THE "COMFORT" AFLOAT

W. B. Blades Handsome New House Boat Successfully Launched.

The "Comfort" the house boat built under the direction, and for the personal use of Mr. William B. Blades, was put "overboard," yesterday. The Comfort, appropriately named, by Miss Ivey Blades, is a strongly built boat, of the best wood, with a length of 110 feet, and 20 feet beam, overall, and a draft of 3 feet, thus making the boat an easy one to navigate the waters of this section. The Comfort will go under own steam power, being equipped with 75 horse power engines, twin screw propellers, and a speed of 7 to 8 miles an hour. The crew will be a captain, engineer and two deck hands, there being servants to attend to the wants of the family and friends who may be on board.

The Comfort is entered from either side midship, by hanging stairway, the entrance being into what will serve as the dining hall. A naphtha launch will serve as tender for those on board, being swung up on davits, when the Comfort is en route. Forward from the dining hall, will be the state rooms, eight in number on each side, with bath, toilet and lavatory rooms. The forward apartment is large, windows on either side and front, and will be general reception, music and social room for all. In the after part will be the engines, refrigerators, supply rooms, and quarters for the crew, except the captain, whose quarters will be back of the pilot house on the upper deck, this deck being also used as a promenade, to be enclosed by brass railings and covered with awnings. On voyages, during bad weather, storm shutters are provided, which completely enclose and protect against sea or rain.

The Comfort now afloat, will have the final work completed, also the installation of engines and the furnishings for the living quarters. The inside finish work is all wood veneered. Mr. Blades has gone north and will there purchase the furniture and needed furnishings, for the interior. The estimated cost of the Comfort when complete, is $20,000.

ON TO BEAUFORT

Crowds Already Tending Towards That Point. Today's celebration at Beaufort, was visible last night, as the trains from Wilmington and Goldsboro, met here.

There were passengers on both, going towards the sea, and from here there was a good sized delegation, with bags and baggage, who took the mail train, to be on time, by getting down last night.

Among those noticed were: Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Jarvis, Judge B. F. Long, Mr. C. E. Foy, Col. P. M. Pearsall, Mr. Will Coley of the Raleigh Times.

Today the first passenger train from Washington, N. C., to Beaufort, will make the round trip, and its coming marks the opening up of the N. & S. road between Beaufort and Norfolk. Today the following trains will run to Beaufort leaving New Bern at 9:43 a. m., 9:53 a. m., from Goldsboro, at 10:20 a. m., from Washington, and returning leave Beaufort at 4:35 p. m., and 5:15 p. m., for Goldsboro, the Washington train leaving shortly after the last Goldsboro train.

Skull Crushed in Runaway.

Special Correspondence. Greensboro, June 7.—While Luther H. Cherry, an employee of the Cone Export Commission Company was driving to his work yesterday at noon he was seriously injured in a runaway accident in Summit avenue. His skull being fractured. Just as he drew rein to speak to a friend, a dog he had in the buggy began barking and frightened the horse which broke into a run. In front of the Presbyterian church one of the buggy wheels struck the curb and Mr. Cherry was thrown out, his head coming in contact with a rock. An ugly wound was cut in his forehead and upon the arrival of a physician it was found that his skull was fractured. The injured man was removed to his home where he is resting quietly.

SPEAKER CANNON'S UTTERANCE

Affidavits Said to Be Ready to Prove His Speech.

Special to Journal. Lexington, N. C., June 7.—Affidavits are ready here, to prove the story sent out as to the utterances of Speaker Joe Cannon, at the Guilford college banquet, where his declarations on state's rights and the anti-negro franchise, surprised every one.

The following is the Lexington Dispatch special sent out to the Raleigh Times:

"Stating that it got its information from a prominent Lexington man who was present, The Lexington Dispatch will print a story about Speaker Joe Cannon's speech at a banquet at Guilford college which it says has not been published by any paper, and in which it says Speaker Cannon made a sensational talk so ultra southern that his private secretary secured promises from newspaper men who were present not to print the speech at all. It is said that Mr. Cannon openly declared that the south is handling the negro question as it ought to be handled. He said that the southern people only knew the ins and outs of the problem and his sympathies were with them. Without calling the constitutional amendments by name, he praised such a measure, throwing restrictions, as it does around the ballot box. It is further said that he spoke strongly for state's rights. This sort of talk naturally surprises those who heard the czar of the house. His hearers were amazed and his friends alarmed for there was no telling how much the damage it might do up north among the negroes should such a tale leak out. Accordingly it was suppressed and the Lexington man expressed deep surprise that the interesting story was not handled while hot and fresh. The full, accurate account of the affair may now be expected to come out since this report, incomplete and perhaps, inaccurate in some respects, has been printed."

LIGHTNING'S DEADLY WORK

Eight Men Stricken by Angry Bolt in Pamlico County.

