STATE NORMAL FOR EASTERN CAROLINA

State University to Receive An Appropriation of $120,000 Annually.

PENSION SCHEDULE FOR CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS.

House Passed the Bill Enlarging Powers of Corporation Commission. Senate Discussed Divorce Bill. Bill Introduced to Amend Charter of New Bern Graded Schools.

Special to Journal:

RALEIGH, Jan. 30.—In the House bills were offered to establish a Normal Industrial School in Eastern North Carolina.

To prevent unjust discrimination in freight and passenger rates. To provide for a special survey of the half million acres of State swamp lands.

To apply the fellow servant law to express companies.

To increase Confederate pensions to $450,000, giving first-class $72, second-class $60, third-class $48, fourth-class and widows $30 annually, and allowing persons worth more than $500 to have pensions, under certain conditions.

To put insurance companies in competition with each other.

To increase the appropriation to the State University to $70,000 annually and give $50,000 a year annually for necessary buildings.

To allow Beaufort county to levy special tax.

To repeal crop lien law.

To allow Plymouth issue bonds and levy special tax.

To amend charter New Bern Graded Schools.

Bills passed establishing graded schools at Swan Quarter incorporating Cove City in Craven.

The special order was Speaker Justice's bill to extend the powers of the Corporation Commission so as to leave nothing open to construction. There was a long debate, and all amendments were voted down. Mr. Justice said the bill gave the Commission all the power it needed to stand between the people and the Railways, while now the latter claim that the Commission has no power to order connections made and so the Selma case is before the United States Supreme Court. The bill passed, 63 to 36.

SENATE.

Bills introduced in the Senate to allow Pitt county to work convicts outside county roads.

Bethel petitioned for extension and for vote on question of dispensary, saloons or prohibition.

The special order in the Senate was the bill granting divorces for ten years separation without issue. It was very warmly debated. It was positively declared by its opponents that it was drafted to meet a particular case, and that it was a bad policy to re-open the flood gates of divorce which the last legislature had closed. The bill passed its second reading, 22 to 20. A motion to put it on its third reading failed, 19 to 23.

A bill to widely enlarge the powers of the State Chemist in stopping the sale of misbranded or adulterated foods, drugs, confectioneries and liquors passed, as did one guarding against the evil of traffic in certain narcotic drugs.

Its healthful, wholesome. Its good for one as the other. The more you take the better you sleep and eat. Makes people happy. That's what Hot Water's Rocky Mountain Tea does. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. F. S. Duffy.

Visitor to Friend—"What is all this razzle-dazzle in your paper about Whitecomb's oranges? Ah, you should try one and that question will be settled for all time.

Spheres of golden color lobbies of an enticing exasperating sweetness. Forming a link in the chain and ready to gush forth with the slightest pressure its treasure of luscious juice making it a fact and enough to sell a bushel for more than its weight in gold.

DISPENSARY MEETING.

Interested Audience Listen to Addresses. Novel Wager

There was a good sized crowd at the court house last night to listen to addresses favoring a dispensary. Mr. W. W. Clark made the first, and took up the speakers of the last anti-dispensary meeting. He said there was really nothing to reply to, he had listened with interest at the meeting, but the more he had thought over it since the less there was to what the speakers said. There was something taking place he said, that was directed against the dispensary, a number of strangers in town, some from Bridgeton, he understood a movement was on foot to get a bill through the legislature which would give Bridgeton a dispensary. He then read letters from W. T. Lee, of Waynesville, and Rev. J. E. Askew, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, of Greenville, showing the good effects in these places of a dispensary. The speaker then told of a novel wager that had been made by Mr. E. H. Meadows and Mr. J. B. Blades, the loser in Tuesday's election to wheel a fish cart on Middle street next Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Hudler made an interesting address showing the effects of prohibition in Iowa, where he lived, and other states he had visited.

NEARLY TOO MUCH TRAGEDY.

One of the Leading Characters in Parsifal is Centre of Unexpected Act.

The play of Parsifal which is to be performed here February the 8th was at Asheville last Friday night, an accident occurred there which nearly deprived them of one of their most important characters, Klingschor, according to the Gazette-News, Mr. Dvorak, who takes that part is a man of unusual talent, and he was on the stage before a large audience when some of the scenery dropped on him and injured him severely. It happened so naturally however, that the spectators thought it a part of the play, and when the curtain was rung down it was thought the act was at an end and a recall was demanded. The incident was not known for some time after the play. The actor was unconscious during all the great applause, but he was restored by a physician and enabled to proceed with his part.

Obituary.

Miss Hattie Fulcher, daughter of the late Alonzo Fulcher, died last Sunday after a long and painful illness of that dreaded disease, consumption. She was a bright and beautiful young lady and was the favorite of a host of friends. It is a sad coincidence that a year had almost elapsed since the death of her father. She was fifteen years old.

"We shall part, but not forever. There will be a glorious dawn We will meet to part no, never. On the resurrection morn." A FRIEND.

When freedom from the Mountain high, Unfurled her standard for all to see, These words appeared in black and white "Drink Rocky Mountain Tea." F. S. Duffy.
