NUMEROUS RIOTS FOLLOW STRIKE

Clockmakers Again Refuse to Work and Much Trouble is Result.

New York, Aug. 29.—The resumption of the clockmakers' strike today, after an apparent settlement had been reached, was marked by one suicide, a pistol fight, in which a picket was shot through the arm, and numerous riots.

The renewal of the strike resulted from the strikers' rejection of their leaders' proposal to concede the closed shop contention. When this plan was announced by John B. Lennon, treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, who had been sent here by President Gompers to conduct the strike at a big meeting last night, the strikers became so enraged that Lennon and others thought it best to retire from the scene.

Morris Levinson, whose funds had been exhausted by the strike, and who was tired of being a charge on his mother, shot himself through the head when he heard that the strikers would not get back to work Monday.

At an early hour today the police were called to Everett Hall, on East Fourth street, to clear the place of a number of strike pickets, who had been making the hall their headquarters. They engaged in a fight this morning, in which Joseph Mate was shot through the arm.

A Capable Man.

Editor Journal.—In Joseph B. Harvey it seems to me, Craven county will have a Clerk of the Superior court who will prove himself a capable man. Mr. Harvey has filled acceptably a position as bank cashier. He has been a farmer and a successful one. As county commissioner, his services were satisfactory to all. And now asking of the voters of Craven county to nominate him for Clerk, it may be noted that no petition from the Vanceboro section in his year has been voted a county office where a bond was required. Honor Mr. Harvey by your vote on Saturday.

"Up and Down Broadway" Music.

William Jerome and Jean Schwartz have written a clever song for the new musical comedy "Up and Down Broadway," which is making such a hit at Shubert's Casino. The title of this rollicking, frolicking song is "My Operatic Samson." Every reader of the New York Sunday World will get this song free next Sunday. Words and music complete.

A Special Savings Account

As recommended by the New Bern Banking and Trust Company as a means by which the money for some special object may be laid aside. This is doubtless a good plan. If you have one savings account, you can open another for some special object. By this careful means the money for the purchase of a home or the education of children may be gradually accumulated.

Qualifications

Editor Journal.—Your readers doubtless have been very much amused by the several hundred letters published as to the fitness and qualification of Mr. J. B. Harvey to assume the duties of the office of Clerk of the Superior Court of this county. These letters are written by the townspeople and neighbors of Mr. Harvey who are of course desirous of his receiving the nomination, but that they should assume to know that he is qualified to take up the business of the office seems very ridiculous. Not one of them knew anything more of the duties of the position than if they had never seen the clerk's office.

Their statement as to Mr. Harvey's standing and character is admitted and no one has gainsaid it, but his qualification to take the job is quite a different thing, as it requires years of experience to qualify any one to discharge the duties of that responsible office. Who is to be benefited by the change? Is it not Mr. Harvey? Will the interest of the public be sacrificed to Mr. Harvey's ambition?

Is the public business to suffer by putting a new hand at the helm who knows absolutely nothing of the character of the work simply because he wants the job?

I wish an intelligent and discriminating public will qualify with this question on the 30th day of September in favor of the present incumbent, Mr. Wilson, who is an efficient and trained person, and whose administration could be no better.

RE-MARRIED AFTER BEING DIVORCED.

Husband Called to Attend Funeral of Sister Accidentally Met Former Wife.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Wm. C. Hoodlett, 24 years old, manager of the Calpepper, Va., Export, and his former wife, Martha, 31 years old, were re-married in this city today after 14 months separation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoodlett were first married in Logan, Ohio, when the former was about 20 and the latter 16 years old. The divorce was granted in June, 1909. The time following the granting of the divorce was spent by Mr. Hoodlett in travel, while his wife and their two children resided in the central west and finally went to Fairmont, W. Va.

Hoodlett was called to the West Va. town recently to attend the funeral of a sister. The chance meeting of his former wife on the streets there resulted in the re-marriage today.

August Cotton Twenty Cents.

