CASE OF SUICIDE AT WILMINGTON

The Suicide Shot Himself in the Mouth, the Bullet Lodging Near the Base of the Brain.

Wilmington, N. C. July 23.—Jacob Borneman, aged 63 years, passed away this afternoon at the hospital in this city from a bullet wound inflicted some time during last night, and attending physicians pronounce it a case of suicide.

This morning about 7:40 Borneman was found in his room in a dying condition with a bullet wound in the mouth and an examination by physicians revealed the fact that the ball had entered the roof of the mouth and lodged near the base of the brain, causing the lower part of his body to be paralyzed. The theory of attending physicians is that Borneman, who had suffered a great deal during the past year with kidney trouble, had an attack during the night, and in a fit of desperation took his pistol from under the pillow where he always kept it, and shot himself.

Mr. Borneman resided in New York for about ten years, but for the past five years he had conducted a grocery store in this city.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Fred and Charles Borneman, all of whom reside in New York City. Mrs. Borneman recently instituted a suit in New York for divorce.

Hon. Hannis Taylor Today.

Mr. E. K. Bishop received a telegram yesterday from Hannis Taylor, who will respond to the welcome of New Bern at the opening session of the Bi-Centennial week, tomorrow, that the distinguished ex-New Bernian will arrive this morning. Mr. Taylor will be met by the reception committee at the train and escorted to Mr. E. K. Bishop's, whose guest he will be while here.

Interesting Program Monday.

One of the most interesting parts of the Bi-Centennial celebration will be the opening exercises in the Griffin Memorial building Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Hon. Hannis Taylor, one of New Bern's former citizens will deliver an interesting address and Dr. Julius T. Goebel, of the University of Illinois will also take an active part in the exercises. Music will be furnished by the Choral Society and it is hoped that every citizen of New Bern will be in attendance.

Mrs. C. D. Bradham Entertains.

Mrs. C. D. Bradham entertained delightfully at her home, Wednesday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Louise Barrington. On arriving the guests were received by Mrs. Bradham, Miss Louise Barrington, Henrietta Hancock, Maudie Munger, Sarah Congdon, and Bessie Sumner. After which they were conducted by Mrs. H. B. Marks to the punch bowl which was placed on the veranda, amid Japanese lanterns, ferns, palms etc., where they were graciously served by Mrs. Ralph Hunter Smith and Miss Munger. Progressive games under the direction of Mrs. D. S. Congdon, were enjoyed for an hour, when an ice cream was served, presided over by Mrs. Spight, Mrs. J. J. Baxter and Mrs. Barrington, many of the young couples repeating to the moonlit lawn to partake of refreshments. Among those present were: Misses Flacide Vogt, of Philadelphia, Pa., Delphine Brown, of Winston-Salem, Jones, of Raleigh, Edna Rowe, of Hampton, Va., Flora Bryan, of Charlotte, N. C., Hattie Styron, Mary and Bessie Hollister, Maudie Munger, Mary Louise Waters, Eva Armstrong, Mary Louise Caraway, Russell Gulon, Lottie and Leo Piggitt, Catherine Beaman, Henrietta Hancock, Sarah Congdon, Bessie Sumner, Gladys Barrington, Maudie Munger, Lillie Graves, Edna Spight, Miss Eason, Norfolk.

Dr. Joe Patterson, N. M. Gibbs, Ernest Dunn, Messrs. Norris, Wade Meadows, Matt Allen, James Howard, Rodman Gulon, Joe Green, Jack Street, Ed. Meadows, Leon Williams, James Claypoole, Albert Marks, Soubrette Beaman, Albert Patterson, Thelma Bennett, Ralph Hunter Smith, Estlin, Lillie Shaw, Joe Holland, Edwin Richardson.

The City Hall is doubtless the most profusely decorated building in the city more than 500 yards of cloth having been used by the decorators. In transforming the appearance of this structure and the building now stands out alone in all of its splendor, just across the street is the Hughes building and this also presents a very striking appearance. The Journal building is also decorated in gala attire and presents a very attractive appearance. The next building on the street this catches your eye is the place of the Richardson Printing Company this too is in gala attire. The Elks office just across the street also presents a very pleasing appearance. Further up the street can be seen the Court House and county jail and both of these have been appropriately decorated with flags and bunting.

