CHLOROFORMED BOATMEN.

Crews of Barges Lying at Norfolk Put to Sleep and Then Robbed.

The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch of Feb. 15th contains the account of the robbery of four barges which were lying off Berkley Flats. The robbers were successful in making a big haul; they attempted to rob a fifth boat but were unable to get into the cabin. Some of the boats make regular trips to New Bern for lumber. They were barge Lavnie, Capt. W. R. Windsor; George W. Kugler, Capt. Jack Bohan; Marlin, Capt. John Fleet; at Katherine McVaine Capt. Harvey Twiller.

The method taken by the robbers was to chloroform the inmates of the boats and take whatever suited their fancy. Money, jewelry, gold and silver ornaments, clothing &c were among their booty. Several of the people on the boats were deathly sick as a result of their inhalation of the drug.

The tug Hellen took the boats Marlin and Hugler in tow and started for New Bern. It is stated that this means of robbery is resorted to among river thievers. Numerous instances are reported at Baltimore and other ports.

Increased Pay For Telegraph Operators.

Special to Journal.

Richmond, Feb. 20.—The following telegram has been sent to all operators of the Western Union Telegraph Company from the office of General Superintendent Levin is a gratifying piece of news to all operators in the employment of the corporation:

"This company has received petitions from sixteen offices in the west and southwest within the last sixty days, asking for an increase of ten per cent. in the salary of employees. These petitions have been given careful consideration bearing in mind that the company could not discriminate in favor of a few offices, but that any action taken should be general. In this connection it has been necessary to consider the enormously increased cost of all kinds of telegraph material, which, in many cases has been from fifty to one hundred per cent, while the tariff rates on messages and other traffic are very low in view of the demands of the public for ever increasing facilities and more rapid service, in fact many of these rates are relics of former ruinous competition and are unprofitable. Notwithstanding these facts the company has decided to increase the salaries of operators and managers at all of its independent offices throughout the country ten per cent from March 1, 1907. This applies to all managers, chief operators, traffic chiefs, general chiefs and operators in the company's independent offices. A. E. S.

other roads not to exceed 5 cts. Roads operated by other roads are to charge a rate to be determined by the average gross passenger receipts of all the roads operated by the said railway, whether owned or leased.

A resolution was offered that there should be only one fare on railways and that this should be first settled and afterwards the rate.

Chairman Henry E. Faison, of the Democratic committee of Sampson Co, ex-Senator H. A. Grady, Chairman of the Education Board, and George L. Peterson, appeared before the House Committee on counties this afternoon in support of a bill giving that county four more commissioners so as to out-vote the present ones and take it out of Republican hands.

Sheriff a Fugitive From Justice.

Special to Journal.

Clinton, Feb. 20.—Sheriff Aman has defaulted, assigned and fled. It is claimed that his shortage amounts to $35,000. There are two bills for enforcement made against him. A capias is out for him and Governor Glenn will offer a reward for his capture. It is claimed the county commissioners will offer no arrest. They are also under indictment. The taxes due the State have been paid by the bondsmen.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

The Prospect of Locating the Eastern Carolina Normal College. Will It be Improved?

The question of the establishment of the new Normal and Industrial College in Eastern Carolina has passed through the vague uncertain stages, the General Assembly has passed the bill, the Governor has approved it and it now only depends upon the city that can show the best reasons for its location. There are ten cities in the race for the school of which New Bern is one. They all have advantages, but New Bern, by reason of her new developments, her growing population and the generous offers made, her situation in regard to a railroad centre makes this city the logical choice for the location.

What are the citizens going to do about it? Can it be possible that they will let a good thing go by without making a single effort to land it? It is vitally important to agitate this matter more vigorously than has been and the people must wake up to this grand opportunity and if we lose it will be largely our fault.

In addition to the plot of ground already offered there is another tract which will be an excellent location for either one building or a group of buildings which will afford a splendid site for such an institution. Doubtless there are other good locations; at any rate there will be no scarcity of lots that will be worthy of consideration.

In lieu of the objections to the establishment of a normal college that have been pouring into the News and Observer from the interior of the State we publish an answer signed by Prof. Craven and Supt. Brinson setting forth the reason why a school of this nature should be established in the eastern part of the State. It states the case well and we believe that with these facts in the minds of people there will be more desire to obtain it. A copy of this letter has been sent to the News and Observer:

We have recently seen a few articles against the establishment of an eastern normal school by persons living in the central part of the State but have not noticed that anyone from Eastern North Carolina has written to that effect. There are enough girls, who would make good teachers with proper training, east of Goldsboro and between the Virginia and South Carolina lines to fill two normals as large as any in the State, as the matter now stands only about 600 of the girls in the whole State are allowed a place where they can get this training. Those of us who live in the eastern part of the State and know the situation, know that we need a Normal School without going 180 miles to get to one. Greensboro is so far off that few go there from this section, and the demand is so great in central North Carolina for teachers, that those who do go seldom return home on account of positions offered by cities in the central part of the State.

There is only one graduate of the Greensboro Normal now teaching in Craven county. We need a Normal near home, one that will encourage and stimulate the eastern part of the State. One that will have room for the girls here, and if one will not do, then we need two. As the situation is now, the nearest college to us is 75 miles off, those at Raleigh, 120 miles, and Greensboro 180 miles.

The central part, in all right, they have colleges at Raleigh, Wake Forest, Durham, University, Greensboro, Charlotte, Statesville and Davidson, but it is about time that the eastern part of the State had a showing. With a good Normal centrally located, these eastern counties will put in it five hundred girls, 475 of whom will never get such training unless it is established in reach of us, and near enough to have some influence in this part of the State.

GLANSMAN'S SECOND APPEARANCE.

Received With No Less Enthusiasm Than When it Was First Produced

Special to Journal:

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 20.—The Glansman returned to its birthplace last night. The play first saw the light in the Academy of Music at Norfolk Sept. 22, 1905. There was a tremendous display of enthusiasm on that memorable occasion but not any more than was evidenced last evening. Tonight the theatre was packed with the largest audience in its history, hundreds were turned away unable to gain admittance.

Protests for political reasons had been made against the appearance of the play. Mayor Reddick attended the performance to judge for himself and said he saw nothing objectionable and in fact was much pleased. The visit of the play will last three days and already every seat is sold for the balance of the engagement. Negotiations are on foot looking to the presentation of the Glansman for a long season at the Jamestown Exposition during the present summer.

CAROLINA PAPER PULP COMPANY

NEW BERN, N. C.

During the first year of their operation, will expend in the City of New Bern $75,000.00 for Labor and Raw Material, and each year thereafter will spend not less than $225,000.00 for the same purpose. The Carolina Paper Pulp Company offers 40 per cent. of its Capital Stock for public subscription and IT IS A GOOD BUSINESS PROPOSITION for the Merchants and others of New Bern, to take all of this issue if it never paid a dividend; but you are assured that this stock will pay at least 20 per cent. dividend annually.

New Bern, it expects to expand and grow, NEEDS DIVERSIFIED INDUSTRY. The logical industry to follow the saw mill is a Pulp and Paper Mill. If it had not been for the Pulp and Paper Mills what would have become of New Bern?
