SHORT PASSING EVENTS

Weather forecast for today: Cloudy, somewhat cooler.

The fire alarm system will be tested today between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock.

Invitations have been issued for the opening hall at Atlantic hotel, Morehead City, Saturday, June 1.

Subscribers to the telephone will please add to their list Dr. J. E. Patrick's residence number, 344.

Mrs. Carrie Haas was taken to the Stewart Sanatorium yesterday suffering with an attack of appendicitis.

Invitations have been received to the 15th annual commencement of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts to take place May 28 to 29.

The ladies of the Christian church will have their missionary meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. W. Anderson, on Graves St. All members requested to be present.

Mr. R. B. Blalock killed a mad dog on Pollock St., near Moonshine alley Monday evening. A dog belonging to Mr. W. G. Boyd, which had been bitten by the animal with the rabies was also dispatched.

The dance at the armory tomorrow night will be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season. The proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the New Bern baseball club. There should be a liberal patronage.

A spark on the roof of the boiler house at the Elm City Lumber mill was the cause of an alarm of fire about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire was quickly put out by the department and did no damage whatever.

A horse of a team belonging to Mr. Walter Bray dropped dead in its harness on Craven street yesterday about noon. The animal gave no sign of a struggle or apparent sickness, it merely trembled then fell. Horsemen who were on the scene immediately could detect only the slightest heart beat as it fell.

Some one whose sense of humor seems a little overdrawn and whose sense of shame is entirely missing gave a false alarm of fire early yesterday morning. The alarm came from the usual number 34.

Some of these days one of these ultra funny men will be discovered at their tricks and then the laugh will be on them and not by them.

The Jones Carnival which was to open in Kinston Monday was postponed until Tuesday evening on account of the sudden death of Mr. Lewis Wiley. Mr. Wiley was an ex-Confederate soldier and was standing watching the unloading of the carnival paraphernalia, when death came suddenly. Mr. Wiley lived just in front of where the show tents were to be set up and it was very nice of the carnival people to show such respect for his death.

It will be wise for the board of aldermen to request the Norfolk & Southern to have some kind of guard at the National Avenue crossing, either gates or flagman. That crossing has become dangerous on account of the passing of so many trains and it is to their own interest as well as the public's that they take such precautionary step. The baseball season with its crowds of people coming and going make this provision a necessity.

The Greenville Reflector notes that the knitting mill, there, is turning out 235 dozen knit garments per day, suggests that Greenville "get busy and establish a yarn mill." New Bern, much older, much larger, and perhaps richer has neither knitting mill nor yarn mills. The Reflector goes on to say that notwithstanding the large production, the mill is far behind in filling its orders. Strange that New Bern capitalists do not become interested in such industries.

Mayor Bryan laid down the law yesterday in the police court and told one of the violators what he could expect if he should ever come before the court on a similar charge. It was Mr. J. C. Moore and was arrested for drunkenness. He was laced with costs. The other prisoner was Charity Paine, a colored woman arrested for disorderly conduct. She also was given some straight talk by the mayor who told her what she must do and that it must be done at the earliest possible time.
