JUMPED THE TRACK

The A. C. L. Passenger Train Has an Accident Which Delays its Arrival

Friday night the Atlantic Coast Line passenger train due at New Bern about 7:30 p. m. did not reach this city until after 7:30 p. m. The reason for the delay was that the entire train jumped the track a few minutes after leaving the station at Wilmington. The cause of the accident was not ascertained. The cars were pulled back on the track and were found to be in good condition but the engine was so badly damaged, that it had to be pulled back to the shops. The train did not leave Wilmington until 4 o'clock.

Big Boilers Arrive

The big boilers which were ordered by the Electric Light and Water Commission last winter have arrived and work is being rapidly pushed to put them in place. They are massive affairs, being 21 feet long and will probably weigh eight or ten tons. They are made by the Atlas Engine Co., at Indianapolis, Ind., and are made on a guarantee of saving more than half the fuel. They will aggregate 850 horse power. The purpose of having two boilers is to have one to put in service when the fire is drawn on the other. These big boilers will solve the problem of insufficient steam pressure.

A hurry order has been made for two new dynamos. A contract had originally been placed to be filled August 1st, but the experience of the past few weeks shows that they are needed before that time consequently the manufacturer has been requested to make as much haste as they can and make a perfect machine. The Commission hopes that their request will be complied with.

Mr. Graham Richardson Withdraws

To the Democratic voters of Craven county:

On the 19th of August, 1905, I handed Mr. B. G. Credle, deputy sheriff, my check for my taxes then due and Mr. Credle, through a mistake, wrote on the check "taxes 1905" when it should have been "taxes 1904." When I looked at my check to see whether my taxes for 1905 were paid I was misled by this check and for that reason failed to pay my poll tax in time to make me a voter for the present year. This is a matter of deep regret to me and was entirely due to the error in marking the check "1905" instead of "1904."

I desired to be a candidate for the office of register of deeds and have made a canvass of the county and now find myself greatly embarrassed because of this mistake for which I am not in any way responsible. At the same time I am a Democrat and a law abiding citizen and as I have omitted to pay my poll tax I will not ask the Democrats of Craven county to vote for me this time but will withdraw from the race with out bitterness and will loyally support the entire Democratic ticket as I have always done.

I give notice, however, that I shall be a candidate again and shall ask the people of the county to vote for me at a time when there is no legal impediment in my way. I wish in this connection to sincerely thank my friends for their support and to assure them that I would not have withdrawn from the race except for the fact that I have been advised by my attorney that I was not at this time in a position to ask for their votes.

GRAHAM T. RICHARDSON, June 2, 1906.

Last Day of Bazaar

The Elks bazaar passed off last night and the Elks feel very much gratified with the result. It has been an unequalled success and the exchequer of the order is materially strengthened by the venture. Every feature was enjoyed especially those in which the children figured.

Last night the drawings occurred and the following is the result:

Mr. William Ellis drew the cut glass punch bowl holding the number of 1530.

Mrs. Fred Whitty holding the number 5163 drew the gold watch.

The number 6098 drew the diamond ring, the holder was not present.

The prize given to the most popular young lady by the R & G Corset Co., through the agent, J. J. Baxter, was awarded to Miss Annie Foy. The prize consisted of a five dollar corset.

The Opening Ball

That the opening ball at Morehead City next Saturday night will be largely attended is indicated by the many requests for rooms at the Atlantic Hotel. Mr. Morton, the manager of the hotel, is determined to make this event one that will be long remembered by those who participate, as one of genuine social pleasure. The floor has been put in excellent shape and the orchestra that has been engaged comes highly recommended and this will be a fact worthy of note to those who have participated in former years.

A JOURNAL representative in conversation with Mr. Le Grande of the A. & G. Co., was informed that it was the intention of the road to make this the banner year in the history of this famous resort. Ample accommodations have been made to handle the crowds to and from the beach and also to Beaufort.

Summer rates are now in effect and commencing next Sunday the usual Sunday Special will be put on, thus giving those who cannot go during the week a whole day to devote to the exhilarating sport and take a plunge into the breakers.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

F. E. Latham & Co's Weekly Cotton Letter

Special to JOURNAL.

