Officers of Recently Organized Royal Fraternity Arrested For Fraud.

Roanoke, Va., April 11—Joseph Button, insurance commissioner of Virginia came here today and swore out warrants for J. W. Elliott supreme national commander of the Royal Fraternity, and W. L. Peters, supreme national secretary of the same order charging them with doing business without a charter from the state corporation and without a license from the state insurance bureau. Mr. Button stated that Elliott and Peters will later be charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Elliott went before Judge Berkeley and was released on $300 bail. Peters is out of town but will be arrested on his return.

An examiner from the state insurance department was sent here yesterday to investigate the affairs of the Royal Fraternity, which was organized two months ago. He found $206 in the treasury, whereas the orders advertisements claim resources of more than $3,000,000. Total collection of the Fraternity amounted to $350.

Archdeacon Webber Holds the First Service of the Mission

Last night at eight o'clock Archdeacon Webber held the first service of the weeks Mission in Christ Church, a large congregation made up of all denominations being present. The Archdeacon preached in his usual impressive and powerful manner St. John 3:16. "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life."

He brought out the greatness of God's love for man as expressed in these words and by many beautiful illustrations he showed the power of love in man which tells us of the greater power of God's love.

It is safe to say that all who heard him will be anxious to return each day and night while he remains with us. It is a rare treat and great blessing to be allowed to hear such sermons as Archdeacon Webber preaches.

The services of the Mission will be each day Holy Communion 7:45 a. m. Prayer and Sermon 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. The Rector and people of Christ church cordially invite all the people of New Bern to come to the Mission.

"THE LAND OF NOD"

The following Items was Clipped From the Greensboro Daily News:

One of the largest crowds ever gathered in the Grand opera house witnessed the "Land of Nod" last night. It is a musical extravaganza of spectacular situation and clever comedy. The chorus work is the strongest part of the performance, there being no stars among the soloists. From the standpoint of moral tone, "The Land of Nod" is one of the best that has visited Greensboro and there was positively nothing said or displayed to warrant the expectations of obscenity aroused by the action of the local authorities the other day in having some of the advertising matter removed from the billboards. "The Land of Nod" is all right, and pleased as cultured and refined and chaotic an audience as ever attended a Greensboro theatre.

Big Fire Sunday Night.

Just a few minutes before 11 o'clock Sunday night the watchman at Meadows Ship Yard discovered that one of the large buildings used by that company as a storage house was on fire. The alarm of fire was turned in and both companies were soon on the scene. Several feet of kiln dried lumber was stored in the building and this caused the flames to arise to an unusual height attracting a large crowd.

By efficient work the fire companies succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before any of the adjoining buildings were destroyed however several of these ignited and were slightly damaged.

The loss to the building including the lumber and several machines that were stored in it is estimated at $2,500 which is partially covered by insurance.

BECOMES MARTYR AFTER PREACHING

Frank Skala, Mission Worker, Shot Down on Leaving Fulpit

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11—A sermon on "Martyrdom" in which Frank Skala, editor and prominent mission worker, had declared himself willing to lay down his life for the Christian cause, was followed by his assassination in a highly sensational manner and the shooting down also of a fellow church leader, John Gay.

Arm in arm, the two missionaries were leaving the little Congregational Church in Wood's Run, a suburb, at the head of more than 100 fugitives. A ragged, and collared man forced his way through the crowd, and when he was out a step behind the leaders he pressed a revolver to Skala's head and fired twice. The missionary fell dead. Gay, who threw up his right hand, was struck first in the thumb and then a second bullet was buried in his head. He fell unconscious across the lifeless body of his colleague.

The mad man was Jan Radowitch, a character known to most of the missions for his shiftless habits, slovenly dress and radical opinions. A moment before he had intently read from the juvenile leaflets in the Sunday school, led by Skala, and at the commencement of the services Skala had shaken his hand in greeting. In all this Radowitch had given no warning of his murderous intent.

Why is it Allowed?

It is said that competition is the life of trade, this is doubtless true and to see this easily exemplified all that is necessary is to walk up to the Norfolk & Southern depot and see a howling, scrambling bunch of young colored bootblacks collecting trade.

There are at least ten of these young innocents that inhabit that locality upon the arrival of each train and each one lustily crying "shine boss? shine!" which together with the purr of the locomotives, the rushing of the baggage trucks and sound of many other voices makes the place a perfect hellam that is bewildering to a person not accustomed to such unusual sounds.

Added to this continual scortation for trade they are continually quarrelling over some trivial matters which occasionally culminates in a free for all fist fight.

This thing is fast becoming a decided nuisance and there is no better time to abolish it, than now.
