THE BEST PLACE TO KEEP YOUR MONEY

is the place where you can get it back PROMPTLY if really needed.

Only those with a great deal of money can properly afford to consider permanent investments, and they had best consult with their banker before letting go of their cash.

The average man needs a good sized available reserve in a strong, safe bank, before putting a penny into anything outside of his own business.

Ready cash is a mighty good friend.

John Hargett, a Jones County Negro found in an Unconscious Condition.

While engaged in looking over his machinery a few mornings ago, Wm. Lovineer, who has charge of the Norfolk-Southern coal chute in this city, found a hat and pair of shoes lying on the ground near the coal pit. Mr. Lovineer could not understand why these articles were lying in such a place, and immediately began an investigation which resulted in his finding a coat and pair of pants. After finding these two last named articles, Mr. Lovineer was satisfied that there had been foul play committed and began to search for the victim.

Looking into the coal pit he was horrified to find the nude body of a negro man who showed signs of having been roughly treated, and at the time was in an unconscious condition. Assistance was secured and the man was taken to the sanatorium where he regained consciousness long enough to tell his name and that he had been set upon by three negroes who, after robbing him struck him on the head with some heavy implement. After telling this he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness, and up to the present time has not revived.

The attending physician says that a blood clot has formed on the negro's brain and that he has slight chances of recovery.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

APPROVAL OF THOMAS' ENDORSEMENT.

Dover, N. C., June 16, 1910.
Editor New Bern Journal.

New Bern, N. C.

Dear Sir:—Our people throughout this section were very much gratified to read an account of a mass meeting held in New Bern on June the 12th, endorsing our present Congressman for another term. Our people in and around this part of the district are deeply interested in Mr. Thomas' return to Congress. We have several projects that are being discussed in Congress in which our district is vitally interested, and Thomas understands the situation and knows the details and is in a position to give us greater service than any man in the district. It is generally admitted that the next House will be Democratic. This means that Mr. Thomas will be at the head of at least two important committees, thereby placing him in a position to be of greater service to his constituents in the Third District than ever before. We feel with these conditions existing as well as others that it would be a great loss to the district not to return Mr. Thomas. We cannot afford to do otherwise. The interest of the district should guide us first, last and all the time. Let's rally in his support and give him the biggest majority in November that ever before.

With best wishes,
G. V. RICHARDSON.

POSSIBLE INDICTMENTS

Against Bull Pool Causes Weak Cotton Market Spots Ten Points Off.

Special to Journal.

New York, June 17.—The cotton market was aroused from its lethargy today by the announcement that indictments would be returned against several prominent operators by the grand jury now investigating the operation of the bull pool.

The market had been weak all day and the announcement was followed by heavy selling of July and August, which broke prices sharply. The market steadied on short covering near the close, and had moderate rally. Lower prices are generally expected to result from this latest development.

Spot sales were 2500 bales at 10 points decline.

JAMES SMITH MANNING
A SKETCH

Hon. James Smith Manning was born in Pittaboro, Chatham County, June 1st 1859 and is a son of Hon. John Manning who for eighteen years was Professor of Law at the University of North Carolina. His father was a native of Chowan County and his maternal great grandfather was Judge John Hall of Warren County, for many years Judge of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Judge Manning was educated in the school of Prof. Merritt of Chatham County and at the University of North Carolina where he graduated in 1879. He read law under his father, who was then Professor of Law at the University and was licensed to practice in 1881. He immediately began the practice of law in Durham—first with his father and then with H. A. Foushee—and by his ability and industry acquired a large practice, being recognized by the public and his fellow members of the bar as a lawyer of great ability, noticing industry and almost unerring judgment.

He was married December 12th 1888, to Miss Julia Cain, daughter of Dr. James F. Cain of Durham County and niece of the late Judge Thomas Ruffin of Orange County, and he has an interesting family of four boys and two girls.

Judge Manning served six years as chairman of the Durham County Executive Committee and prior to his appointment as Judge had been for many years a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee. He was the Democratic nominee for Judge of the Superior Court in 1896, but was defeated along with the entire Democratic state ticket.

Judge Manning has always taken a leading part in the industrial and educational development of his section.