Greensboro, N. C., June 2. Since last week a decline has taken place, approximating 4 cents a pound on the summer, and 1 cent a pound on the winter positions. The decline is largely the result of a certain bull clique in New York selling out their holdings to "dear public," and it is believed have sold heavily short, especially of the summer months. Next Monday the government will publish a report which will give the acreage planted in cotton, and the condition of the growing crop. There was considerable fraud in the government report a year ago, and in consequence Monday's report will not have the respect or confidence it would usually command. Many leading cotton houses and several commercial newspapers have made acreage estimates ranging from 1 to 10 per cent, but the bulk seems to be slightly under 5 per cent. Our personal information leads us to say that the figures given in our circular of April 23rd, we still believe in, and regardless of what others say, we believe the acreage now devoted to cotton is practically the same as in 1904, which according to the government figures was 31,730,000 acres. Considerably more fertilizers have been used than ever before and we believe that the stands, and the general condition of the plant at this date, is much better than an average, if not indeed quite equal to any previous year. The conditions in North Carolina are less favorable than any other State. This is our opinion of the crop as it stands today, but we wish to assure our friends that this brilliant start does not insure a large yield. Any change therefore in crop conditions will show deterioration. There is a little less brilliancy to the trade outlook, but the spindles of the world continue to hum and we believe are running on full time, except where scarcity of labor is the hindrance. Spinners continue to buy freely, but the demand is mostly for high grades.

Mix Up of Factional Leaders

Greensboro, N. C., June 2. —

Blackburn Denies Being Target For Hardens

Pistol. To Whom Does Chairman

Adams Belong? Holton Tea

Vigorous in Prosecuting

Republican Distillers.

(Special Correspondence)

Greensboro, June 2.—Congressman Blackburn was here last night on his way from Ashe and Wilkes counties to Washington. He denied the story that had gained circulation that R. H. Harden had shot at him in Wilkesboro. The fact were he said, that he was in the second story of the hotel and Harden in the third story and that Harden or some one else fired out of the window of a room on the third story.

At the Republican county convention in Wilkes Monday, it is said that Blackburn made five speeches before he had determined to put through. In his main speech, he is reported to have denounced the district attorney, the Federal court and all connected with the alleged prosecution of himself and those distillers and revenue officers who were under indictment or had been convicted in the Federal court. He particularly paid his respects to Marshal Millikan for sending a Buncombe county deputy instead naming a Wilkes county man to Wilkesboro as a resident deputy. It is reported that a whoop followed a question asked the speaker, if it was wrong for Buncombe to furnish a deputy marshal, wasn't it worse for Greensboro to furnish a Congressman for the eighth district.

The report that Blackburn was going to fuse with Chairman Adams and quit his fight on the organization certainly must have been a mistake. Blackburn is keeping up his hot fusillade on the organization hitting it heavy by beating on Butler's tough political hide.

The rumor here that Assistant District Attorney H. H. Price has resigned and that ex-Judge A. Coble of Statesville has been named as assistant district attorney, is being talked of as another great Blackburn triumph. If the report is true, it must be a sore disappointment to Mr. J. J. Britt, of Asheville, who has been in training for the place. It had been generally understood that Judge Coble had not been in sympathy with District Attorney Holton in the prosecution of prominent Republican officials and distillers charged with frauds against the government, and was considered a critic of the anti-Blackburn wing of the organization.

If this be true, the naming of Coble of the eighth district instead of Britt of the 10th, who had been especially employed to assist in the revenue frauds prosecutions and in the prosecution of Blackburn himself in connection with the resignation of Price, who had a standing notice to Blackburn with the resignation of Price, not to speak to him under a penalty of a thrashing, it does look a little like Blackburn has reason to claim this latest development as a victory. Those supposed to know about such matters here express entire ignorance of any resignation of the part of Price or the naming of Coble as his successor. It is hardly probable that any one, not in thorough sympathy with District Attorney Holton's efforts to purify the revenue service, would be named by him as his assistant and if Judge Coble has been appointed, it necessarily gives the lie to reports that he belonged to the Blackburn and anti-Butler wing of the party.

It has become known that at the meeting of the State Republican executive committee here last Saturday, not only were Blackburn and Holton voting together one time, but they were both completely run over by the majority of the committee. Their first move was in opposition to the resignation of Rollins, ex-Attorney General Walsler making a strong legal argument it is said against the authority of the committee to elect a successor and all speaking against the policy of Rollins' resignation, some of course from different motives. When it finally came to choosing a successor, it developed that both Holton and Blackburn were strongly opposed to Judge Adams, who had been slated in Washington by Butler, Duncan and Rollins as chairman. Holton wanted Walsler for chairman, but he commanded only three votes of the committee.

A curious phase of the mix up among the discordant factions of the leaders of the party is that while Blackburn has been openly fighting the organization and causing it for the reappointment of Holton, Harris and Millikan, the organization isn't responsible for these appointments, and couldn't prevent them, it being generally known that the chairman himself was after Holton's place and had openly solicited Holton for reelection to the same place. Particularly speaking, the district attorney has been elected and Holton has been elected as chairman of the district.