Never before in the history of the city has there been such an elaborate display of flags, banners, streamers, etc. as there is at the present time. From practically every building in the business district of the city the decorations that have been put up in honor of the Bi-Centennial are gaily waving and the scene is indeed an inspiring one and one that will long be remembered, both by the visitors and the citizens of New Bern. Below we give a brief sketch of the decorations in the business section of the city.

Starting at the corner of Craven and Pollock street the first building that is noticed is that occupied by the Gaston Drug Company, Mr. Sedberry, the efficient and courteous manager of this reputable firm has by careful and artistic decorating succeeded in transforming the interior and the exterior of his store into a place of beauty.

Next in line comes the offices of the Fuller Music Company and the Singer Sewing Machine Company, both of these are very appropriately decorated and present a very attractive appearance.

The stores of the New Bern Electric Supply Company and M. E. Whitehurst & Company are very tastefully decorated and the appearance is very pleasing.

Wetherington & Crech and E. H. Hackburn's places of business doubtless have the best dressed windows of any store in the city. Costly statuary and vari colored lights and the New Bern colors constitute the decorations in their windows.

The National Bank, Barrington Dry Goods Store, the Aigues, J. M. Mitchell & Co. D. F. Jarvis, the Victoria Theatre and the Peoples Bank all follow on the same side of the street and each one of these places are resplendent in the national and local colors.

RED AND BLACK EVERYWHERE

New Bern a Riot of Color. A Brief Sketch of the Numerous Decorations in the City.

At 2:30 several Indians will be fishing on the Neuse River at the foot of Broad street.

At 3 Baron DeGraffenreid and colony will land at foot of Broad street, and will be welcomed by King Taylor and his tribes of Indians, and then all will march back to Indian village where negotiations for purchase of land will take place, but breaks in a quarrel.

The Colonists will then start out in search for a place to pitch their tents for the night, and will go to the academy green, followed by Indian Scouts, where they will begin to build a log hut, and will be attacked by the Indians. After a fierce fight, the Indians will retreat to their wigwams on Broad street.

At 8:30 p. m. colonist will be secretly attacked by Indians on the academy green, log hut burned. Baron DeGraffenreid and John Lawson captured, and a big war dance.

DeGraffenreid and Lawson will be tried before the Indian Council, and Lawson burned at the stake. Great rejoicing and dancing.

Immediately after the execution of Lawson, the Indians will go on a torch light parade on the following streets: Johnson to Middle; Middle to Broad; Broad to Craven; Craven to South Front; South Front to Middle; Middle to Broad, and Broad towards George. The Colonists will attack the Indians from down Hancock, both sides of Metcalf, and from up Broad, and after a great battle, the Indians will retreat to the academy green and leave the Colonist in charge.

Great Event For North Carolina.

Among the visitors in attendance upon the Bi-Centennial celebration probably none came a greater distance or more truly represents the history makers of colonial times than Capt. John B. McCann, of Oklahoma, who is spending the week with his nephew, Mr. C. D. Bradham.

Capt. McCann has the distinction of being one of a name that has served in every war from the revolutionary time until today. His grandfather, Lieut. John McCann, of the Continental Line, was killed in action at Germantown, Pa., while charging the historic school house. An uncle of same name, served through the Mexican war. Captain McCann himself served in 38th N. C. C. S. A. later being transferred to the navy, and was several times wounded in action on Chesapeake Bay.

Capt. McCann says New Bern is a city to be proud of, and the occasion of the celebration of its 200th anniversary is the greatest in importance ever held in the State.

Attention Woodmen.

The Woodmen having elected to represent the early settlers in the Exercises for Monday reproducing the landing of Baron deGraffenreid and Colony, it is of great importance that they turn out in gaudy numbers.

They are therefore earnestly urged to be at their headquarters (Robert & Hurst Hall) as soon after 12 o'clock as possible on Monday, prepared to make good the part they have assumed. Every member of the order is earnestly requested to turn-out and help make good, even if he has to make a little sacrifice to do so.