He was a member of the House of Representatives in 1907 and served as Chairman of the Committee on Public Service Corporations. He was one of the leaders in that body and worked unceasingly in favor of securing relief to the people from excessive freight and passenger rates.

In 1908 Judge Manning was elected by a large majority to the State Senate where he served as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee. When Judge Connor resigned in the Spring of 1909, Governor Kitchen appointed him as Judge Connor's successor on the Supreme Court Bench. Since then he has given his whole time and attention to the work of the court and is recognized as measuring up to the high requirements of that exalted position. His opinions are clear, cogent and concise and he has the esteem and has won the respect of the entire legal profession.

Judge Manning belongs to that class of men whose word is his bond. He has always stood foremost in every wind that blew—unspoke, frank, sincere and manly—No one ever accused him of evasion. Warm hearted, genial, cheerful, kind, husband, a good father, a wise counselor and a brilliant lawyer he has made an ideal Judge and in honoring him, the Democratic party will honor itself.—The Durham Recorder.—A.P.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Defective Aim of Would Be Assassin Saves Young Man's Life

While engaged in running up his accounts Wednesday night, in the office of the Master Mechanic which is located on Griffith street, Mr. Arthur Church, secretary to the Master Mechanic at the Norfolk-Southern shops in this city, was fired upon by an unknown person, and the ball, a .32 calibre, lodged in his left arm, inflicting a very painful wound.

The affair was at once put into the hands of the police, and on account of the utmost secrecy being kept by all concerned in the matter the affair did not come to light until yesterday and then only meagre details could be ascertained.

From the few facts that could be learned it seems that Mr. Church, had returned to the office, at about nine o'clock to complete some clerical work which he had postponed in order to secure his supper. The night being warm and sultry he raised one of the windows and pulled his desk near the window in order that the fresh air would strike him. Shortly after he had begun work a heavy rain began to fall and it was while this shower was in progress that Mr. Church heard the report of a revolver and felt the sting of a bullet in his left arm. He at once went to a physicians office and the wound was dressed after which the affair was reported to the police.

Up to the present time no clue has been obtained as to whom the perpetrator of the deed was, but it is more than probable that he will be apprehended.

Sylvia Pleases Large Audience.

One of the largest audiences of the season greeted the performance of "Sylvia" which was presented by a cast of players from Washington, N. C., last night at the Masonic Opera House.

To go into an elaborate description of the excellent work of each member of the cast would be besetting but lack of space prohibits this, and it is expressive enough of the New Bern theatre-going public to state that the entire play was well rendered and each role efficiently handled by the young ladies and gentlemen who composed the cast.

After the performance a dance was tendered the visitor by the Elks in their hall in the Elks Temple. They returned home at 1:30 this morning.

Scarcity of Chickens and Eggs.

We were informed by one of the local merchants yesterday that the chicken and egg market was almost exhausted. It seems that when the farmers bring their chickens and eggs to market they expect a fabulous price for them, and this the dealers refuse to pay. Eggs are being shipped to this city from adjacent towns, and these partially aid in supplying the demand of the consumers.

Indispensable.—There are some simple remedies indispensable in every family. Among these, the experience of years assures us, should be recorded Perry Davis' Painkiller. For both internal and external application we have found it of great value; especially can we recommend it for colds, rheumatism, or fresh wounds.—Christian Era.

Craven County There Too

There are fifty two counties in the state that have on file with the state department of agriculture applications for the location of experimental farms at convenient locations on the public highways of the respective counties. And it is understood that such farms of one or two acres each are to be located by State Agronomist Burgess, just as rapidly as possible, the fifty counties to have something like these hundred of these little experimental farms. In the end it is expected that every county in the state will come into this movement affording opportunity for the establishment of five hundred or more of these farms. These little plots of land that the agronomist approves are to be tendered by the owners to the county commissioners with pledges of proving labor. Then the state department of agriculture provides the expert to direct the cultivation with a view to demonstrating methods of soil improvement and crop cultivation. It is expected that a vast amount of benefit will be done the farming interests of the state through this method. Indeed, it is expected that this will come to be the greatest factor in the state for raising the general standard of farming methods. Craven county was one of the first to file application.
