NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Miss Clara Bryan Injured by Bolt of Lightning Yesterday Afternoon.

Shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon several severe crashes of thunder were heard in this city and those who were on the streets began to seek shelter in order to avoid any possibility of being struck by lightning.

The first bolt of lightning struck a sycamore tree in front of Mr. J. H. Wedell's residence on Johnson street. Running down the trunk of the tree it struck the granite curbing which bounds the sidewalk, and from there went on across the street and entered the ground.

Miss Clara Bryan who is employed at the Singer sewing machine office and who lives on Johnson street, was passing under the tree just as the bolt struck and was knocked insensible. She was picked up and carried into a nearby residence where medical attention was rendered her, and when heard from late yesterday afternoon she had almost completely recovered from the shock. But for the fact that the bolt struck on the opposite side of the tree from Miss Bryan she would have undoubtedly been instantly killed. The effect was also felt in Mrs. Thomas' boarding house near by, two chairs in the dining room being overturned.

The second bolt struck the pavement in front of Lucas & Lewis' store on Middle street, but no damage was done.

Norman Lewis Captured.

Rocky Mount, Sept. 21st.—Norman Lewis, the negro who fired upon Chief of Police Stallings on Sunday night at Spring Hope and gave him a wound in his chest that will prove fatal so physicians believe, was taken in Henderson this morning after having been hunted by a posse of a hundred men for two nights and a day. Blood hounds were used on the negro's trail, and the upper end of Nash county and a goodly part of Franklin was gone over in an effort to find the negro. The negro was taken shortly after eight o'clock this morning as he was attempting to board an outgoing freight from Henderson. The negro had about forty-five dollars in money on his person at the time of his capture. A telephone message received shortly after the noon hour stated that the negro confessed that he is the person now wanted, but now claims that it was his wife that fired upon the officer. His wife is in Spring Hope and will no doubt be detained.

Bar Meeting

The members of the New Bern Bar are requested to meet at the office of clerk of the Superior Court on Thursday Sept. 22 1910 at 11 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of fixing a calendar for October term, Civil Court.

W. M. WATSON, Clk. Supreme Court.

Wilmington Dispatch Moved into New Quarters

The Wilmington Dispatch came out Saturday enlarged to seven columns eight pages, instead of six columns. The paper has just moved into new quarters, a modern new home. It has added to its equipment and facilities for getting out a paper and has also added to its telegraphic service. The Dispatch is and has been one of the liveliest and most readable papers in the State and its larger equipment and service simply means that it is going to give the people more of a "good thing." The Dispatch always stands at the top of the column and its many friends will rejoice in its substantial evidence of prosperity.

State Geologist Busy

Chapel Hill, N. C. Sept. 21.—The North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey will be represented by Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, at the third annual National Good Roads Convention at St. Louis, Mo., September 23th to 30th. The State Geologist will make addresses on "Convict Labor in Public Road Construction," and on "The Great of the Blue Ridge Highway."

The State Geologist has been invited to make an address in Atlanta, Ga. October 31st, before the Southern Commercial Congress; the subject of his address will be "The Relation of Good Roads to the Industrial Advancement of the South."

On Monday, October 3rd, the State Geologist will address a meeting of the Union county citizens at Monroe on road question.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

A. L. Stern, A Local Insurance Agent, Spends Night in County Jail.

Mr. A. L. Stern, a local insurance agent, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with embezzlement and in default of a bond of $100 was committed to the county jail where he staid last night.

Only meagre details of the affair could be learned last night but it seems that Mr. Stern had an half interest in a moving picture show at Kinston. Several days ago he disposed of this enterprise and failed to turn over his partner's share of the money received from the sale. He was summoned to make his appearance before a magistrate and settle the matter, but this he failed to do and his arrest yesterday afternoon followed.

Nannie P. Street Passes Away.

After weeks and months of a brave struggle, all that was mortal of Nannie P. Street gave up Wednesday morning, and the life battle is over. Only those who knew Miss Street and her surroundings can appreciate her life work. It was quiet but brave, it was severe yet no complaint. There was constant worry and endeavor, yet no giving up until the flesh became too weak and yet the same cheerful spirit looked the world in the face until the last. A father Mr. S. R. Street, sister and brother survive. Miss Street was 34 years old. The funeral services will be held at Christ Church this morning at 10 o'clock.

