COMING DOWN TO HARD FACTS

It may as well be admitted that there's a little difference in the price of this, that or the other coal per ton on car or cart. There's a lot of difference in the amount of combustible matter—so much goes up the chimney in smoke, or in the ashpans as clinker, when you burn some coal! That's why we are persistent in the effort to get you to buy the right kind of coal.

A TREMENDOUS BIG STOCK IN FACT TWO BIG STOCKS COMBINED IN ONE

I have moved my Kluks branch store here, and have more goods on hand now than ever, and to get rid of same, will of course cut prices on everything. There is no red banner in front of my store, as I am not trying to stimulate business by any false sale. You can save from 20 to 50 per cent on any article you buy at my store. It will pay you to buy your next winter suit or Overcoat now at the prices we will sell at. I must get rid of my tremendous stock in a short time so make room for my Spring and Summer Goods and will sell at almost any price. Come and price our goods and be convinced. Yours to serve,

SUPREME COURT JUDGESHIP

Judge Manning Is Forging Ahead
In The Race For The Nomination.

Durham, Son:

At the next election there will be elected three judges of the Supreme Court—the successors of Chief Justice Clark and Judges Walker and Manning. That Chief Justice Clark and Judge Walker will be each nominated without opposition by the Democratic State Convention seems to be generally conceded. Both these gentlemen have demonstrated their fitness for the Supreme Court Bench and they deserve the unopposed nomination of the party. The nomination of Judge Manning to succeed himself is alone contested; the gentleman who is making this contest is Judge W. R. Allen, of Goldsboro.

Upon what ground is this contest made?

The letters sent out by the committee in charge of Judge Allen's campaign place his contest upon the ground that he has discharged well the duties of Judge of the Superior Court for about eight years and in this position rendered splendid service to the people of the State.

We have no desire and no purpose to detract one particle from this fine service. But is this alone sufficient? There are other Judges upon our Superior Court Bench whose legal ability is generally recognized as equal to Judge Allen's and whose service on the Bench has been large. If splendid service on the Superior Court Bench and length of service furnish the reason for promotion, then there are some Superior Court Judges who outrank Judge Allen in length of service and who equal him in ability.

But why should Judge Manning alone, of three members of the Court to be nominated, be denied a nomination? Judge Manning was appointed by Governor Kitchen to fill the vacancy caused by Judge Connor's resignation; some one had to be appointed of course, and the Governor is vested by law with the appointing power.

Judge Allen's name was presented to the Governor; so was Judge Manning's, so were the names of other able lawyers in the State. Governor Kitchen had to decide, and he appointed Judge Manning. The consensus of the State press comments at the time of the appointment was that the Governor had made no mistake. Judge Manning's work as a member of the Supreme Court has confirmed this opinion (of the press) and the wisdom of the Governor in the appointment. Governor Kitchen, of course, knew Judge Manning well, not only as a lawyer, but as a man and a Democrat. So far as we can hear, the lawyers of the State speak in terms of high praise of Judge Manning's opinions as a Judge of our Supreme Court. We accept their judgment upon that point.

Appointed by a Democratic Governor and having "made good" on the Supreme Court Bench, Judge Manning is entitled to the nomination of our party, according to its unbroken custom and precedent. The endorsement of the Governor's appointment by nomination has, as we recall, been refused a very few times—three times by District Conventions, but never, as we recall, by a State Convention.

Had Judge Connor remained on our Superior Court Bench, the friends of Judge Allen would not be running him against Judge Connor. Why, then, are they trying to defeat Judge Manning, who every learned lawyer in the State concedes, is filling the position with great ability and fidelity? Under the circumstances the inference that there is a purpose to rebuke the Governor is so natural that those who prepared the letters sent out from Judge Allen's headquarters in his behalf could not overlook it; but in writing to the known friends of the administration state they are not fighting the Governor or his administration, although they are asking that the Governor's most important appointment, one of the most important acts of his administration be repudiated.

Judge Manning's friends are not asking his nomination merely because the Governor appointed him. He is his opponent's equal in every respect—in learning, in ability, in experience, in temperament, in Democracy, in character. His ambition for the Supreme Bench is as laudable and as well founded as his opponent's. He was called from an active practice to wear judicial honors while his opponent was enjoying them. He was honored without hurting his opponent. His opponent is seeking an honor which will necessarily hurt him, and also hurt the administration, and this too, without helping the Democratic party. We submit to thoughtful men that Judge Manning, or the rebuke to the Governor, which Judge Manning's defeat would necessarily involve. Many men have the ability, the character, and the ambition to adorn the Supreme Bench, but heretofore they have not sought it under circumstances that now exist, so far as we can recall. We are not questioning the right of any one at any time to seek any office at the hands of the people, but we ask

IN THE REALM OF SOCIETY

Miss Grace Munger Entertains
Miss Harriett Dill Gives Birthday Party to Young Friends.

One of the most delightful social events of the season in the younger set was the birthday party Friday evening from 8 until 11 o'clock by Miss Grace Munger to about thirty of her young friends in honor of her 14th birthday at her home 173 Middle street.

The large drawing room was artistically decorated, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white. During the evening refreshments were served the guests by Misses Nettie Rawlins and Louise Jones.

All of the guests voted the young hostess a charming entertainer and wished her many other happy birthdays.

Last Thursday afternoon from four until six o'clock Miss Harriett Dill Green entertained a large number of her little friends at the home of her grand parents, Mr and Mrs. T. A. Green on the corner of Hancock and Pollock streets. The occasion marked the 6th milestone in the life of the little hostess who was made very happy by the giving of her first party. These little pleasure seekers played the games so dear to a child's heart for an hour or two, after which delightful refreshments were served to them. The elegant drawing room was a scene that was enough to make the heart of any child thrill with anticipated pleasures. Tastefully decorated from every angle, ice, peeped delicate waving fans and cornations, carrying out effectively the color scheme of green and white.

All of the little guests enjoyed themselves as having spent a delightful and pleasant afternoon and wished their little hostess many other happy birthdays.

Bronchial Tubes All Stuffed Up

"While a resident of Washington, D. C., I suffered continually and intensely with a bronchial trouble that was simply terrible to endure. I would have spells that I could hardly breathe, I would choke up, fill up my throat and bronchial tubes, and the doctoring that I did and the remedies used were of no benefit to me whatever. I heard about Booth's Hyomei being so beneficial in catarrhal and bronchial affections and procured an outfit. I received relief from the first by its use. I continued with it and received a cure. It is about two years since I have suffered at all from my former trouble." Mrs. R. L. Tannell, 404 N. Augusta Street, Staunton, Va. March 25, 1909.

Hyomei is guaranteed by Bradham Drug Co. to cure catarrh, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back.
A complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) outfit, cost $1.00 at drug-gists everywhere. This includes a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomei; extra bottles Hyomei 50c each.
