Care in Money Matters

Much money is lost by those who fail to keep accurate account of their income and outgo.

Few make success of personal bookkeeping if they pay in cash.

The only practical way to have a complete record of expenditures and to secure a receipt for every payment, is to carry a checking account here and to pay all bills by check.

No business house would do otherwise and the simplicity of the plan adapts it quite as well to individuals.

WOMAN MAY BE MAYOR

Will Run in New Hampshire Primary as Republican Candidate—Sends Check.

Concord, N. H., June 21.—Mrs. Marilla Ricker, who was characterized by Col. Robert G. Ingell as "the most sensible woman I ever knew," is to be a candidate for governor of New Hampshire. To an advocate of her interests here, Mrs. Ricker has sent her check to over the primary law privilege from San Jose, California, and is expected soon to arrive in New Hampshire to push her candidacy.

Mrs. Ricker will run as a Republican. She was the first woman lawyer to be admitted to the bar of the district of Columbia and New Hampshire and once was suggested to President McKinley for appointment as minister to Columbia.

Married

Last evening at 7 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage Mr. James S. Foy, of Trenton, and Miss Fannie Benders of Pollockville, Rev. C. L. Greaves pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

No Trace of Mr. Lupton's Assailant Found.

Although the sheriffs of Craven and Jones counties have made diligent search for the negro man who on last Monday morning shot Mr. Ralph Lupton, a traveling salesman for the Carolina Grocery Company, while he was driving along the county road enroute from this city to Pollockville, they have so far failed to find any trace of the miscreant. Several negroes who live in the section near where the shooting occurred and who filled the description of the assailant given by Mr. Lupton have been questioned but each of these proved a satisfactory alibi.

Mr. Lupton is still confined to his room from the effects of the wound, but if no serious complications set in will doubtless be able to be out within a few days.

Will Go to Washington.

A team composed of local ball players will go over to Washington Friday morning to play the Washington base ball team. There are a number of ball players here who are the "real thing" and with only a little practice they can doubtless do some playing that will surprise the local fans. It is more than probable that the Washington bunch will receive another drubbing from the New Bern team.

Mr. Walter Watson Passes Examination.

A message from Wilmington yesterday stated that Mr. Walter Watson, son of Mr. J. B. Watson, of this city, and who recently graduated from a prominent medical college in Virginia, had made a very creditable showing in the examination held by the State Board of Medical Examiners at Wrightsville Beach, and had been granted a license to practice his profession.

Decorating Will Begin About 15th, of July.

The flags and banners which were ordered for use during the State Fireman's Tournament and Bi-Centennial by Messrs Moore and McSorley will arrive today or tomorrow and will be placed in position about the 15th of next month, practically every business house and private residence in the city will be decorated and when the work is completed the buildings will indeed present a very attractive appearance.

Your Assistance Needed

In the report of the American Salvation Army which has been given up for publication it is noticed that the local branch is in more than $100 in debt. Capt. and Mrs. Stern who have this work in charge have been in this city a week. During this time they have secured $140 from the citizens of New Bern but their expenses have been heavy and they have been obliged to go in debt. This is a good work and should be supported by the citizens of this city. Any contribution will be appreciated.

First Baptist Church Revival

Yesterday was perhaps the best day in the series of meetings being held by Evangelist Sledge at the First Baptist Church. The old folks meeting in the afternoon was well attended quite a large number of old people being present and enjoying the services heartily.

At night there was a large congregation and interesting interest was manifested on every side. There were two ad dresses to the church, one by restoring and the other for baptism.

There will be services as usual this afternoon at 4 o'clock and tonight at 8 o'clock.

FURTHER COTTON ADVANCES

Due to Shorts Buying. Crop Reports. Spot Sales at Higher Prices.

New York, June 21.—The cotton market scored a further recovery today, the largest buyers being those brokers who had sold most freely on the announcement of the indictments Friday. This buying was consequently thought to be covering of shorts. There was no other news to account for the advance.

There are scattered reports of backward growing conditions in some parts of the belt, but crop advices generally are favorable. Spot sales 1,000 bales at 15 points advance over yesterday. LATHAM ALEXANDER & Co

Log train is Wrecked

While enroute from this city to Oriental Monday morning, log train No 27 jumped the track and seven cars which were loaded with logs were ditched.

The train which was in charge of Conductor Joe Johnson and engineer H. M. Wiggs, left this city at 8 o'clock and was about 7 miles down the road when the accident occurred. The tender of the engine first left the rails and before the engineer could reverse the locomotive and 7 of the cars had been thrown from the track.

Several of the crew had very narrow escapes from injury, but fortunately no one was hurt.