Fight Among Oyster Men.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 21.—Governor Mann has ordered a re-survey of the James river oyster banks to be made today to prevent a threatened shot gun battle between the planters and the tongers, who have moved their stakes. The tongers have been pulling up stakes, charging that the planters have set them so as to encroach upon public oyster ground. Fish Commissioner Lee is on the scene with the oyster police gunboats to enforce order.

GALLAGHER TRIAL IS POSTPONED

May Not be Tried For Several Months

Jersey City, N. J. Sept. 21.—Supreme court Justice Swayer, in charging the September grand jury of Hudson county here today, advised them to bring in no indictment against James J. Gallagher, the man who shot Mayor Gaynor. Justice Swayer said that if Gallagher were indicted now for the charges against him, he could never be tried for murder if Mayor Gaynor should die within a year and a day, according to the New Jersey law.

"There are only two things on which Gallagher can be indicted," said Justice Swayer. "These are carrying concealed weapons and assault with intent to kill. And if Gallagher were convicted on both or either of these charges and the mayor were to die, Gallagher could not be tried again."

Justice Swayer advised no action on the part of the grand jury against Gallagher until a physician's official report had been received declaring the mayor to be beyond any possibility of death within a year and a day because of the wounds he received.

HEARING HELD YESTERDAY

Three Negroes Accused of Murdering Clayton Kennedy Given Preliminary Hearing.

Ruffin Bryant, Henry Kerman and Katie Gardner, all colored, were given a preliminary hearing before Mayor McCarby yesterday afternoon on warrants charging them with being implicated in the murder of Clayton Kennedy, colored, who was murdered at his home on Cypress street several days ago. After the evidence had been given the Mayor found probable cause in the case against Bryant and the Gardner woman and they were remanded to jail to await trial at the next term of Craven county superior court. In the case of Henry Kerman, the Mayor decided to reserve his decision until today, and in the meantime Kerman is being held.

The trial began at 2 o'clock at the court house yesterday afternoon, and a large crowd was in attendance, for, as is always the case a proceeding of this variety attracts much attention. A large number of witnesses were placed on the stand and as much time was taken up by each of these in giving their evidence, it was near seven o'clock when the trial was concluded. The evidence given was practically the same as that first given by the principals and showed plainly that Kennedy was murdered by some one whom he had warned to keep away from his home on account of his wife.

Mr. Deppe's Remains Arrive.

The remains of Mr. Nelson R. Deppe, who died at Florence, S. C., Tuesday afternoon from the effects of an attack of appendicitis were brought to this city yesterday morning and carried to his late home on Avenue A. The funeral services will be conducted from Centenary church this afternoon at five o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Hurley, and the interment will be made in Cedar Grove cemetery. Mr. Deppe first came to New Bern from Pennsylvania about eighteen years ago and went into the milling business. He remained at this business for three years after which he moved to Onslow county and went into business for himself. Several months ago he returned to New Bern with his family, and established a box factory. A few weeks ago he went to Kingstree, S. C., where he intended establishing another box factory, but during the time he was perfecting his arrangements he was stricken with appendicitis and his death followed.

Caleb Powers in Congress

Washington, D. C. September 21st.—When Caleb Powers, nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the eleventh Kentucky district, takes his seat in the House, his district being overwhelmingly Republican, he will not be the only man in high public position in Washington who has been in jail for alleged crimes. Powers, as is well known, was for years in prison charged with complicity in the murder of Governor Goebel, and later pardoned by Governor Wilson. Justice Horace H. Lorton, of Tennessee, was imprisoned in Columbus, Ohio during the Civil war. He was one of Gen. John H. Morgan's raiders, with whom he was captured on their rash venture into Indiana and Ohio. General George W. Gordon, representative from the tenth Tennessee district and commander of the United Confederate Veterans Association, spent some time in the northern prison after his capture at the battle of Franklin, where, leading his brigade in a charge on the Union breastwork, his horse carried him far in advance of his men and into the arms of a merciful enemy, who might have slain him, but spared him for a rest from his impetuosity in a secure northern prison. Congressman Richardson, of the eighth Alabama district, was in 1863, a Confederate prisoner in a Murfreesboro, Tenn. jail under sentence to hang as a spy. He says he would doubtless have met such a fate, but for the fact that General Forrest surprised the Federals and rescued him. So there will be two members of the next House who have had to suffer the agony of sentence to death, when Caleb Powers takes his seat.

Nominations for the next Congress are now proceeding rapidly. The Democrats appear to be earliest in the field, having nominated about three-fourths of 391, the present size of the House, while the Republicans have nominated about 55 per cent of their candidates. New York, with 37 members of the House, is an usual, but make nominations.
