Knocked Down By Wife And Rendered Unconscious. Regains Cousciousness And Finds Himself on Railroad

Spencer, Feb. 25, - Declaring that he had been clubbed into unconsciousness and placed on a railroad track near Spencer last night, Thomas Whalen created considerable excitement here today. He asserts that while engaged in a family brawl his wife knocked him down with a chair and that by unknown parties he was placed on the railway track in order to end his life. Regain ing consciousness before a train passed, he crawled off the roadway and saved

Another version of the affair, which s shrouded in mystery, is that Whalen and his wife were both drinking and engaged in a free-for- all-fight in which the woman got the best of the battle. Both, however, were budly used up and appeared on the streets today with heads bandaged. Fearing an arrest for wife beating, Whalen left tonight for parts unknown. He has been an . mploye of the Southern railway for a number of years.

To the People of North Carolina: The North Carolina Historical Comssion in making a collection of the letters and papers of Gov Z B. Vance, with a view to their preservation and publication. Through the co-operation of Mrs. Vance several thousands of such documents have been secured, making one of the most important manuscript collections ever made by the State. The publication of these papers will do more to establish the State's Confederate history beyond dispute than any other collection in exis-

But, unfortunately, this collection contains but few of Governor Vance's own letters, most of those in the collection being letters received by him It is most important that the publication should contain as many of his own. fetters as possible.

The Historical Commission, therefore, takes this means of requesting those who possess letters of Governor Vance to turn them over to the Commission, either for permanent preservation or for copying. No letter or paper is so unimportant or trivial but that it may have jts place in such a collection; and, we think, the parsonnel of the Historical Commission is sufficiet guarantee that no improper use will be made of any letter or paper. The publication has the sanction of Mrs. Vance.

Nor is the publication a private enterprise undertaken for the purpose of making money. It will be issued by the urpose is to perpetute the fame of North Carolina's best beloved son, to extend the reputation of the State, and to make available for the historian the naterial for studying her history durng its greatest epoch. Any person, therefore, who possesses letter or other document of Governor Jan 1 to bel. ance will render a service to his memory and to the good same of the State by co-operating with the Historical Com-mission in this work. Due credit will By Wm McCarthy. be given to all who help to forward this work. All communications should be directed to the Scrretary at Raleigh The North Carolina Historical Commis-

Ashaville Feb 25-A sad case of non 4.94 compos mentis, recently reported to the 25 00 police authorities, culminated today 75 00 when officers were forced to take into custody Mrs. Sarah Gaddis and cause her detention in police headquarters 50 00 swaiting an investigation into her sanity 50 00 Mrs. Gaddis, it is said, has been men-50 00 tally unbalanced for several weeks but 50 00 her ailment only recently took a turn 50 00 when, it is alleged, she attempted selfdestruction in various and sundry ways This morning policeman McConnell 597 78 went to the abode of Mrs Gaddis and 41 60 with assistance caused her removed to

The case is unusually sad. The lady's husband is now, it is said, doing time in South Carolina when he was sent up four years ago for a term of seven convicted in Bancombe charged with larceny and sent to the roads. A daughter, scarcely more that 14 years of age, has been her mother's sole dependence for weeks if not months. The child, well-raised and hard working, has now no home; she is denied the privilege of schooling by season of the illness of her mother and of necessity some chari tably disposed person must take the child, raise her, and make of her a useful member of the community.

A community advances in proportion to the effort put forth by its citizenship.

Every citizen may assist in developing New Bern.

The business man could do so by joining the CHAM-BER OF COMMERCE, attend its meetings and divide time between his business and his COMMUNITY'S WEL-FARE.

The citizens generally could do so by TRADING at HOME instead of sending the money they make at New Bern to other parts of the country.

Lets co-operate, advance, progress and grow.