News comes from Arapahos, Pamlico county, of the fearful and fatal violence of Wednesday's storm. Eight men were stricken to the ground, one of them to rise no more. The fatality occurred on the farm of Mr. John W. Rawls, who lives about two miles from Arapahos postoffice.

There were a number of men at work in the field. Among them Mr. Rawls, the owner of the farm. When the storm came up, they took refuge under a shelter provided for such emergencies. As the violence of the storm increased, the lightning became absolutely terrific, striking in many places. One bolt descended upon the structure under which the men were sheltered, tore it to pieces and hurled them to the ground, eight being completely stunned. Seven of them revived afterwards but one, a colored man named Richard Thomas was found to be killed outright. Some of the stricken men are white, the others colored and several of them are said to be suffering a good deal from the effects of the shock.

The storm damaged the crops severely.

Designer for July.

One cannot truthfully say that patriotism is dying out when the magazines, which are merely reflectors, show the national holidays as faithfully as they do. The Designer is up-to-date in this as in other respects in its July number. The sketch "How the Flag Came by the Name of 'Old Glory,'" is of considerable historical interest. And a very graceful and well illustrated story, "The Colonel's Coming" also is appropriate for the war-holiday. To the wood-architect, or any man fond of making his house or parts of his house of rough-hewn trees, the article entitled "Building with Trees" will appeal strongly. The little girls will find one of the prettiest flower plays they ever took part in called "Fairly Godmother's Botany Lesson." It is a composition of such true poetic fancy that the older folks will linger over it and wish they could take part too. As for the fashions in the July Designer, the addition of two successful and clever artists of the day to the staff fashion illustrators, now makes the illustrations help in the making of the dress. The dress-makers' article gives full directions for the construction of a dainty summer costume. The traveling girl also will find directions for a practical and inexpensive outfit for boat and train use.

Georgia Day Monday, at Jamestown.

Norfolk, Va., June 7.—Rear Admiral Evans, with the Connecticut, flagship, the Ohio, the Iowa and the Indiana, is off the Chesapeake capes, where he will collect 14 battleships and cruisers and anchor them at Hampton Roads today.

Georgia day at the Jamestown Exposition, which will be observed Monday, will, so far as the naval display is concerned, probably be the greatest day of the Exposition. There will be more ships present at Hampton Roads on that day than there were at the opening, or than there will be at any subsequent day. This is true of foreign as well as domestic ships.

The president will review the combined foreign and United States fleet. As he approaches in the Mayflower more than 35 ships will roar simultaneous salve of 20 guns each; and then as he passes each ship will singly fire a 31 gun salute.

All ships will be full dressed with a rainbow of bunting, and at night all will be illuminated. The midshipmen and a naval brigade of 3,000 men will land at the Exposition grounds and take part in a large parade, which will be reviewed by the president on shore.

Asylum of St. John's Commandery No. 10 Knights Templar.

To the Eminent Commander and Sir Knights: The sad and mournful funeral knell has betekened that another spirit has winged its flight to a new state of existence. An alarm has come to the door of our Asylum and the Messenger was Death, and none presumed to say to the awful presence, "Who dares approach?" A pilgrim warrior has been summoned, and there is no discharge in that War." A burning taper of life, in our Commandery, has been extinguished, and none, save the High and Holy One, can relight it. All that remains of our beloved companion, Sir Knight Needham Case, lies silent in the grave, and the light of the eye, and the breath of the lips, in their language of fraternal greeting, has ceased for us forever on this side the grave. His sword, vowed only to be drawn in the cause of truth, justice and rational liberty, reposes in its scabbard, and our arms can no more shield him from wrong and oppression.

Therefore it is mete at such a time that we should be silent, and let the words of the Infinite and undying speak, that we may gather consolation from His revelations and impress upon our minds lessons of wisdom and instruction, and the meekness of preparation for the last great change, which must come upon us all.

Sir Knight Needham Case was a true and courteous Knight, and has fallen in life's struggle full knightly, with his armor on, and the memory of his virtues and worth lingers in our remembrance and reflects its shining lustre beyond the tomb. The earthen vase, which has contained precious odors, will lose none of its fragrance, though the clay be broken and shattered. So be it with our Brother's memory.

Sir Knight, farewell. Light be the ashes upon thee, and may the sunshine of Heaven beam bright on thy waking.

To his bereaved and mourning family and friends, we have but little worldly consolation to offer, but we do tender to them our heart-felt sympathies, and hope the solemn and interesting ceremonies attendant upon the interment of the mortal remains of our deceased Brother, and Sir Knight have pointed them to a higher hope and better consolation.

Resolved, That a copy of these expressions of our condolence be spread upon the minutes of our Commandery, one furnished to the family, and a copy furnished the New Bern Daily Journal and Orphan's Friend for publication.