Uninjured By Long Fall

While playing on the bed with his two brothers in a room on the third story of a hotel at Morehead, Sunday afternoon Alton the three-year-old son of Mr. Matt Elmore, of Dover, rolled against the window screen pushing it out and fell to the ground below. Those who witnessed the accident rushed to the scene expecting to see the little fellow's bones crushed, but by some miraculous chance the child landed without any further injury than striking, which caused him to remain unconscious for about an hour. A doctor's examination revealed no broken bones and the child returned with its father to its home on the evening Norfolk-Southern train, as bright as though nothing had happened. In falling the child landed in a sitting posture, which saved its limbs from being broken.

Should Be Condemned

While walking up Queen street yesterday afternoon, the writer noticed a number of small wooden structures just above Five Points that are a disgrace to that locality and also a menace to the public. The buildings, if such they may be termed, present the appearance of having been constructed in a few hasty days and since that time no repairs made. There are a number of very creditable dwelling houses in that locality and these shacks which are in such a dilapidated condition have a tendency to make the whole locality resemble a dumping ground. The city building inspector should pay this section a visit and order these structures torn down without delay.

Market Well Supplied With Fruit.

No one need say that they cannot secure the fruits of the season at a fairly nominal cost. Yesterday several wagon loads of peaches and June apples were brought in from the country and peddled around from house to house. The peaches this season are some of the best specimens ever seen, and they are easily disposed of to the consumers. The apples that have been rather poor in quality, but these will undoubtedly improve within a few weeks.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

In Memory of Our Departed Brother William W. Clark Member of St. John's Lodge.

In the 53d year of his age, in the zenith of his manhood, and ripeness of his brilliant mind, our beloved brother, William W. Clark, has been taken from us to that realm where no traveller returns.

Exalted to the sublime degree of Master Mason in the year of our Lord, 1896, his splendid personality has ever impressed itself upon the membership of this lodge, and his gentleness of character and unselfishness of aim, to the same high degree, has entered the hearts of his brethren.

He entered into his chosen profession of the law, at a time when the bar of his native home possessed the flower of his profession, and when it became the work of a master mind to equal the force of their ability and strength.

The son of a man whose splendid mind, power of eloquence and commanding physique had raised him the peer of any produced by the State of his birth, the standard set for his youthful aims was high, and to reach which became a task requiring brain and ability of the highest order, coupled with a will capable of overcoming obstacles, and conquering minds, skilled and trained.

Possessing by birth, and accomplished by training, a rare mind and will, this task set him was soon performed, and a partnership formed with this talented and gifted father, which gave this earlier opportunity for the exhibition of his powers.

His fame grew with his knowledge of the law, and soon extended beyond the borders of his State, reaching at last the seat of his government where it found lodgment in the breast of the nation's great President, who named him judge of the Federal bench, made vacant by the death of one of her greatest jurists and while this honor was removed from his brow through the chances of a political faction, he continued his practice, grown greater through the growth of his learning and the force of his knowledge, until the hand of death found him waiting at the bar battling for the rights of his client's cause, while his great mind outlived the strength of his weakened frame.

The love of that father, whose guiding hand piloted him along the devious path of his chosen profession, was the crowning beauty of a pure and upright life, and the admiration of that world that knew him best. The tender devotion to those of his loved ones who leaned on him for strength and protection endeared him to those who knew his life, and the loyalty to friends, and zeal and fidelity to a client's cause, added to that great mentality ever exerted and ever ready, built for him a clientage only commanded by the truly great. This tribute by his lodge can but voice the truth of the simple words here given to perpetuate of record the virtues of one whose life can be truly the example to the lawyer for greatness, to the friend for loyalty, to the son for devotion and to the brother for affection.

To that father, and to those sisters and brothers, whose hearts are stricken, the sympathy of this lodge goes forth, and while no earthly hand can stay this sorrow, and no words assuage their grief, yet this resolution transmitted may bear to them a message of the sharers of their burdens.

DAVID L. WARD, OWEN B. GUION, GEORGE GREEN, Committee St. John's Lodge No. 3, A. F. and A. M.

Great Agricultural College.

In the development of North Carolina's industries, the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is taking a foremost part. Its students are giving their lives to improving our farming, our trucking, our dairying and stock-raising. They are rapidly making their way into our factories, our electric power-houses, and our shops. They are helping to build our roads, our bridges, and our railroads. Indeed, they are just the men needed at this stage in the State's growth. We are glad to note that more young men than ever before are seeking, through this well-equipped institution, a place in our industrial program. We call attention to the advertisement in this issue.
