RAILROAD BUREAU IS WORKING AWAY

Now Ready to Give Out Information Regarding Traffic and Analyze Questions.

Washington, D. C., August 8.—Active work will be begun here this week by a new "bureau of railroad information," backed by the big trunk lines of the country, for the stated purpose of collecting a library of miscellaneous information regarding railroads; the dissemination of knowledge and the "analysis" of railroad questions.

The bureau will be in charge of Logan G. McPherson, a railroad lecturer and traffic expert. A special committee of railroad officials, acting as sponsor for the venture, is composed of W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central; E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe; W. W. Finley, president of the Southern; Darius Miller, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; B. L. Winchill, president of the Rock Island.

It is announced that the information collected by the bureau will be for the use of the railroad and also for any one else who desires it.

It is emphatically stated that the bureau will not seek to influence or effect governmental action.

The bureau is attracting considerable attention here, in view of the greatly increased powers and activities of the interstate commerce commission, which will bring up many new questions relating to railroad affairs. It is not so stated, but it is generally supposed that the bureau will collect data and be prepared to disseminate information upon current topics relative to railroad problems.

The officials hope to establish in the bureau a library, which eventually will be the most complete collection of works and data bearing on transportation questions in existence.

The Elfrida Sails.

The United States Steamer "Elfrida" under the command of Captain C. D. Bradham, left yesterday at noon for a cruise between New Bern and Elizabeth City. The new Bern division of the North Carolina Naval Brigade were on board, and it is their intention to engage in target practice with the three pound guns which the boat carries. Before returning, Nags Head, Elizabeth City and Edenton will be visited.

Are Liable to Prosecution.

During the past few days a number of complaints have been made by boat owners who say that their boats are being used and run without the small boys around the city. In one case a gentleman left his boat—a small skiff, chained to the dock upon which the historical tableaux was presented during the Bi-Centennial celebration. A few days ago two young boys saw the boat tied there, and after falling in an attempt to break the chain secured a file and filed it in two. After using the boat they set it afloat, and for the fact that they were seen in the act, the owner would have doubtless lost his boat.

Boats being used for swimming in local ponds, such acts as this are a violation of the United States Marine Laws, and are punishable by a heavy fine and imprisonment.

CAPTURE FORTUNE IN COUNTERFEIT

Secret Service Men Get Over Half Million Fake Dollars Says Report

Washington, August 8.—Counterfeit notes and coins for over half a million dollars were captured by the United States service during the last fiscal year ended June 30, according to the annual report of Chief John E. Wilkie, issued today.

The number of arrests of counterfeiters, 290, however, was the smallest with the exception of the one year 1907 since 1900.

Most important in the work of the service for the year stand two cases—the conviction of Ignazio Lupo and Giuseppe Morello, leaders of an Italian band of counterfeiters, and the frustration of the Roberts' Mexican counterfeit conspiracy in Kentucky.

With the arrest of Lupo and Morello, it is considered that the service effectively broke up the most dangerous band of Italian assassins, blackmailers and counterfeiters in the country. To this band was attributed most of the so-called black hand crimes in New York and since the conviction of these men there has been a decline of more than 75 per cent, in black hand outrages.

Roberts was apprehended in a small town in Kentucky just as he was preparing to float a million pesos of spurious Mexican notes.

Master Jake Heath Passes Away.

After a short illness, Master Jake Heath, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Heath who resides on Avenue A died at his home last Saturday night.

Jake, who was one of the Journal's carriers, was liked by all who knew him. Kind, unassuming and obliging, he was always ready to do any one a favor. He was also a diligent worker, and it is with sincere regret that we chronicle his demise.

His body was taken to Olivers Sunday morning and there interred in the family burying ground.

Tom Hege Going to Depart.

Here I am, right in earth's closing scenes when people are indeed dead in sin, (as the preacher just said) "will not quit sin till passions fail." Do you get the news reader; can it be plainer? What are you going to do about it? Will you "awake O sleeper, and rise from the dead, so that Christ can give you light?" Ah, but it is a hard job to talk to dead folks. The preachers know that. Ah, but thank God, the scenes are soon going to change. Tom Hege, as well as some others, even in New Bern, know that. God Himself will appear on the scene, and then we will all tell our tale to Him, and then we will tell "the truth, the whole truth and (thank God) nothing but the truth." If I was not a Christian, I had rather be dead, but being a Christian, I am glad I am here in this rotten world now (1910). Glad to be here now, I should say so. Like Job, like Joseph, like Paul, yes, like Jesus, "About my Father's business." Christian—you Christians in New Bern, ain't I telling the truth? Then say amen to it, and with me lets wake up, and do ten times more to arouse our neighbors to righteousness the little time that is left.

