INTERDENOMINATIONAL CONVENTION

Colored People From All Over the State Were Here Last Week

The colored interdenominational convention which has been in session in this city during the past few days and which colored people from all over the State attended came to a close yesterday.

In addressing the Colored Interdenominational Sunday School and Educational Convention, Hon. John C. Dancy, ex-recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia, paid a tribute to the lives of Dr. James E. Shepard of Durham, and Col. James H. Young of Raleigh, president of the convention, for their useful careers in Christian activities.

"The American influence upon the foreign element in this country is largely due to interdenominational activities and this spirit is uplifting the negro," was forcefully enunciated by this colored statesman and orator.

The convention, by resolutions, endorsed the National Religious Training School and Chantanooga at Durham.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Col. J. H. Young, Raleigh, president; Prof. W. G. Pearson, Durham, first vice-president; Prof. W. W. Lawrence, New Bern second vice-president; Rev. J. W. Cotton, Henderson, third vice-president; Miss Annie F. Hayes, Charlotte, recording secretary; Rev. J. W. MacDonald, Prof. S. A. Smith, Winston-Salem, corresponding secretary; Prof. W. H. Jackson, New Bern, chairman executive committee; J. Henry Warren, Charlotte; Dr. J. E. Shepard, Durham, treasurer.

The convention convenes the second Tuesday in July, 1911, in Clinton Metropolitan A. M. E. Z. Church Charlotte.

Addresses were delivered by Mr. C. C. Spaulding, of Durham; Rev. J. L. Taylor, of New Bern; Mrs. Josie Taylor, of Wilmington; Miss Sadie Harris, Raleigh.

Worked Him Hard

Mr. John Bambalis the efficient manager of the Busy Bee Cafe has just been able to recover his breath after the rush that he had in his cafe during the big celebration. From morning until night the popular restaurant was crowded with hungry people clamoring for something to eat all of whom he turned away satisfied. The Busy Bee has a daily menu to offer to its patrons that is unequalled in the city, the steward securing every day the very choicest delicacies that the market affords.

Grand Stands Will be Removed.

The work of tearing down the two large grand stands that were erected on each side of the race course on George street will begin tomorrow morning, and by the middle of the week the two structures will be a thing of the past. It is estimated that these two stands seated more than 25,000 people during the past week.

MANY VISITORS
RETURN HOME

Bi-Centennial Celebration and Firemen's Tournament Comes to a Close.

The great Bi-Centennial Celebration and the State Firemen's Tournament is now a thing of the past and the majority of the thousands of visitors who attended this momentous event have returned to their homes.

Every train leaving the city yesterday was crowded to its utmost capacity with passengers. Several of the fire companies who stayed over night after the conclusion of the tournament also took their departure.

The past week has been one of the most eventful in the history of New Bern and one that will long be remembered both by the visitors and the citizens of this city.

"Dakota Bob" Off on Another Jaunt.

"Dakota Bob" the renowned pedestrian, who has been in the city attending the Bi-Centennial celebration during the past week left last night via the cross tie route for Kingston "Bob" as he is known to his thousands of friends is one of those specimens of humanity whom Diogenes would have been glad to have encountered during his search for an honest man. An affectionate disposition, a kindly face and an indefatigable ambition to be on the go are his chief characteristics. His stay in New Bern was brief but during that time he made many new friends who in company with those who knew him years ago really regret to see him leave.

Died

Mr. Elijah J. Clark, who resided at No. 12 New street, died at the sanatorium late yesterday afternoon from a complication of diseases. Mr. Clark was 64 years of age. The funeral services will be conducted from Centenary Methodist Church at 4 o'clock by Rev. J. B. Hurley. The interment in Cedar Grove cemetery.

Denounced William Stone

Chief of Police Hargett received a letter yesterday morning from a party in Virginia in regards to William Stone the young man from Baltimore, Md., and who in company with a Miss Nellie Small was arrested in this city a few days ago on a warrant charging them with immorality, which, if the facts in the case could be proven would put Stone behind the bars for several years. The writer stated that he had known Stone for several years and that he was engaged in the "white slave" traffic and that if it was necessary he could give the names of several girls whom Stone had lured away from home. He also stated that Stone was wanted in several cities for running confidence games.

Judging from all reports the man has left quite a bad record in his wake.

Pictures in Costume.

Those who took part in last week's parades, in costume are requested to call at the Wooten Studio next Tuesday or Wednesday, at night, if not convenient in the day time, and have their pictures taken in costume. This is done to preserve the historical character of the floats and parades, if a booklet of the Bi-Centennial should be issued.

Much Progress Being Made.

Nothing has been said about the new union passenger depot during the past week, but during that time the workmen who are engaged in the erection of the structure have been busily engaged and much progress has been made. This building, when completed, will be one of the landmarks in the state of North Carolina, and one that the people of New Bern will be proud of.

AGED MAN SHOT
WHILE ON PORCH

Shot Heard Near Humble Home in Late Evening and Visit Reveals Murder.

Lynchburg, Va. July 30—Another mystery stirred the people of Nelson county, when the body of an old man named McGann, whose first name is thought to be Meredith, was found lying on the porch of his lonely hut about two miles from here this morning by a passerby. The brains of the dead man's head covered the floor. There was a hole in the top of his head.

Although no weapon was found near it is supposed that he was killed by a charge from a shot gun, and the absence of a weapon leads to the belief that he was murdered in cold blood as he sat upon his porch. This belief is strengthened by the fact that a neighbor heard a gunshot in the direction of McGann's place last evening about dusk, and it was this same neighbor who took the pains this morning to come to the hut, which is off of the road, and see whether all was well with its lonely inhabitants.

McGann was between sixty and seventy years old and from all accounts was a respected citizen of his neighborhood. No possible clue to the cause of the tragedy has been found this morning. He was not known to have any enemies for he had been living on his little farm for many years and was regarded by his neighbors. Not much is known of his past history here, however. It is thought that he has several children and his wife is believed to be dead. He had lived in a small house by himself and was to all appearances a harmless and decent old man.

No inquest has yet been held, as the matter has just been reported to the authorities here. The entire absence of any reason for the murder, as the circumstances seem to unquestionably indicate, was the case, leaves the authorities without a single clue to follow.

Kinston People Gratified.

Kinston has sent nearly a thousand people to the New Bern Bi-Centennial celebration, first and last contributing thereby to a large extent to its success. Kinston people as a rule are good spenders, so far as their means will admit and in this way they have also helped our neighbor city to make the celebration the great success that it was. New Bern citizens are fully appreciative of the above facts and have manifested it in exceedingly great hospitality to the visitors from this city.—Kinston Free Press.

Republican County Convention

Pursuant to call, delegates from the several precincts met at the court house Saturday noon to hold their county convention.

It was seen in the beginning that the Banishment or new post office faction lay down, so the Hancock faction lay down, and the convention resolved itself into a mass meeting of Republicans and near Republicans.

Delegates were selected for the various conventions, a county committee was elected with Clyde Eby as chairman, and a county ticket put out.

Mr. R. B. Nixon was named for representative to the next legislature.
