Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 24.—There has certainly been a very marked interest in the debate between Craig and Kitchin at Wadesboro, Saturday. All sorts of rumors are current. The Craig men say they are tremendously in the lead and will have no trouble whatever to win. The Kitchin men are quieter, but talk as if they were confident and it is asserted that Ashley Horne will be able to show a much larger vote than his opponents expect and that he will hold the balance of power. One man said today that in case of a dead lock between Craig and Kitchin he thought the friends of either of them would rather go to Horne than to either of the other men. One man intimated that if there was a deadlock some dark horse might be brought in such as Charles B. Aycock for example.

The white republicans in this State are not giving themselves any concern about the negroes. They say the negroes do not vote in Wake county, and elsewhere not worth the trouble of calculating anywhere in the State. Some of the negroes seem to be rather sullen towards the white republicans and talk that way. The white republicans remember, however, that after they had formed their lily-white party and held conventions without the negro in South Carolina, Georgia and Texas, in 1896, the negroes held conventions and took the matter up to the National Republican committee which threw out the lily-whites. Conditions now are pretty much the same as they were then and the only question is what the negroes are going to do. The white Republicans here say the Northern and Western sentiment is for the negro, because he is an important voter in certain States in those sections but they add that if the white Republicans in the north and west came here and remained a little while they will sing a very different tune.

The North Carolina Society of Cinematograph has elected its former officers, Wilson B. Smith, being president and Marshall Delaney Haywood of Raleigh, secretary. (There are 10 members of whom five are new ones, these being: Walter W. Watt, of Charlotte; George Washington Polk of San Antonio, Texas; James Boyd, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Louis A. Fallgout, of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis; and Robert J. Breward, of Charlotte.) At April the general Society in the United States will meet at Charleston. It holds such meetings every three years.

The enrollment in the white schools of Raleigh now reaches 1,611, and in the colored schools 1,185.

The Seaboard Air Line asks leave of the Corporation Commission to take off its shoe-fly train, against which act the Raleigh Merchants protest. The road claims that the train is not a money-maker.

All the Baptist tabernacles yesterday great congregations heard two sermons by William D. Upshaw of Atlanta, so well known as a temperance advocate. The anti-prohibition campaign is now in full swing.

On Trial For Embezzlement. Mr. Sam Brown's well known friend of Croatan, was on trial before magistrate W. K. Baxter yesterday on the charge of larceny. Mr. C. J. Jordan, who has a shop near Croatan, testified that articles consisting of shirts and blouses, granite ware, cups and saucers, coffee pot, knives, forks and spoons, were taken from the shop and had been located in Brown's house. Deputy Sheriff E. J. White and Mr. Jordan testified positively to the same thing.

SECOND MURDER OF CHIEF OF POLICE

Fayetteville Constabulary Again Deprived of Head—Killed While Performing His Duty

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 23.—For the second time within a year Fayetteville's chief of police has been murdered. H. Benton, the head of the constabulary of the city, was shot about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at about the intersection of a negro-owned street and a main street. The murder was committed a short time after the shooting occurred, and is now being investigated in full force.

The circumstances of the murder were as follows: Benton, a negro, 35 years old, and five feet 2 1/2 inches tall, living little more than an hour. The murderer was captured a short time after the shooting occurred, and is now being investigated in full force. The circumstances of the murder were as follows: Benton, a negro, 35 years old, and five feet 2 1/2 inches tall, living little more than an hour. The murderer was captured a short time after the shooting occurred, and is now being investigated in full force.

Jack Crosswell, a lad, hearing the pistol shot, ran up at once and attempted to arrest the murderer, but the latter snapped his pistol at the boy and broke away. Mr. J. B. Underwood next appeared and the negro fled, firing a wild shot at Mr. Underwood as he ran. Charles Benton, the 7-year-old son of the wounded man, ran to his father's assistance, as he fell and caught up the latter's revolver as it dropped from his belt. As he negro fled the youth fired three shots after him, one of them taking effect, as developed after the capture was made. Officer Benton was carried into his residence, suffering great agony, and lingered for a little more than an hour, passing away about the time his murderer was being placed under arrest.