Am still at work and packing. Send on your orders. Don't forget the auction tonight.

A Great Newspaper.

The greatest publication in America by all odds is the New York Sunday World. Besides over four hundred columns of reading matter and advertising, it gives with every Sunday's issue the following special features: A complete comic weekly, a complete Sunday magazine illustrated in colors, a complete song, words and music. The magazine is some worth more than is charged for all of this great, big New York newspaper.

They are the only pills that will give you a life of joy and happiness.

DIES FROM EFFECTS OF WOUND

Crawford Roper, Stabbed With Rusty Nail Succumbs to Injury

After a hard fight for his life against an attack of blood poisoning which was caused by a rusty nail with which he was stabbed by Francis Boyd, a colored woman of ill-repute, Crawford Roper, succumbed to his injuries at Stewart's Sanitarium late Sunday afternoon.

Several days ago Roper and the Boyd woman became engaged in an altercation near Frog Pond, and at the conclusion the woman seized a large rusty wire nail and drove it into Roper's body just over his heart. So powerful was the blow that the point of the nail punctured his left lung and he came near bleeding to death before assistance could be given. He was rushed to Stewart's Sanitarium where the flow of blood was stopped and after a few days he seemed to be on the road to recovery. Blood poison, however, set in, and Sunday afternoon Roper's soul winged its flight into its maker.

The Boyd woman was arrested shortly after her assault and given a preliminary hearing after which she was placed in jail to await the result of Roper's injuries, and it is now probable that she will be tried for her life at the next term of Craven County Superior Court.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon a coroner's jury composed of Messrs. J. M. Hines, Edw. Clark, C. P. Bartling, Frank Roberts, Guilford Lewis, and George Whitehurst held an inquest over the remains, and their verdict was that Roper's death was caused by a wound which was inflicted by Frances Boyd and that the woman be held without bond until the next term of Superior Court.

Negro Prisoner Makes Dash for Liberty And Escapes.

Late Sunday afternoon Johnson Whitely, colored, was arrested by officer Ippock on a warrant charging him with false pretense. He was taken to police headquarters and after the case had been entered on the slate the Sargeant in charge started to put him into the cell, but on account of the oppressive heat he decided to let Whitely remain upstairs in his charge until later on in the night. Shortly before one o'clock Whitely expressed a desire to retire and he was taken down to the cells. While the officer was engaged in unlocking the cell door, Whitely, who had been turned loose for a moment while this opening was going on, evidently decided that he needed some exercise, and forthwith acted on the suggestion.

Spanish Tramp Steamer Pounding on Pieces.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 8.—Pounding on the rocks and fast filling with water the Spanish tramp steamer Valmesada, which foundered Friday morning near Foxey Rocks light, will be a total loss, according to reports brought here by the revenue cutter Forward, which returned today from the scene of the wreck. The local wreckers have abandoned the ship, but the crew is standing by to strip her. The accident was caused by the steering gear of the steamer failing to operate properly, the Valmesada drifting helplessly on the treacherous reef.

The Valmesada's cargo consists of 4,000 tons of coal, and she was bound from Cardiff for San Cruz.

Clothing the Fighting Man

Washington, D. C., August 8.—Uniforming Uncle Sam's fighting men is again a question of discussion between the quartermaster-general's department and the infantry committee of the general staff, which has made some recommendations for changes in the equipment.

Whether the men behind the gun shall have a pea jacket instead of a long tailed overcoat to hop about his legs as he marches, whether he shall enjoy the negligible comforts of a sweater instead of carrying several coats, and whether he shall have a pair of slippers to go with his pipe when he takes his evening's rest in barracks, are questions unsettled.

The general staff wants to equip the soldier for comfort and service. The quartermaster-general's department wants to keep down the cost. It also was recommended that the soldier have a pocket-knife to use when he is away from camp, and that he have a flashlight to use when he is away from camp.
