EDUCATIONAL ARTISANS

THE SCHOOL EXHIBIT NOW IN PROGRESS ONE OF THE BEST AIDS FOR THE INSTANTUTION

THE PRODUCTS OF ONLY WORK

A New and Original Idea of Showing the Public What is Being Done at School—Pupils' Work of a High Order of Merit—Next and Current in All Details—Kindergarten Methods Successfully Adopted.

The exhibition in progress at the Graded School is a feature in our educational work never before attempted and as far as learned is entirely original with Superintendent Craven. Since its inception he has had the hearty co-operation of the teachers and scholars in arranging it and the result is what every one can see who visits the building. It is the development of the school life and gives a splendid idea of the broadening influence that modern methods in educational matters have. It is doubtful if a more complete arrangement could be shown at any better advantage than that which is on display at the school.

The Journal will not undertake to tell all about the exhibition in this issue; as it continues today and tomorrow, the description of the work can be continued tomorrow with as much interest as it does today.

Upon entering the building the first booth or display on the right is that of Miss Heath and Miss Richardson, of the first grade. This consists of work by the smallest children of the school. Kindergarten work is successfully introduced in this department, and the capability of the children is fully demonstrated. Paper cutting and painting is seen in various forms, butterflies, birds, puff balls and parrots, and animals made of paper indicate that the little ones are learning to use their hands as well as their minds and eyes. There was some writing copy books by the children of this department, which were very creditable.

On the opposite side of the entrance was the display of the advanced first grade, Miss Leslie Hancock, teacher. In this department drawings original stories from illustrations have been designed there. Puppets, children's stories and fables were written in a clear and concise way, and the writing is very pretty and legible script. Among the drawings in this department is a picture of an Indian woman with some of the accessories which is very clever. The exercises of letter writing gives evidence that though the pupils are young, they are capable correspondents.

In the first room at the right, will be found under Miss Ferrebee's display some drawings by Master John McDaniel, which, for a boy of his age, are remarkable. Three drawings are the product of his skillful pencil, the Methodist church, the court house and the high school building. The sketches are correct and show an artistic talent which will one day be of pecuniary value to him. In the same exhibit are two colored maps of South America by Miss Louise Broadbent and Johnny Jones, which are very good. Arithmetic tests standing from 100 per cent down to a low grade is a part of this exhibit. The spelling lessons are remarkable for their correctness and words. A letter by Master Ulrich Howard describing the Jamestown Expedition is also a part of this exhibit. The epistle tells a very interesting story and indicates that the lad used his eyes while at the big show.

Miss Hollister's grade (4th) has an exhibit in the same room and in that are contained some memory sketches on the study of grammar, with the spelling, punctuation and proper grammatical construction to be perfected by the students. Leading in this exercise were Carl Dixon, Willie Dixon, Janet Hill and Nellie Warren.

Miss Cook's grade, 4th, presented work in history. Chief in this line is a large card containing the photographs of all the presidents of the United States, with a brief sketch of their administration given by members of the history class. What especially strikes about this exhibition is that although several papers appeared in the sheet books as if written by the children, they were actually written by the teacher.

Another book contained the Latin class translations of Caesar, and another of physical geography with illustrations of subjects made with correct map of the object drawn. Miss Rita Nunn, teacher of 3B Grade showed some exercises in arithmetic which were models of neatness. The making of paper forms and examples of nature study were fine. Miss Lisette Hand, teacher of 3C Grade, had an interesting exhibit. Her scholars made several stories which were merely indicated by pictures in common use. For instance under the heading of "The Story of Butter" first was the cow, then the milk or cream, then the churn. On the same order was "The Story of Cloth and Bread." A unique and impressive display.

A pretty and picturesque scene was made by the pupils of Miss Ruth Berry's grade, describing an equine village, all made of paper.

Music was given by the High School orchestra, and it was highly enjoyable, as the rest. The members were Ruth Watson, Cora Mungler, Willie Blades and James Howard, violins; and Mary Mitchell and Lila May Willis, pianists.