Special to Journal.

New York, Aug. 29.—The feature of the cotton market today was the sensational advance in the August option, which touched the highest price reached for cotton since reconstruction days. The fall months were dull, but steady, 25,000 bales of spot cotton were sold at 19 7/8.

May be the Mysterious Burglar.

Shortly after ten o'clock Sunday night Mr. Wm. Hancock, who resides on Broad street, saw a negro man enter a side gate which leads into the yard in the rear of the dwelling. Upon going out to inquire the negro's business there the negro darted under the house. Two gentlemen who were calling there at the time, went to Mr. Hancock's assistance, and the negro was told to come out, this he did and an officer was summoned and he was taken to the police station. Upon being questioned the negro said his name was Willie Brown and that his home was in Washington, N. C., and that he was being chased by a crowd of negro boys and ran under the house to escape them. On his person was found two bunches of keys, these he said he found on Broad street, a coat was also found under the house, this he claimed belonged to a friend of his. He was given a hearing yesterday afternoon, and enough evidence was secured for the Mayor to hold him as a suspicious character until his statements could be further investigated.

Cannot Afford to Stop Now

Editor Journal.—It is agreed by every body in town that Pollock street ought to be paved, and if a bond issue for that purpose alone had been asked, for there would have been absolutely no opposition to it. The kick seems to be about the other streets.

East Front is a residential street, along which are stately homes, whose owners object to the paving an account of noise. There is not the slightest necessity of using brick on that street, there are other materials better suited, as cheap, and noiseless. The aldermen have the choosing of the material. East Front street is sadly in need of improvement, and must be improved shortly.

The next objection to the bond issue seems to be a fear of higher taxes. Tenants are told that rents will be higher and so on. Rents are no higher now than they were two years ago. Rent rates are regulated by the demand for houses, for the landlord always charges as much as the tenant will stand.

If this paving is stopped now, before the main streets are completed, how can the railroads be forced to pave their streets?

Trust Company Appointments.

That the public is beginning to realize more and more the value of services performed by Trust Company as Trustee, Executor, Administrator and Guardian, is evidenced by the recent appointment of the Merchants Loan & Trust Company, of Chicago, as Trustee under the will of the late Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States Supreme Court. Following closely upon this announcement comes the appointment of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, of St. Louis, as Co-Executor for the estate of the late Augustus B. Spring, who was a Director of Company and leaves a fortune valued at $1,500,000.

A number of other Trust Company appointments involving large property interests, have been recently recorded in Philadelphia, New York and the Peninsula.

DON'T THINK TAFT WILL FREE MORSE. WIFE'S LABORS MAY BE IN VAIN MANY NOW BELIEVE.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse is supposed to be on the way north today from Atlanta, where she visited her husband at the Federal penitentiary, and she may stop in Washington for a conference with department of justice officials regarding the application for the banker's pardon.

In her effort to arouse sentiment in favor of the release of the former ice king, Mrs. Morse has reported remarkable success. Petitions she has caused to be circulated have been signed by thousands, including many members of Congress. Her activity has kept the case in public notice, with the result that hundreds have been interested to the extent of writing letters to President Taft asking that Morse be given his freedom.

A Southern woman included in her plea to the president for Morse's release, which she seemed to assume would be granted, a request that she be given the privilege of handing to the prisoner the pardon restoring him to the outer world.

When the petitions and letters will be submitted to the president has not been decided upon. It seems certain, however, that the showing will be one of the most formidable that has been made in behalf of any prisoner.

The general impression in Washington is that Mr. Taft will not grant the application for pardon. Morse operated on such a vast scale, and his offenses are so recent and so fresh in the public mind that according to the common belief, the President will not decide that the prisoner has received his full measure of punishment.

Morse was sentenced to serve fifteen years. The fidelity and energy of his wife, however, and the support she has enlisted are depended upon to convince some president, at no far time in the near future, that Morse was guilty of only a "technical" violation of the banking laws and that he has been punished enough.
