murder which follows and for the horror of the long fight against thirst and hunger which ends in the escape of the sailor and the bare rescue of the others. For sheer dramatic force there hasn't been a story that could touch this in a long time.

Special to Journal
Wadesboro, May 30.—The heat of the citizens of this place have expressed their indignation at the lynching episode here Monday morning and have showed their willingness to help in running the criminals down. Several names of participants have been secured and it has been shown that the party was largely composed of toughs from South Carolina.

Sickness In New Bern

More Cases of Illness This Spring Than in Former Years.

Physicians and druggists say there are more cases of illness in New Bern this spring than in former years. Perhaps there is not so much serious sickness, but spring fever, loss of appetite, headache, sleeplessness, back-ache, weakness and debility, indigestion and other ill effects result from indigestion or an overworked stomach, are more common than they have been for some years past.

This has resulted in an unusual demand for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Before he felt that he could recommend this remedy, he tested it rigidly in many cases of indigestion, debility, and other troubles that result from a weakened digestion, with the most excellent results.

In fact, it has been so uniformly successful in restoring ill-sufferers that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given a special guarantee with every box sent out to refund the money if it does not cure.

Letter to John Suler

New Bern, N. C.

Dear Sir: There are two sorts of furniture. You know both; for you sell 'em both. One sort looks better than it is, and the other is better than it looks. There isn't any other sort.

The same, two sorts of paint, no more; and we make 'em both—we make tons of stuff that isn't worth its freight. Belongs to the business—have to. Belongs to your business—you have to.

But this is aside. We put into cans, with our name on, the very best paint there is in the world: Devco lead-and-zinc. It takes fewer gallons than mixed paints, and it wears twice as long as lead-and-oil.

Mr. G. O. Brown, Columbia, S. C., painted his house with Devco lead-and-zinc. The painter, on seeing the quality sent to the house, said there wasn't enough. There were ten gallons left, when the job was done.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devco & Co.

Notice of Meeting at Republican Executive Committee

Notice is hereby given that there will be a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Craven county, at the office of the chairman, C. B. Hill, No. 15, Middle street, on Monday June 5th, 1906, at 11 o'clock noon, for the purpose of naming the time and place for holding a county convention to elect delegates to the National Convention, to be held at Norfolk, Virginia, and to take such other business as may properly come before said meeting. Each member of the Executive Committee is earnestly requested to be present.

THE GRACEFUL MINUET

A Leading Feature of the Elks Bazaar Yesterday.

The third day of the Elks Bazaar was one of large crowds and increased interest. The booths have not lost their attraction, and when one halts at the Japanese booth and gets a refreshing drink of tea brewed by fair hands, he feels well paid for visiting the place. The ladies looking after the interests of this booth are Mrs. H. C. Lumsden, Misses Margaret Smallwood, Amy Guion, Mary Howland, Mary Rice and Octavia Hughes.

At five o'clock last evening the entertainment commenced with very pleasing performances consisting of some clever singing in the popular ragtime movement by Misses Mary Meadows Mitchell, Lela Mary Willis, Lillian Bowden, Louise Pearce and Ruth Watson. Following that four boys and girls entertained the company with a reproduction of the stately and graceful minuet, so popular in colonial and the early days of the country's social life; children participating were: Misses Mary Baxter, Bertha Hawkes, Esther Louise Marks and Bessie Hollowell; Masters Arthur Rosenthal, Willie Blades, Fred Cohn and Joe Hollowell. Then Misses Mary Meadows Mitchell and Louise Pearce gave one of their inimitable comic songs entitled, "Cross Your Heart," pleasing the listeners to such a degree that they were called back. These young people were under the supervision of Miss Leonora Greenbaum, and the acts reflected great credit on her work.

By special request of many people the baby show will be repeated today. From the multitude of requests it seems more than likely that the number of entries will be twice or three times the number of the show of Tuesday. It is desired that every baby in town between the ages of one and three years will be on exhibition. There will be 4 prizes in the following order:
1. The prettiest girl baby.
2. The prettiest boy baby.
3. The handsomest girl baby.
4. The handsomest boy baby.

The last two awards will be decided by a committee of three persons. The contest will begin promptly at 4:30 and end at 6 o'clock. A fee of ten cents will be asked for each entry.

The doll show and award will take place tomorrow evening. All have seen the beautiful doll which is to be given upon the correct guess of the doll's name. The children will be interested in this show and they are cordially invited to be present. Guess on the doll contest, five cents apiece.

And now the supper. A special effort will be made tonight to serve a most inviting five course supper. The cook engaged by the Elks is one of the best in the city and has arranged an attractive and appetizing menu. The price for the five course supper will be fifty cents. If one so desires he can order his on the European plan.

Resolutions of Respect.

St. John's Lodge No. 3 A. F. and A. M. on May 27th, 1906 adopted the following:
Whereas, It hath pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call from labor here to refreshment in the celestial Lodge above our beloved brother William R. Wartars, and
Whereas, St. John's Lodge No. 3 A. F. and A. M. has in the death of our brother sustained the loss of a devoted member therefore,
Resolved, That we deeply deplore the loss sustained in his death by his loved ones and extend to them our heart felt sympathy.

That we greatly miss him from our Lodge but the example of his devotion to the principles of Masonry and his quiet walk in life will live in our memory and remain as an incentive for emulation and inspiration to a better life.

That we have in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father "Wish death all things well."
That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our Lodge, a copy furnished the loved one's family and the New Bern Journal for publication, and that the usual badge of mourning be worn by all members.

TOUGH NEGROES ESCAPE

Township Officer is Taken at a Disadvantage and Loses Prisoner by Being Overpowered.

At the ball game yesterday a colored man was making himself disagreeable. He had put several drinks inside and developed into the kind of being that most big negroes become when they are drinking, quarrelsome and ugly. This fellow was very disorderly and Constable Dwight Styron had requested him to behave himself and he refused to comply. Mr. Styron went to him and told him that there was only two things he could do; he must be more quiet or go to jail. He defied the Constable to arrest him and when grappled he fought against being taken. Mr. Styron deputized a colored man looking on to help him take the ruffian to a transfer.

Some difficulty was experienced in finding the driver of the transfer but he turned up after a while and instead of taking the straight road down Griffith street, beat out across lots to National Avenue. Mr. Styron thinking perhaps the driver was going down National Avenue did not become alarmed until upon reaching the road the driver hesitated and pretended to turn toward the city but whirled his horse and went northward—an unexpected move.

At that juncture the driver turned in his seat and pushed a pistol right under the Constable's nose and the prisoner taking advantage of the situation grappled with him. It was the probable intention of the men to overpower the officer but he fought so strenuously, that they were foiled in their purpose whatever it was. Seeing that Mr. Styron was nearly out of the buggy they gave him a shove and sent him clear of the wheels onto the ground.

The officer was stunned for the instant but arose within a minute and shot after the men who were rapidly disappearing in the direction of Jack Smith bridge.

Both negroes are New Bern men and it is only a question of time before they are caught. Their case will not be subject to leniency and it is safe to say they will get all that's coming.

Mr. Styron's conduct was nothing less than a faithful officer's could be and his escape from serious injury and perhaps murder is a very fortunate circumstance.

To Whom It May Concern

NEWBERN, N. C., May 25, 1906.
In the political campaign of 1902, I was made chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Craven county, and as such, had an opportunity of coming in contact with the party workers of the county, and among them all there were none more active, efficient or courageous than W. R. Flanner.

He did work which many others refused to do on account of the danger attendant thereto. He well deserves some recompense by his party for his invaluable services, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimonial to his worth.
