PROF. BROOKS AT DOVER

Delivers Powerful Address. Many People Present.

Special Correspondence.

Dover, Feb. 11.—Mr. E. C. Brooks, of Trinity College delivered an address here yesterday evening at eight o'clock in Richardson's hall to a large and appreciative audience composed of the students of the Dover State high school and citizens of Dover. From the very first moment Mr. Brooks captivated his audience. His subject was, "Why We Educate or the Purpose of Education". He discussed briefly the education of centuries ago and the criticisms then as compared to the education of today and its criticisms now. He showed the tendencies of all lines of the present day toward the practical side of life, and how attention is being directed toward commerce and especially agriculture. He said that every old pine stands to-day as a living monument of our forefathers' incompetency to use aright what God has given them; that we no longer have text books in the percentage of incompetent teachers who were such firm believers in the three "R's" as we had during the golden age of carpet-baggers and Reconstruction Days, but that today we have educated men, men trained in their work and "they don't teach as they used to"; that we no longer have in our arithmetics such words as "treat", "tare and cloth", but instead we have problems dealing with and pertaining to the commerce of to-day; that man have ceased to prohibit their few lawmen from preaching in the little school-house and characterizing him as "a teacher of false doctrines" just because he does not wear the cloak of their special and narrow creed, but instead we have become more cosmopolitan.

Mr. Brooks spoke forty five minutes and, when he had finished, several audibly remarked, "why did he stop?" He left here on the early train this morning for Morehead where he will deliver an address to the people and school of that town to-night. Tomorrow in New Bern, he will speak to the teachers of Craven Co. in the auditorium of the New Bern high school after which luncheon will be served in the kitchen of the schools' domestic department by a class of the tenth grade girls. Dover boasts of having the only first grade State high school in the country and its Principal is Z. A. Rochelle, a "Naughty S. X." man of Trinity. Mr. Rochelle recently attended a meeting of the principals and superintendents of the southeastern counties of the State which met in Goldsboro last Friday and Saturday. An association of the high school principals was formed and Mr. Rochelle was elected Press Correspondent. He is also Vice-President of the Craven County Teachers Association.

JESSE WHITE HEAD MUST DIE

Found Guilty of Burglary in The First Degree. Will Be Executed April the 29th

As on the previous day, the court room was packed yesterday morning with spectators who were eager to hear every word of the trial of Jesse Whitehead who was on trial for his life for burglary in the first degree, and despite the fact that the crowd was immense every word of the evidence could be distinctly heard in any part of the vast court room.

After the jury had been brought in from the hotel where they had spent the previous night, Mr. Leon Williams arose, and in behalf of his client, the defendant, made a powerful appeal to the jury for the man's life. At the close of his eloquent speech there was hardly a dry eye in the room. At the conclusion of Mr. Williams' brilliant appeal Judge Peebles began his charge to the jury. In his charge he was brief, but covered the principal points in the testimony of the witnesses and the law which covers the crime by which the jury was guided in rendering their decision. At the conclusion of the Judge's charge the jury fled into their room to decide upon the case.

After being out about an hour and ten minutes the jury fled in and rendered their decision which was; that the prisoner was guilty of burglary in the first degree.

At this juncture every person in the court room was motionless, and a pin could have been heard to drop. The prisoner, who had sat in the prisoner's box all through the morning in an apparent state of semi-consciousness evinced no excitement at the verdict, but kept his eyes turned toward the floor.

After ordering the prisoner to stand up, the Judge, in a very solemn manner passed the sentence upon him, which ordered him to be executed at the State's prison in Raleigh, N. C., on the 29th of April next. Even as the awful sentence, which meant the rushing of his soul into eternity was passed, he showed no signs of anxiety or care about his fate, and there was much comment about the powerful nerve and indifference he displayed.

From the outset of the trial, and even at the preliminary trial before the Mayor it was seen that there was a chance for the man who has been committing his depredations in this city for the past twelve months, to escape the electric chair or a life sentence in the penitentiary.

