ECHOES OF MOREHEAD.

A Lively Day at the Seashore Sunday. A Great Crowd Present.

To those who had the pleasure of participating in the opening games at the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, Saturday night, have but one regret to make, and that is that Sunday morn'g came too early. Just as everybody was getting the "beat out of it" the orchestra began with the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" and as the hour hand pointed to 12 one of the most brilliant dances in the history of Morehead came to an end. Although it was Sunday, the dancers were so carried away with the charming music, that they forgot themselves and clapped for just "one more" but it was to no avail as it is an established fact that dancing must cease at the end of the week day hour in the famous old Atlantic.

It is estimated that fully two hundred couples took part in the dance and there were at least 1000 spectators looking on.

Under the direction of Mr. Wm. Dunn, Jr., and Miss Octavia Hughes, some of the most difficult figures were executed and the scene was most inspiring.

After the dance parties were made up for the surf, some went sailing and others took a plunge off the end of the hotel wharf, but the crowd that returned about 3:37 a. m. were jolly to the core, and while it was impossible to sleep if your room happened to be in the vicinity of the bunch you could well afford to lay awake and listen to selections from Little Tycoon and other tuneful operas as was being rendered by the happy crowd.

Sunday's trains brought down a good many pleasure seekers and it also had some passengers that would do well to stay at home and drink their fire water there. It has always been known that the police of Morehead reserved a tender feeling for visitors when a little too full, but the conduct displayed by two from Kinston Sunday afternoon before the last train left was enough to frighten anybody, not to say disgust them, for the manner in which one handled a knife around the neck of the other, and the language used was enough to turn a Pavie to merriment away with shame. And still the "cop" was merciful.

A citizen of Morehead had also been indulging too freely and had become fully satisfied that he could lick anything that walks and while making his gestures he slapped a young New Bernian who promptly returned the insult by banging his assailant in the face two or three times when they were separated.

Mr. Morton, the clever manager of the hotel, says he will not tolerate in the least anybody who cannot act decent and if they think they can make a rough house of the hotel it will be because there are no officers to prevent it, while of course the disorderly scenes Sunday were outside of the hotel and therefore were not under his charge.

Messrs Hervey and Wade are connected with the office force again this year and the sufficient guarantee that your wants will be promptly looked after as both gentlemen are well and favorably known as experienced hotel men.

The management is greatly pleased with the outlook for the season and predicts a record breaker in the number of visitors this year. Those Saturday night dances will be great drawing cards as it will give those an opportunity who cannot go down during the week an opportunity to enjoy themselves in this manner during their short stay.

BASE BALL TOMORROW.

Beaufort and New Bern Teams Will Cross Bats at Blades Park.

The base ball fever has been slow in showing itself but at last it has come. We may expect some games from now until the fiercer spirit of foot ball takes its place. We believe that the fans will be glad to see a game of ball once more and from what we hear they will have that pleasure tomorrow.

The Beaufort team will play the New Bern's tomorrow; the game will be called at 3:30 p. m. The players are all well known and there is no question but that the game will be interesting. A small admission fee will be requested to help defray expenses which are quite heavy.

A Preliminary Report on Oyster Culture.

There has recently been issued by the North Carolina Geological Survey a preliminary report on oyster culture in North Carolina. The main object of the present paper is to answer, as far as practicable, certain questions that have been raised regarding oyster cultivation in North Carolina. The questions that are discussed in detail in this paper are:

- (1) Can oysters be profitably cultivated in North Carolina waters?
- (2) Is oyster cultivation now an industry of any importance in North Carolina?
- (3) Can the State by investigation or legislation encourage development of this industry.

The first question is answered in the affirmative, although this preliminary report does not go into a detailed description of the experimental plantings of oysters that have been made in various parts of Pamlico Sound. In a later report there will be taken up the results obtained from these experimental beds that have been kept under observation and visited at intervals of a few months, regarding the set of "spat"; rate of growth; expansion of bed; and other biological and physical conditions. The second question would have to be answered negatively, not because the oyster cannot be profitably cultivated, but because the planter is not protected.

The third question answered in the affirmative, is treated at some length, and the fundamental legislative conditions that seem necessary for the building up of the oyster planting industry are indicated.