The oral exercises consisted in classes in reading by Miss Heath, geometry by Miss Jenkins; reading by Miss Nunn; and Latin by Miss Cahoon.

The public who are interested in the development and progress of the school should not fail to visit this exhibition. They will be surprised and delighted at this event and will have nothing but praise for the work of the teachers. Let it be remembered that all these exercises are daily school work and are not specially prepared for the occasion; consequently the work is all the more valuable.

The attendance yesterday was large and very appreciative. We believe that when the parents really know what the schools are doing for their children they will show more interest. The Journal will continue the account tomorrow.

The most interesting features in Miss Mollie Heath's exhibit of 1st grade work in the writing specimens "sketch in October and recently are side by side.

Supreme Court Opinions

Special to Journal.

Releigh, N. C., April 8.—The Supreme court delivered the following opinions in ten appeals today.

Ives vs. Lumber Co., from Craven, no error.

Bank vs. Paragoy-Jenkins Co., from New Hanover, reversed.

Bryan vs. Eason, Johnston county, affirmed.

Biggers vs. Matthews, from Union, no error.

Manning and Mann vs. Telephone Co., from Durham, affirmed.

Reagan vs. Wilson, from Durham, reversed.

Chapel vs. North Carolina Railroad, from Durham, per curiam, dismissed for non-compliance with rule 19 (2).

Sergeant vs. Currie, from Guilford, dismissed for non-compliance with rule 19 (2).

Mills vs. Sisco Lumber Co., from Montgomery, appeal withdrawn.

Sanford Bank and Blind Co. vs. S. A. Ry., from Moore, compromised.

Remember your experience with the traveling opticians. Money gone—no benefit. J. G. Baxter, Graduate Philadelphia Optical College.

Rev. Dr. J. V. Hicks, writes: I have had a roaring and howling noise in my head for the last 15 years which affected my hearing so that it made me quite deaf. I could not get relief until I used Doctor Vinberg's treatment. I am happy to say it cured me and I can now hear the slightest sound.

My Dear Doctor Vinberg:

You are a blessing to me for you have made me see with your glasses what I could not see for many years. I am gratefully yours, Very Respectfully,

WM. J. HARKER, M. D., Washington, D. C.

Mr. D. O. Karmia, of Goldsboro, said: I suffered with catarrh which affected my sight, hearing and my health in general. Dr. Vinberg's treatment cured me and I think it will be permanently. I feel relief from the first treatment.

Judge Ed. B. Clark, said in his letter of March 19th: Dr. Vinberg, I got the glasses you made for my eyes. They are a blessing of rain and I can't say too much for you and your kind and good work.

Thousands of others say the same. Dr. Vinberg is now at the Gaston Hotel, and will remain here until the next Saturday evening, April 11th.

EXPERIMENT OF GRAPES

Uncle Sam to Emphasize Culture of Grape

Vineland, N. J., April 8.—Final papers were signed today by Secretary Wilson, of the United States Agricultural Department for the establishment here of an experimental vineyard for the Middle Atlantic States.

The department has set aside ten acres on the Vineland Grape Juice Company's farm for this purpose. The plot will be under the control of Prof. Hosman, viticulturist, and Mr. Scherer, pathologist, of the department, assisted by Dr. E. B. Voorhees, of the New Jersey Experiment Station.

It is the intention to cultivate some fifty varieties of grapes to determine the very best to raise in these States. The department will also experiment on the manufacture and preservation of grape juice in the company's factory, with a view to making a perfect juice.

To Reimburse "Freedmen"

Washington, D. C., April 8.—A bill that has been pending in Congress for more than twenty-five years, passed the Senate today. It provides for the payment of about $1,291,744 to 61,131 depositors in the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company.

The company was chartered by Congress at the close of the civil war in order that negroes might have a secure place to deposit their earnings. Although not guaranteed by the Government, many negroes placed funds in the institution in the belief that it was. The concern failed through bad management, owing $2,939,925. Dividends aggregating 62 per cent, have been declared from time to time, leaving $1,291,744 unpaid.