News of the murder and the escape of the murderer spread rapidly through the city, and excitement became intense. Sheriff Watson and his deputies and thirty police were at once endeavoring to track the fugitive and hastily organized posse of citizens were speedily scouring the scene of the crime.

Reps For His Life. The murderer was detected by Mr. Smith crouching in a ditch in the Hawley field, about a quarter of a mile from the scene of his crime, and was in the act of removing a sweater he wore. Mr. Smith rode rapidly to the place of hiding and the murderer immediately surrendered without resistance, begging for his life and expressing penitence for his act.

After the arrest was made it was found that the prisoner had a pistol shot wound in his right groin, and it is supposed to have resulted from one of the shots fired by Charles Benton, the son of the murdered officer. As the young man states that the fleeing negro staggered after one of the shots. The wound is not considered dangerous, but it doubtless impeded the flight of the criminal and prevented his escape.

As Sheriff Watson conveyed his prisoner to the jail in a buggy there were some slight demonstrations along the way and two feeble and futile attempts to take the negro from him. One of these attempts was near the jail, when a wheel of the buggy was broken through, striking an obstruction; and the buggy falling to the ground, a band of about twenty-five men closed in around the party, demanding the prisoner, but Sheriff Watson refused to surrender the man with his rifle and hurried the prisoner to the jail. As they entered the jail the prisoner was taken to the jail yard and there he was severely beaten over the head with fists and sticks, but no serious injury was done him.

HEARST'S PARTY PERFORM

Will Hold Convention and Name President and Vice-President

Chicago, Feb. 22.—According to the plans of William Randolph Hearst, the Independence League is to be named the "National Party."

At a conference today of the Independence League, three hundred delegates, representing thirty-three States, assembled at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Hearst was absent, but his presence was anticipated. The delegates have adjourned to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President.

The objects of the Independence League are to conserve for the citizens of the United States the rights and liberties won for them by the founders of this government, to perpetuate the principles and policies upon which the nation's greatness has been built. The league is devoted to the preservation of American liberty, to honesty in elections, to opportunity in business, to equality before the law.

The declaration advocates nomination of all candidates, popular election of the United States Senators and judges and legislation prohibiting the use of money at elections except for meetings, literature and the necessary traveling expenses of candidates. An income tax is advocated, as is public ownership of all public utilities, when municipal, State and national governments are in a position to undertake this. The immediate purchase of the telegraph lines is made an issue separately. The referendum is endorsed, over-capitalization of industries is condemned, and the league declares that the right to issue money is inherent in the Government and that further "necessary issues should be made by the Government and loaned to the banks upon securities approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Union labor organizations are incensed when they tend to bring about a "just distribution of wealth," and laws for an eight-hour work-day. The enforced use of safety appliances in industrial undertakings and the right of trial by jury in contempt cases are favored.

As to railroads, the League demands Federal and State inspection for the promotion of safety, the abolition of rebates, the procuring of cheaper rates and the securing of the right to shippers to appeal to courts in case the roads fail to furnish and move freight cars. A court review and enforce the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission is suggested.

A revision of the tariff by grading, reduction of schedules, postal savings banks, Federal aid for good roads, national incorporation laws and a strong navy are advocated. A ship subsidy for the development of commerce, and the extension of the reserve navy force is indicated.

The document ends with an approval of the project to complete a ship canal from the Gulf of Mexico to the great lakes, and of the extension programme now contemplated by the Government.

Death of Mr. John Ellis. Mr. John Ellis died at his home on Pollock street yesterday afternoon, after illness of a little more than two weeks duration. He at first suffered with rheumatism but it was not relieved as serious until Friday when he had a slight stroke of paralysis, which was followed by a complete paralysis of the right side of his body.

Mr. John Ellis was in his fifty-fifth year and was born in this house adjoining the one where he died. That house had always been his home until about three years ago. He conducted a very successful business enterprise in the city and had a fine wood yard, and had been a truck farmer on an extensive scale. For about fourteen years he had been feeble, but with wonderful pluck and energy, he continued his business affairs even when harassed by sickness. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church and loved worship there.

The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church at half past three o'clock this afternoon.