The counsel for the defense made a motion for a new trial but this was refused by the court. It is understood that an appeal for a new trial will be made to the Supreme Court.

Report of the Grand Jury.

The following report in substance was rendered by the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon.

"During the week we were presented with 79 bills of indictment, of these 60 were found to be true bills and 19 not true. There was one case carried over and two presentments made. A committee was appointed to visit the county home and jail, and a number of recommendations were made at each place, one being, that a bath room for the use of the inmates be installed at the county home.

On their visit to the jail the committee conversed with the prisoners and each one expressed themselves as being thoroughly satisfied with the treatment they were receiving and that they had no complaint to make.

It was recommended that a new vault be added to the one now in the Clerk's office, as that one had become so crowded with manuscript and books that it was no longer convenient to those in charge.

It was also recommended that a vault be placed in the sheriff's office in which he could keep his books and valuable papers from possible loss by fire.

C. L. STEVENS, Foreman.

At the completion of their session, which has been an unusually long one, the Grand Jury was complimented by the court for the efficient manner in which they handled their work.

Charles Pate, Leon Dall and Leslie Evans, the young white men who several months ago entered the Southern Express Company's office at Dover and stole several articles, were found guilty of the offense and sentenced to the county jail for a term of 12 months. They have spent three months in jail already, and only nine months remain of their sentence.

State vs Joe Cradle for assault with deadly weapon, he was found guilty and sentenced to a term of 6 months on the county roads.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Met Yesterday Morning in Griffin Memorial Hall. Large Number Present.

The Craven County Teachers' Association which meets each month held their monthly meeting yesterday morning in the Griffin Memorial Hall with about 50 members present.

At the beginning of the meeting short talks on the discipline of scholars in the school room and several instances of practical experience were given by a veral of the teachers. It was finally decided by the members that rather than let a pupil terrorize the teacher and let a pupil in the discipline of the school would be closed up and that locality be without any means of having its children educated.

At this juncture Mr. S. M. Brinson in a few well timed and appropriate remarks introduced the speaker of the day, Prof. E. C. Brooks of Durham N. C. In the opening of his remarks Prof. Brooks, who is an eloquent speaker assured his audience that he was acquainted with the majority of them and was delighted to be able to be with them.

His subject, "The Recitation" was well delivered and many points that interested the large body were discussed and analyzed.

At the conclusion of his address the Domestic Science Department served lunch to the members which was very much enjoyed by all.

Fresh Garden and Flower Seeds, just received at Davis' Pharmacy.

Notice to Republicans.

New Bern N. C. Feb. 12th 1910 To the Republican precinct committee of Craven County.

Your earnest attention is called to the letter of Chairman Adams published below. This is a matter of great importance and if every member of the committee will exercise himself in preparing the voters of his precinct for the coming contest and every voter consider the success of his party in the state paramount above all other considerations North Carolina will have more than three representatives in the next congress.

ROBERT HANCOCK Chairman Craven County Republican Ex. Com.

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 8, 1910. Robert Hancock Chairman of the Republican Committee of Craven County.

My dear sir: as the time is approaching for another election, I feel it proper to call your attention to the great importance of having the fact generally advertised in your county—that no one who is liable to the payment of poll tax can vote in the coming election, unless he pays his poll tax for the year, on or before the first day of May next. I hope you will see that our people attend to this at once.

I would suggest that you call this fact to the attention of your precinct and township committee at once. There is no time for delay. The great gains the party made in the last election, increasing our vote from 79,017 to 114,884, and the election of three Republican Congressmen, with the steady decrease in the Democratic vote since the adoption of the constitutional amendment, clearly demonstrates that this state will soon be in the Republican column, if we will only do our duty. This fact should stimulate every Republican in the state to see that he prepares himself to vote in the coming election.

Let me impress upon you the great importance of looking after this poll tax matter at once, and I would appreciate it if you would let me know how you get along in the matter.

With best wishes and kind regards, I am, Sincerely yours, SPENCER B. ADAMS, Chairman.
