NEGRO BURGLAR SERIOUSLY SHOT

Oscar Kilpatrick Young Colored Boy, Probably Fatally Shot at Dover

Last Sunday night while preparing to retire for the night Mrs. H. P. White wife of Mr. H. P. White a prominent citizen started by hearing some one tapping around in the dining room. Thinking that probably her husband, who was in another room at the time had gone to the dining room she opened the door and called him. Mr. White answered his wife's call but from an entirely different direction from the dining room.

On being told that there was someone in the dining room he secured his shot gun and started to investigate. Upon opening the door of that room he heard one knock over a chair as if in hurried exit. He called to the intruder and asked his name but upon receiving no answer and seeing a dark form loom up from behind a table leveled his gun and fired.

Immediately after the report of the weapon the intruder screamed that he had been shot and was dying. A light was secured and it was found that the burglar was Oscar Kilpatrick a young colored boy 14 years of age who lives with his father near Dover. Upon investigating it was found that the whole load of shot had lodged in his right shoulder, inflicting a danger to wound Chief of Police W. G. Rouse, was notified of the affair and Kilpatrick was placed in his charge. Yesterday morning the boy was brought to this city and his arm amputated. If no serious complications set in the boy has a good chance for recovery.

Woman Cut at Carnival Grounds

A white woman who is connected with the Maryland shows that are exhibiting in this city this week, was severely cut on the hand and arm last night by Hugh Lancaster, a resident of Bridgeton.

Only meagre details of the affair could be learned. It seems that Lancaster, who was in a partially intoxicated condition had cut a slit in one of the tents with his pocketknife so that he could see the show. The woman seeing him looking through the hole in the tent endeavored to close it. Lancaster became enraged at this and cut her with the knife which he still retained in his hand.

He was placed under arrest and brought to police headquarters where he was required to give a bond for his appearance before Mayor McCarthy this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A Remarkable Fish Story

The following incident was related to a Journal representative yesterday and despite the fact that is sounds rather mythical it was verified by several reliable persons.

Several days ago Walter Mead, a colored man who lives at James City, was invited by a friend to go with him on a fishing trip down Neuse river Mead who was unoccupied at the time consented to go with him and they both went off together.

When about five miles down the river Mead took his knife, a small pearl handled affair, out of his pocket to cut a chew of tobacco. After severing a small section of the weed from the original pluz he attempted to replace the knife in his pocket but in doing so it slipped from his grasp and sank out of sight in the water. Monday morning Mead came to the city and while here purchased a bunch of fish which he carried to his home in James City. While engaged in cleaning his purchase he felt an unusual lump in the maw of one of the fish and upon investigation found that it was the knife which he had dropped overboard several days ago.

Just how the knife got in the maw of the fish has not been explained but it is supposed that in falling the glitter of the pearl sides attracted the fish's attention and swallowed the knife while descending to the bottom of the river.

Little Girl is Poisoned

Monday afternoon, Daisy, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gray of Bridgeton was taken violently ill. The child had, it was supposed had eaten nothing that would cause an attack like this and the family were at a loss as to what the cause was.

A physician, was secured as quickly as possible and after several hours of intense agony the little sufferer was relieved. It was found a quantity of wickie leaves a very deadly weed, and had choked them up. It was only by the timely arrival of the physician and his untiring efforts that the little one's life was saved.

A Blow to the Back.—An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warmish days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is unwise. A treacherous wind hits you in the back and the next morning you have lameness. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Pain-Exor and you will be astonished to find how quickly all soreness is banished.

Although money is the root of all evil, the most successful men seem to be those who pluck it.

ANOTHER CRUISE FOR OUR FLEET

Fleet Will Head East This Time and on Reaching Gibraltar Will Split into Four Divisions

New York April 11.—Rear-Admirals Richard Wainwright, aid for operations Reginald F. Nicholson, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, and William P. Potter, the aid for personnel in the Navy Department at Washington, are at work mapping out another great cruise for the Atlantic fleet. The plans are almost certain to be approved by the President and Secretary of the navy. A voyage that will be the most important ever made by a fleet, with the exception of the around-the-world one made two years ago by the Atlantic fleet, under the command of Admirals Evans and Sperry, is contemplated.

As was the case in the last cruise, the fleet will sail for Hampton Roads, and its going will be made the occasion of another notable review, such as marked the departure of the fleet under Admiral Evans, when the sixteen battle-ships were reviewed by President Roosevelt from the naval yacht Mayflower as they headed for the Virginia capes to begin the voyage around the world.

When the cruise starts next November President Taft and Secretary of the Navy, Meyer will again review, it is expected, the departing fleet from the bridge of the Mayflower. While the itinerary of the next cruise has not been made public, it is known that the direction this time will be east, instead of south, the ships heading for a port in Europe, probably Gibraltar.

On its arrival at Gibraltar the fleet will divide into four divisions, one of the other of the divisions visiting every important port in the Mediterranean. The itinerary after the round of visits to the Mediterranean ports is not yet known, even to the naval officers. Many naval officers say, however, they would not be surprised if the voyage was continued through the Suez Canal and to the Philippines. If the ships get that far these officers say they would be surprised if the route was extended to San Francisco and then home by the way of the Straits of Magellan, which would mean another around-the-world voyage with the itinerary reversed, but with Hampton Roads the beginning and the end, as was the case in the last cruise.

The Land of Promise.

Swanboro, April 11th.—The above title implies brilliant possibilities. The writer now sojourning at this resort is enjoying a recreation unsurpassed on the Atlantic coast and a natural panacea for all cares and troubles. Here the laborer finds rest and peace away from the busy world, yet none the less mindful of the progressiveness of the 20th century. There is no location elsewhere adequate to the weary traveler on the road to happiness as this wonderful natural location and advantages presents. It is indeed a "Land of Promise." Why capital does not find its way here and add to the beauty of nature by developing the best spot in eastern North Carolina. Surely there is "balm in Gilead," come and see for yourselves, and you will find that the half has never been told. Now is the time to strike for an everlasting habitation with nothing to regret. A graded school is in the near future, a steamer to ply from here to Morehead and Beaufort with sufficient capacity to accommodate freight and passengers; also a hotel for the accommodation of visiting humanity for the summer season; a railroad sooner or later, also electric lights are under consideration. These are only a few notes that will attract the world. Why not you get in line and march along with the procession?

The schooner Little Jim, also Lena arrived today from New Bern with full cargoes of freight for merchants here and surrounding country.

A new lumber mill is going up, nearing completion here, two lumber plants will soon be in operation here, there is something doing, come along and be content with a future before you. Buildings to be repaired and new ones to go up, much could be added but this should be sufficient.

From Hellair

April 11—We are busy as bees and happy as larks about here, with of course a few exceptions.

The late frosty have not hurt us much owing to the very dry weather, corn is up nicely on many farms, Irish potatoes up generally but some places show rather poor stands; fruit trees full and not yet hurt by frost now the exceptions to general good feeling is on our public roads some of our horses are afraid of autos and a number of our general sex are prohibited from riding out with their little ones, on account of the automobiles claiming two-thirds of the road in many instances, and not even halting to relieve a lady in distress now we know there are some in New Bern who could not be charged with such conduct but we are sorry to say such reckless conduct has been shown in our section which we hope will not be repeated.

The Quarterly Meeting for Bridgeton circuit will convene at South Grove, Saturday April 15th, and the week following the Quarterly Meeting, the services will be protracted. Attendance particularly urged.