The cultivation of the oyster offers employment and profit to individuals who will undertake planting. It will be not only a source of direct revenue to the state, but indirectly through the resulting increase of taxable property, should cause a large revenue. At no time in the history of the State has been such a good opportunity as at the present time for the building up of a remunerative industry in the cultivation of the oyster and this should, within the next few years, become a profitable business throughout many districts along the coast of North Carolina.

There will be published later in the fall a more exhaustive report on oyster culture in North Carolina, which will describe in detail the results of the experiments made during the past three years.

SOUTHERN RY. FILES REPLY

Contention That No Contempt Exists as Commission is Not a Court But Advisory Board.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, June 12.—The Southern Railway this afternoon made an answer to the complaints filed with the corporation commission, against changing the night schedule west from Raleigh. The answer is largely covered by the statements contained in yesterday's application to Judge Purnell, for an order restraining the commission from imposing penalties on the road for violating the order made Saturday night, forbidding the change of schedule.

The Southern contends that it either had to disobey the order or else stand suits for failure to operate the train as it had advertised. It contends that the act is not in contempt of the commission, because the latter is not a court, but merely an advisory board, that the new train is a great convenience to eastern and western North Carolina. The attorneys for the complainant say the act of the Southern is high handed, and unprecedented, and its purpose is to have Judge Purnell anticipate the action of the commission. The railway denies this. The hearing is set for Friday morning.

Social Happenings at the Mecklenburg.

Chase City, June 11.—The guests of the Mecklenburg enjoyed very much the recent visit of Mr. L. A. Coulter, of Richmond, Secretary of the State Y. M. C. A., and the quartette of delightful singers who accompanied him. These gentlemen are going through the State endeavoring to establish County Y. M. C. A.'s, and to emphasize the importance of such institutions in the country districts of Virginia. They made a most pleasing impression in Chase City and Boynton and the quartette gave especial pleasure to the guests of the Mecklenburg by a concert in the lobby on Saturday morning. The gentlemen composing the quartette were Mr. J. E. White, Mr. Reginald Walker of Richmond, Mr. W. J. Phillips of Tappahannock and Mr. G. L. Fletcher of Warrenton, Va.

RALEIGH.

One of Alleged Selma Assaults Lodged in Jail

Teachers Arriving in Numbers. Governor Sick. Meeting Dairy Association Books Submitted for Examination. Three Candidates for Postmastership.

Special Correspondence.
Raleigh, N. C., June 12th.—Deputy sheriff A. M. Sanders arrived here this morning from Smithfield, bringing with him Jim Merritt, a young negro who stands charged by the confession of Bud Richardson another negro, with an attempt felonious assault upon Miss Pearl Jones, the telephone operator at Selma. Deputy sheriff Sanders intended to put Merritt in jail, but could not do so as he had no commitment papers, so the prisoner was lodged in the station house until ten o'clock, when Governor Glenn directed that he be taken to the jail for safe keeping until his trial comes off. The newspapers have had the whole story of the shooting of Richardson by Miss Jones Saturday night at Selma, of his confession, and of the capture of Merritt, who was at once taken to Smithfield and taken to jail. Deputy sheriff Sanders says that he heard rumors that people from Selma are coming over to Lynch Merritt and acting on his own judgment, decided to bring the man here. Merritt denied that he was guilty of anything, whatever. His behavior was very good while in jail at Smithfield and on his way here.

Teachers by the hundreds poured into Raleigh today to attend the great annual session of the Teachers' Assembly. Very complete arrangements have been made for the big event. There is a committee which takes charge of all the arrivals and locates them promptly, the information bureau being well managed.

Governor and Mrs. Glenn both continue sick, the Governor's condition being unchanged. The reception which is to be given to the teachers' assembly at the executive mansion, will not be postponed or any way affected by the illness of Governor and Mrs. Glenn, though they will not be able to be present, it will be held at the mansion and will be a very striking affair, at which more than a thousand persons are expected to attend.

The second annual meeting of the North Carolina Dairy men's Association will be held here on July 11th and 12th, at which time the Farmers' State Convention will be in session, these meetings are to be held at the Agricultural & Mechanical College.

At the Agricultural & Mechanical College library many hundreds of books submitted by the various book companies have been arranged in a very handsome style in order that the thousands of teachers who are to be here during the next twenty days can see and inspect them.

There are three known aspirants for the postmastership at Raleigh, and all these seem to be working hard for the position.