In apportioning dividends it was found that $16,000 was not called for and is now on hand. Such portion of this as does not find a lawful owner within a year is to revert to the Government. It was proposed to distribute it among educational institutions in the South, but the opposition to it was too strong.

Little Girl Loyal to the Confederacy

St. Louis, April 8.—Madge Bartlett, aged 7, is a pupil in the Dexter School and one of the brightest, according to Miss Sayers, her teacher. Today the teacher noticed that Madge was the only one in the room who did not utter a word when the class began to sing "Marching Through Georgia."

"That song is a disgrace to the South," said the child, "and if I sang A, my dear old friend, Mr. Robert would turn over in his grave."

Madge referred to the late Rev. P. C. Robert, for twenty-nine years pastor of the Church of the Holy Communion and a strong Southern sympathizer.

The children of the class were given colored crayons and told to draw the flag of their country.

"Why, Madge, what flag is this you have drawn?" the teacher asked.

"It's the flag of the Confederacy," replied the little girl. "That's my flag. It's the only one I know."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT JOINS HOUSE MEMBERS FROM STATES INTERESTED IN THE PROJECT

CONGRESSMAN THOMAS BUSY

Calls Meeting North Carolina Representative—In Consultation Public Building Bill—Congressman Pou Devises Any Political Deal—Personal Mention.

Special to Journal.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—There will be no ship subsidy legislation at this session of Congress. The House Committee on Post Offices by a vote of 8 to 7 in which three Republicans joined with the Democratic members voted against reporting the bill. Representative John H. Small, a member of the committee, who spoke in the House against the proposition, took a leading part in the committee deliberation. The task of preparing a minority report had been assigned to him in the event that the vote to report prevailed. The adverse action of the committee makes this unnecessary.

The Senate bill, which Senator Simmons introduced confines the extension of the ocean mail lines to revenues derived from ocean mail service was before the committee, but the sentiment of the majority was against this measure. Stafford of Wisconsin, Murdock, of Kansas and Hoggett of Colorado, were the Republicans who acted with the Democrats.

The project of a great inland water way, extending from Boston to Key West, Fla., was again discussed with President Roosevelt today. Members of the House, from States interested being present. They were representatives Moore, of Pennsylvania, Small of North Carolina, Goulden of New York, Wanger of Pennsylvania, Capron of Rhode Island and Burton of Delaware. About a week ago a bill was introduced in the House providing for a survey for a sixteen foot inland water way from Boston to Beaufort, N. C.

Mr. Moore said that from his investigations he believed it perfectly feasible to connect up the various waterway arteries, so as to permit vessels going from Boston to Key West. A sixteen foot channel would not be necessary, though, from Beaufort, N. C., to Key West. It is now proposed to amend the bill recently introduced so as to provide for a survey of the entire Atlantic coast as far as Key West. The President repeated what he has so often declared, that he feels a deep concern in the improvement of this water way. The president was glad to know that ways will be made to provide a survey. His callers told him they would report progress to him at intervals, and would be glad to receive suggestions and assistance from him. Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped to make trip over the proposed route.

Representative Thomas has called a meeting of the North Carolina members tomorrow, for the purpose of getting the views of all the representatives with regard to the Public Building bill. Mr. Thomas, who is a member of the Public Building Committee, is disposed to have all ten districts represented in the measure.

Messrs. Clement Manly and Hugh Chatham appeared today before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of interstate freight rates.

There is no truth in the published report that Representative Pou has entered into a political deal by which he is to receive certain support for the nomination this fall, with the understanding that he is to retire from Congress two years hence. Mr. Pou gave emphatic denial to the story today.

Mrs. R. B. Glenn and daughter, Miss Rebecca Glenn, who have been here for several days, left today for home.

Mrs. Charles H. Thomas is here to be with her husband, and will remain throughout the session.

The boys and girls in the sixth grade have worked out with skillfully a very interesting diagram of the Southern States. The boys have one and the girls the other, do up and have them again each to read and then vice as a group a story for the day.
